Supplies

An important part of middle school is developing effective organizational strategies and habits.

You are expected to bring the following to class with you every day:

- Math notebook
- Student Agenda
- Independent Reading Book
- Pencil pouch with: pencil, pens, tape, colored pencils & headphones.

Course Description

Our goal is to explore math as it applies to the "real world". In our class, we work cooperatively with one another, often utilizing partners and small groups, to complete problem and project based lessons. To complete these lessons, students will be asked to think critically and apply the information we place in their notebooks. As Titans, students are expected to be respectful and responsible (prepared for class) each day.

Units of Study

- ❖ PROPORTIONAL REASONING
- ❖ REASONING WITH RATIONAL NUMBERS
- ❖ PROBABILITY
- ❖ STATISTICAL REASONING
- ❖ GEOMETRY
- ❖ EXPONENTS & SCIENTIFIC NOTATION
- ❖ EXPRESSIONS, EQUATIONS & INEQUALITIES
- ❖ ANGLE RELATIONSHIPS

Make Up Work

If you miss class, it is your responsibility to find out what you missed. All missed assignments can be found in the “Make Up Work” crate at the front of the room. Your work will be in your class period's folder, with your name printed on top of each assignment. If you missed any notes, you can get those to copy from me or another student. Do not copy notes missed or complete work missed while in class. Per the make-up work policy is located in the student handbook, you will have 3 days to return your assignments.

Late Work

For each day an assignment is late, 10 points will be deducted from your score on that assignment. Utilize your agenda, our class website, and Remind messages to ensure you know when your assignments are due.

Show your work!

Unless the instructions say otherwise, you are expected to show all the steps taken to reach your answers. This applies to all assignments, even if you use a calculator.
