FOREWORD

This handbook establishes the chart of accounts for use by New Jersey school districts. In accordance with the New Jersey Administrative Code (N.J.A.C. 6A:23-2.1 et seq.), each district shall maintain a uniform system of financial bookkeeping and reporting that is consistent with generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP). “Chart of accounts” means a classification structure for the accounting system that permits the standardization of reported financial data whereby analyses may be performed within and between district boards of education and on a nationwide basis.

The State Board of Education originally authorized The Chart of Accounts on July 1, 1959. In 1992, The Uniform Minimum Chart of Accounts (Handbook 2R2), an amended manual, was published to conform to generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP) as provided by the National Council on Governmental Accounting.

Since the 1992 edition, the information in the Chart of Accounts has been updated with revisions issued in 1994 and 2003, by annual software vendor letters and budget guidelines, and through the distribution of accounting memos, such as “EDA Grant Accounting” and “Capital Reserve Accounting” which were issued in 2001.

The requirement to complete school-based budgets and account for appropriations at the school level was implemented for certain at-risk school districts with guidance provided through annual school-based budget district specific budget guidelines as well as any other policy memos issued by the Department. The 2003-updated edition of the Chart of Accounts reflected the use of fund 15, a character class within the general fund used for school-based budgeting and accounting. Fund 15 is also included in this edition.

The Government Accounting Standards Board (GASB) issued Statement No.34 (GASB 34) in June 1999 for implementation by June 30, 2004, which had several key implications for the 2003 Chart of Accounts update. GASB 34 eliminated the financial reporting of the general fixed asset account and general long-term debt account groups. Capital assets and long-term debt were included in the Statement of Net Assets, a district-wide accrual basis statement. Consequently, those account codes which are used in either the proprietary or fiduciary funds (accrual basis) or the governmental column of the district-wide statements (accrual basis) were identified in the 2003 updated Chart of Accounts with the phrase [Accrual basis of accounting] at the end of the description of the account code. These notations are also in this edition. Districts do not need to include all accrual basis account codes in the general ledger software for day-to-day accounting, only those needed for the proprietary and fiduciary funds.

In November 2003, the National Center for Education Statistics (NCES) issued a revised publication Financial Accounting for Local and State School Systems, which is an updated version of the 1990 NCES chart of accounts and is comparable to most account codes in the NJ Chart of Accounts. The 2003 edition of the NJ Chart of Accounts used an asterisk (*) to identify the accounts that are required for the annual data collection that is sent to NCES. This notation continues in this 2008 NJ Chart of Accounts update.

This 2008 Chart of Accounts update incorporates the changes issued in annual software vendor letters and budget guidelines, through the distribution of accounting memos, and as a result of the passage of The School Funding Reform Act of 2008 (SFRA). New account numbers issued and still in effect are highlighted in gray. Account numbers that were issued between the release of the 2003 edition and the passage of SFRA that are no longer applicable do not appear in this edition.

CHAPTER 1

THE ACCOUNT CLASSIFICATION SYSTEM

THE ACCOUNTING SYSTEM

The accounting system is the means by which financial data is captured during the actual operation of the district, recorded in the books of account, and then analyzed to produce required reports. Financial transactions can be classified to facilitate their accumulation in categories needed for reports. The guidelines here provide a classification structure that will meet most of the accounting system's needs and, by standardizing reported data, will permit reports from different districts to be comparable.

Several principles guided the design of the account classification structure in this publication. Taken together, they support the needs of decision-makers - school officials, other public officials, creditors, and the general public - who use district financial reports. These principles are as follows:

1. The chart of accounts encourages full disclosure of the financial position of the local education agency (LEA). Emphasis is placed on the accurate classification of financial transactions. Expenditures are recorded in the accounting categories applicable, regardless of the implications of some of those decisions.
2. Comprehensiveness of financial reporting is encouraged. The LEA should incorporate all financial activities into a single accounting and reporting system for full disclosure. The account classifications here encourage this procedure. Accounts for such activities as food services, student activities, community services, and commercial-like enterprises all should be included in the financial reports of the LEA.
3. Simplified reporting is encouraged. Only the minimum number of funds consistent with legal and operating requirements should be established, since unnecessary funds result in undue complexity and inefficient financial administration.
4. Financial reporting emphasizes the results of LEA operations more than the resources applied. The account code structure emphasizes program accounting and the application of supporting services costs to the "products" of the educational enterprise.
5. The account classification system is flexible; it meets the needs of both small and large LEAs while retaining comparability of reported data. The guidelines here include a minimum list of accounts essential for state reporting.
6. The classification of accounts and the recommended reporting structure remain in accordance with GAAP.

THE ACCOUNT CLASSIFICATION STRUCTURE

This publication provides for classifying three basic types of financial activity: revenues and other sources of funds, expenditures and other uses of funds, and transactions affecting the balance sheet. For each type of transaction, the specific account code is made up of a combination of classifications called dimensions. Each dimension describes one way of classifying financial activity. A school location dimension is only required for districts with schools implementing school-based budgeting. The dimensions applicable to each type of transaction are as follows:

Revenues	Expenditures	Balance Sheet
Fund	Fund	Fund
Revenue Source	Program & Project/Reporting	Balance Sheet Account
Program & Project/Reporting	Function
Location	Object
	Location

Coding structures applicable to each dimension are shown below. An additional identifying dimension may be added, if required, to accommodate computerized record keeping systems. Also, depending on each district's needs, the location dimension may be either two or three digits.

REVENUE DIMENSIONS

Fund (Subfund)

A fund is a fiscal and accounting entity with a self-balancing set of accounts recording cash and other financial resources. It also contains all related liabilities and residual equities or balances, or changes therein. Funds are established to carry on specific activities or attain certain objectives of an LEA according to special legislation, regulations, or other restrictions. A list of funds, descriptions, and account codes is provided in Chapter 2.

Revenue Source

This dimension classifies revenue by type and source. There are four broad source categories: local, intermediate, state, and federal.

Program and Project/Reporting

See program and project/reporting under expenditure dimensions.

Location

See location under expenditure dimensions.

EXPENDITURE DIMENSIONS

Fund (Subfund)

See Revenue Dimensions.

Program and Project/Reporting

Programs and projects are activities and procedures designed to accomplish an objective or set of objectives.

Function

The function describes the activity for which a service or material object is acquired. Functions consist of activities, which have the same general operational objectives. Furthermore, categories of activities comprising each of these divisions are grouped according to the principle that the activities should be combinable, comparable, relatable, and mutually exclusive.

Object

The object is the service or commodity bought. These categories are divided into subobjects for more detailed accounting.

Location

The location code identifies the individual schools of the district. This is mandatory for districts with schools that prepare school-based budgets. Required maintenance under Education Facilities Construction Financing Act (EFCFA) is required to be reported by school facility.

BALANCE SHEET DIMENSIONS

Fund (Subfund)

See Revenue Dimensions.

Balance Sheet Account (Account Type)

These classifications correspond to the items normally appearing on the balance sheet. A listing of balance sheet accounts, descriptions, and codes is contained in Chapter 2.

THE MINIMUM CHART OF ACCOUNTS

Used in its entirety, the chart of accounts classification structure (particularly the expenditure classifications) can generate a variety of detailed data. Hence, an LEA may choose in some ways which parts of the system it needs or wants to use. It may choose:

1. To design its own program and project/reporting code structure.
2. To expand the level of detail of the function or object dimension by using more specific categories described in the chart of accounts (the three-digit function code may be expanded to four digits).
3. To add dimensions not included in the publication such as organizational unit, level of instruction or job classification.

Whatever course an LEA chooses, it must follow a certain minimum list of these classifications to meet state reporting requirements. Dimensions, accounts, and coding structures listed in this chart of accounts are minimum requirements unless labeled as optional.

A district must prepare a revenue and expenditure report each month and a final year-end report in conformity with the dimensions, accounts, coding structures and minimum requirements outlined in this publication. Such reports must be in addition to any expanded formats a district may design on its own.

Budgetary records must be maintained in conformity with the annual school district budget and supplemented as necessary. Supplemental budgetary records for special projects must be maintained in conformity with the uniform grant project budget statement.

ACCOUNT CLASSIFICATION DESCRIPTIONS

This chapter describes the account classification structure in detail. Each component of the dimensions in the accounting system are numbered and defined. This chapter contains five sections for all school districts: funds, revenue classifications, expenditure classifications, balance sheet accounts, and miscellaneous accounts as well as a sixth section specific to county vocational and special services districts.

SECTION 1. - FUND DESCRIPTIONS

Governmental accounting systems should be organized and operated on a fund basis. The diverse nature of governmental operations and the necessity of assuring legal compliance preclude recording and summarizing financial transactions in a single accounting entity. Instead, the required accounts are organized on the basis of funds, each of which is completely independent of another. Each fund must be accounted for so that the identity of its resources, obligations, revenues, expenditures, and fund equities is continuously maintained. These purposes are accomplished by providing a complete self-balancing set of accounts for each fund, which shows its assets, liabilities, reserves, fund balances, revenues, and expenditures.

A fund is a fiscal and accounting entity, with a self-balancing set of accounts recording cash and other resources, together with all related liabilities and residual equities or balances, or changes therein. If one were to compare fund accounting with commercial accounting, each fund would equate to an independent business, with a separate set of records owned by one entity, the district.

The classifications of funds included here are similar to those used by other state and local government units and follow the reporting structure required by GASB 34. They consist of the following:

Governmental Fund Types. The funds through which most district functions are typically financed. The reporting focus of these funds is on determining financial position rather than net income. Governmental funds track the financial activity of the LEA's basic services such as regular and special education. The governmental fund category includes the general fund, special revenue fund, capital projects fund, debt service fund, and permanent fund.

Proprietary Fund Types. The funds used to account for district activities for which a fee is charged to external users for goods or services. The proprietary fund category includes enterprise and internal service funds.

Fiduciary Fund Types. The funds used to account for assets held by a district as trustee or agent for individuals, private organizations, or other governmental units and therefore are not available to support the district's own programs. Fiduciary funds are comprised of Trust and Agency Funds and include pension (and other employee benefit) trust funds, investment trust funds, private-purpose trust funds, and agency funds. Each trust fund is treated for accounting measurement purposes in a manner similar to either a governmental fund or a proprietary fund. Trust funds are distinguished from agency funds generally by the existence of a trust agreement that affects the degree of management involvement and the length of time that the resources are held. Agency funds are purely custodial (assets equal liabilities) and thus do not involve measurements of results of operations.

Governmental FundsCode Description

- 10 General Fund. Accounts for all financial resources of the district except those required to be accounted for in another fund. General fund balance sheet and revenue accounts use fund code 10. A district may have only one general fund. Expenditure reporting requires further breakout in the fund code for character class delineation as follows:
- 11 General Current Expense. Accounts for all expenditures of the district for current expenses. Expenditures included here would be regular program instruction costs and the administrative and other support services costs related to providing the district's normal operations.
- 12 Capital Outlay. Accounts for all expenditures of the district for capital outlay supported by current revenues. It includes increases in the general fund capital reserve, equipment purchases, and facilities acquisition and construction services. Payments made on the lease purchase of equipment are recorded as rental payments under the appropriate program/function in general current expense, not capital outlay.
- 13 Special Schools. Accounts for all expenditures of the LEA other than state and federal grants for current expenses of special schools. It includes the entire cost of adult school programs, including community schools.
- 15 School-based Budgets. Accounts for revenues and expenditures, by school, for those schools required to prepare school-based budgets.
- Districts with schools preparing school-based budgets must record all the revenues and expenditures for each school separately in character class 15. Revenues for schools in the district that do not prepare school-based budgets would be recorded in fund code 10.
- 20 Special Revenue Fund. Accounts for the proceeds of specific revenue sources (other than trusts or major capital projects) that are legally restricted to expenditures for specified purposes. Some examples of special revenue funds might include restricted state or federal grants-in-aid and restricted tax levies. One fund is used supplemented by the use of program codes.
- 30 Capital Projects Fund. Accounts for financial resources used to acquire or construct major capital facilities (other than those of proprietary and fiduciary funds). The source of revenue in this fund would be the sale of bonds, grants, or transfers from the general fund to augment the grant. Separate accounting must be used for each capital project.
- 40 Debt Service Fund. Accounts for the accumulation of resources for, and the payment of, long-term debt, principal and interest. The source of revenue in this fund would be state aid, debt service tax levy, transfers from capital projects after completion of the original purpose or transfers from general fund capital reserve.
- 50 Permanent Fund. Accounts for resources legally restricted such that only earnings, and not the principal, may be used to support the district's activities. An example is a fund established by an outside contributor with the restriction that only the income may be used. Permanent funds do not include trust and agency funds (defined below).

Proprietary FundsCode Description

- 60 Enterprise Fund. May be used to account for any activity for which a fee is charged to external users for goods or services. The enterprise fund is required to be used for any activity whose principal revenue sources meet any of the following criteria:
- Laws or regulations require the district to recover costs through fees and charges;
 - The pricing policies of the activity establish fees and charges designed to recover its costs, including capital costs (such as depreciation or debt service); or
 - Debt is backed solely by revenues from fees and charges (thus, not debt that is backed by the full faith and credit of the district).

Some examples of enterprise funds include funds used for the food service program, a bookstore operation, an athletic stadium, and a community swimming pool. Insignificant activities of districts are not required to be included in an enterprise fund.

- 70 Internal Service Fund. Accounts for any activity that provides goods or services to other district funds, other districts, or to other governmental units, on a cost-reimbursable basis. Some examples of internal service funds could include central warehousing and purchasing, central data processing, and central printing and duplicating. Internal service funds are used if the reporting government is the predominant participant in the activity. Otherwise, the activity should be reported as an enterprise fund.

Fiduciary FundsCode Description

- 80 Trust Fund. Accounts for assets held in a trustee capacity for others and therefore cannot be used to support the district's own programs. Three trust fund types are used to account for resources held and administered by the district when it is acting in a fiduciary capacity for individuals, private organizations or other governmental units. These funds are distinguished from agency funds generally by the existence of a trust agreement that affects the degree of management involvement and the length of time that the resources are held.

- 81 Pension and Other Employee Benefit Trust. Accounts for resources held in trust for the members and beneficiaries of various employee benefit plans.

- 82 Investment Trust Fund. Accounts for the portion of investment pools reported by the sponsoring district.

- 83 Private Purpose Trust Fund. Accounts for all other trust arrangements, such as a scholarship fund to benefit individual students.

- 90 Agency Fund. Accounts for resources held by the reporting district in a purely custodial capacity that involve only the receipt, temporary investment, and remittance of fiduciary resources to individuals, private organizations, or other governments. Districts must maintain the financial integrity of the individual agencies through a separate accounting of each activity for which the district is acting as an agent. Agency funds would include a central payroll (clearing) account, parent-teacher organizations and student activity accounts.

- 95 Student Activity Funds. Funds, which are owned, operated, and managed by the student body under the guidance and direction of adults or a staff member for educational, recreational, or cultural purposes. Although the board of education has the ultimate responsibility for student activity funds, in most cases they are not school district funds. If the board of education subsidizes a portion of a student activity fund, that subsidy should be included in the regular budget of that district. Some examples of student activity funds include:

1. Homeroom
2. Yearbook
3. Class Years
4. Choral and Band Groups
5. Classes
6. Student Clubs
7. Student Council
8. Student Sponsored Bookstores

SECTION 2. - REVENUE CLASSIFICATIONS

Revenues are classified by type and source for the various funds of a district. The term revenues means increases in (sources of) fund financial resources other than from interfund transfers and debt issue proceeds and redemptions of demand bonds. Revenues are generally additions to assets that do not increase any liability and do not represent the cancellation of certain liabilities without a corresponding increase in other liabilities or a decrease in assets.

PROGRAM AND PROJECT/REPORTING

When an LEA receives money for restricted uses, it frequently must prepare a report showing the amount received and the amounts expended for those purposes. When revenues of this nature are received, the LEA assigns a program and project/reporting classification to the revenue transactions. The structure and classification of the program and project/reporting codes assigned is identical to those in the program and project/reporting code used to classify expenditures. The third section of this chapter, "Expenditure Classifications" provides a detailed discussion of the program and project/reporting dimension. Otherwise, 000 is assigned as the program and project/reporting dimension of revenue accounts.

REVENUE SOURCE

Revenues are classified by four major sources: local, intermediate, state, and federal. Within each source of revenue, individual items of revenue are classified into basic groupings of similar types of revenue such as taxes or tuition. These group headings are not account titles; they are used only as a convenient means of identifying specific revenue accounts.

The revenue source classification includes "other financing sources" which constitute fund revenues in a strict fund accounting context, but are not considered revenues to the LEA. They include the sale of bonds and the receipt of interfund transfers. These other sources are described in the 5000 accounts.

In coding the revenue accounts, adherence to the federal publication Financial Accounting for Local and State School Systems 2003 Edition has been maintained wherever possible. This results in some instances in a skip in number sequence. An asterisk (*) placed after an account code indicates the account is a federal reporting account code.

Description

1000	Revenue from Local Sources. Revenue from local sources is the amount of money produced within the boundaries of the LEA and available to the LEA for its use. Money collected in the same amount by another governmental unit as an agent of the LEA (less collections costs) is recorded as revenue from local sources. Shared revenue (revenue levied by another governmental unit, but shared in proportion to the amount collected within the LEA) is also recorded as revenue from local sources. Revenue from local sources may be either restricted or unrestricted. Restricted revenues are recorded in the special revenue fund and unrestricted revenues are recorded in the general fund. Restricted revenues from local sources include funds received from a local foundation, trust, booster club, or individual that has provided the funds for an express written purpose.
1200*	Revenue from Local Governmental Units Other than LEAs. Revenue received from the appropriations of another local governmental unit.
1210*	Ad Valorem Taxes – Local Tax Levy. Taxes levied for school purposes by a local governmental unit other than the LEA. The LEA is not the final authority, within legal limits, in determining the amount to be raised. For example, after an LEA has determined that a certain amount of revenue is necessary, another governmental unit may exercise discretionary power in reducing or increasing the amount.
1220	Municipal Surplus. Revenue from unappropriated surplus or from unappropriated anticipated receipts of a municipality or municipalities, which has been transferred to the LEA.
1230	Other Revenue from Local Governmental Units Other Than LEAs.
1300	Tuition. Revenue from individuals, other LEAs and other sources for education provided by the LEA. Fees for adult education programs are recorded in account 1990. (Note: county vocational and special services districts – see Section 6 for tuition account codes available for use by vocational and special services districts). Used only with the general fund.
1310*	Tuition From Individuals. Tuition paid by an individual to attend school in an LEA other than the one in which they reside. This code is also used to record tuition received from members of the community or district employees to send children to the preschool program recorded in fund 20.
1320*	Tuition from Other LEAs within the State. Tuition received from an LEA located within New Jersey for educating students residing within the paying district. This code is also used to record tuition received from an LEA located within New Jersey for educating students residing within the paying district that attend the receiving district's preschool program recorded in fund 20.

- 1340* Tuition from Other Sources. Includes tuition received from sources both within and outside of New Jersey paid to an LEA for educating students not specifically referenced elsewhere in the 1300 series.
- 1350 Tuition From Summer School. This account is available to regular districts only.
- 1400 Transportation Fees. Revenues derived from individuals, other LEAs, and other sources for transporting students to and from school and school activities. Used only with fund 10.

- 1440* Transportation Fees from Other Sources. This account is used for transportation fees not specifically included above.
- 1500* Earnings on Investments. Revenues from holdings (short and long-term) invested for earnings purposes. Earnings on investments are most commonly used with general fund 10, capital projects fund 30, and debt service fund 40.
- 1510 Interest On Investments. Interest revenue on the investments authorized by New Jersey statutes.
- 1520 Dividends on Investments. Revenue from dividends on stocks held for investment.
- 1530 Gains or Losses from Investments. Gains or losses recognized from the sale of investments or changes in the fair value of investments. Gains represent the excess of sale proceeds (or fair value) over cost or any other basis on the date of sale (or valuation) over sales value (or fair value). All recognized investment gains may be accounted for using accounts 1531 and 1532. For financial statement purposes, GASB Statement 31 requires that all investment income, including the changes in fair value of investments, be reported as revenue in the operating statement.
- 1531 Realized Gains (Losses) on Investments. Gains or losses realized from the sale of investments. Gains represent the excess of sale proceeds over cost or any other basis on the date of sale. Losses represent the excess of the cost or any other basis at the date of sale over sales value. Note that for financial statement purposes, the net of all realized and unrealized investment gains and losses should be reported as a single line in the financial statements.

- 1532 Unrealized Gains (Losses) on Investments. Gains or losses recognized from changes in the value of investments. Gains represent the excess of fair value over cost or any other basis on the date of valuation. Losses represent the excess of the cost or any other basis at the date of valuation over fair value. For financial reporting purposes, the net of all realized and unrealized investment gains and losses should be reported as a single line in the financial statements.
- 1540 Investment Income from Real Property. Revenue for rental, use charges, and other income on real property held for investment purposes. Note that rentals of real property not held for investment purposes should be posted to revenue code 1910.
- 1600* Food Service. Revenues from dispensing food to students and adults.
- 1610 Daily Sales - Reimbursable Programs. Revenues from students for the sale of breakfasts, lunches and milk that are considered reimbursable programs by the United States Department of Agriculture. Federal reimbursements are recorded in account 4460 series, Child Nutrition Programs.
- 1611 Daily Sales - School Lunch Program. Revenue from students for the sale of reimbursable lunches as part of the National School Lunch Program.
- 1612 Daily Sales - School Breakfast Program. Revenue from students for the sale of reimbursable breakfasts as part of the School Breakfast Program.
- 1613 Daily Sales - Special Milk Program. Revenue from students for the sale of reimbursable milk as part of the Special Milk Program.
- 1614 Daily Sales – After School Program. Revenue received from students for the sale of reimbursable costs from after-school programs.
- 1620 Daily Sales – Non-reimbursable Programs. Revenue from students and adults for the sale of nonreimbursable breakfasts, lunches and milk. This category would include all sales to adults, the second type A lunch to students, and a la carte sales.
- 1630 Special Functions. Revenue from students, adults or organizations from the sale of food products and services considered special functions. Some examples would include potlucks, PTA-sponsored functions, and athletic banquets.
- 1700* District Activities. Revenue resulting from co-curricular and extra-curricular activities controlled and administered by the school district. These revenues are not to be commingled with the proceeds from student activities. (See section on agency funds for student activity funds.)

Revenue Source Code	Description
1710	Admissions. Revenue from patrons of a school-sponsored activity such as a concert, school play, or athletic event.
1720	Bookstore Sales. Revenue from school-sponsored bookstores.
1730	Student Organization Membership Dues and Fees. Revenue from students for memberships in school clubs or organizations.
1750*	Revenue from Enterprise Activities. Revenue (gross) from vending machines, school stores, soft drink machines, and so on, not related to the regular food service program. These revenues are normally associated with activities at the school level that generate incremental local revenues to be used for the benefit of the school.
1790	Other Activity Income. Other revenue from school or district activities not specifically included above.
1800*	Revenue from Community Services Activities. Revenue from community service activities operated by the LEA. For example, the revenue from the operation of a swimming pool by an LEA as a community service would be recorded here. Multiple classifications may be established within this series to differentiate activities.
1900	Other Revenues from Local Sources.
1910*	Rentals. Revenue from the rental of either real or personal property owned by the LEA. Note that rental income from real property held for investment is posted to revenue code 1540.
1920*	Contributions and Donations from Private Sources. Revenue received from a philanthropic foundation, private individuals or private organizations for which no repayment or special service to the contributor is expected. This code should be used to record on-behalf payments made by private organizations to school district personnel, such as stipends paid to teachers.
1930*	Gains or Losses on Sale of Capital Assets. The amount of revenue over the book value of the fixed assets sold. For example, the gain on the sale would be the portion of the selling price received in excess of the depreciated value (book value). This account is used in the proprietary funds or fiduciary funds. For funds other than proprietary and fiduciary, account 5300 is used to report the proceeds from the disposal of assets. [Accrual basis of accounting]

1960*	Services Provided Other Local Governmental Units. Revenue from services provided to governmental units other than LEAs. For example, data processing, printing, and purchasing.
1970*	Services Provided To Other Funds. Revenue from services provided to other funds such as printing, purchasing, or data processing.
1980*	Refund of Prior Year's Expenditures. Revenues recorded for refunds in the current year of expenditures made in the prior year. If refund and expenditure occurred in the current year, current year expenditures are reduced, as prescribed by GAAP. Tuition overpayments are not considered miscellaneous income, but rather a reduction to the expenditure in the year of refund.
1981	State Health Benefits Refund. Revenues recorded for refunds of employer premiums paid on behalf of employees of the LEA.
1990*	Miscellaneous Revenue from Local Sources. Revenue from local sources not provided for elsewhere. Book fines and fees collected for non-accredited adult education program fees are recorded under this classification.
1991	General Education Development (GED) Revenue. Revenue for test fees for those seeking a New Jersey State issued high school diploma through tests of the General Education Development (GED).
2000*	Revenue from Intermediate Sources. Revenue from intermediate sources is revenue from funds collected by an intermediate administrative unit, or a political subdivision between the LEA and the State, and distributed to LEAs in amounts that differ in proportion to those which were collected within such systems. An illustration of revenue from intermediate sources is a property tax levied and collected by a county government, which then distributes the money collected to the LEAs on a flat grant or foundation-aid basis.
2100*	Unrestricted Grants-in-Aid. Revenue recorded as grants by the LEA from an intermediate unit, which can be used for any legal purpose by the LEA without restriction.
2110	County Transportation Contributions.
2200*	Restricted Grants-in-Aid. Revenue recorded as grants by the LEA from an intermediate unit that must be used for a categorical or specific purpose. If such money is not completely used by the LEA, it must be returned, usually, to the intermediate governmental unit.
2300*	Revenue in Lieu of Taxes. Commitments or payments made out of general revenues by an intermediate governmental unit to the LEA in lieu of taxes it would have had to pay had its property or other tax base been subject to taxation by the LEA on the same basis as privately owned property or other tax base. It would include payments in lieu of taxes

When recording reimbursement for indirect costs, the revenue should be recorded in the fund and revenue source classification for the program for which the indirect costs are claimed.

SECTION 3. - EXPENDITURE CLASSIFICATIONS

Expenditures include total obligations incurred, whether paid or unpaid, for current expense, capital outlays, debt service and intergovernmental grants, entitlements and shared revenues. Transfers between funds; exchanges of cash for other current assets such as the investment of cash in U.S. bonds; payments of cash in settlement of liabilities already accounted as expenditures; and the repayment of the principal of current loans payable in the same fiscal year in which the money was borrowed are not considered expenditures.

The expenditure classifications are divided into the following dimensions:

- Fund
- Program and project/reporting
- Function
- Object
- Location (optional for those districts not required to implement school-level accounting and budgeting)

PROGRAM AND PROJECT/REPORTING

Programs and projects are activities and procedures designed to accomplish an objective or set of objectives. Program and project/reporting codes allow districts to accumulate expenditures to meet a variety of specialized reporting requirements at the local, state and federal level. The program and project/reporting code permits the organization of both restricted and unrestricted projects.

The sample coding structure outlined below represents the minimum requirement by the Department of Education (DOE). A district may choose to use the sample coding structure or develop its own program and project/reporting code structure. While DOE approval is not required, any coding system used must contain at least three digits in the program code and must enable districts to meet the minimum reporting and bookkeeping requirements. Budget submission and final reporting must be submitted to the DOE using the minimum coding structure.

The first digit of the three-digit program code represents the broad category. The second and third digits show the sequence that individual program/projects appear within each broad category and ensure that each program/project contains a unique code. The three-digit code serves as the program and project/reporting dimension for restricted revenues. These program codes will be represented twice, once when used in the general fund and once when used in the special revenue fund, with their related descriptions. Ranges are used to provide flexibility. Districts may select codes that best fit their accounting systems where code ranges are presented.

FUNCTION

The function describes the activity for which a service or material object is acquired. The functions of an LEA are classified into five broad areas: instruction, support services, operation of non-instructional services, facilities acquisition and construction, and other outlays. Functions are further broken down into subfunctions and service areas.

Each of these levels consists of activities that have somewhat the same general operational objectives. Furthermore, categories of activities comprising each of these divisions and subdivisions are grouped according to the principle that the activities are related and can be combined and compared. For example:

Function - support services	200
Subfunction - support services - students	210
Service area -attendance and social work services	211

The function structure in these guidelines is not intended to dictate an organizational structure. Rather, an effort has been made to group together functions in relation to the magnitude of expenditures typically found in the LEA. This grouping corresponds to the categories most frequently requested in reporting to external authorities. The asterisk (*) next to the function code denotes a required federal reporting field in the federal (NCES) chart of accounts.

- 181 Prepaid Expenses. Expenses paid for benefits not yet received related to regularly recurring costs of operation. Prepaid expenses differ from deferred charges in that they are spread over a shorter period of time than deferred charges and are regularly recurring costs of operation. Examples of prepaid expenses are prepaid rent, prepaid interest, and unexpired insurance premiums.
- 191 Deposits. Funds deposited as prerequisite to receiving services and/or goods.
- 192 Deferred Expenditures. Certain disbursements that are made in one period, but are more accurately reflected as an expenditure/expense in the next fiscal period.

- 199 Other Current Assets. Current assets not provided for elsewhere.
- 200 Capital Assets. Those assets which the district intends to hold or continue to have in use over a long period of time. Capital assets include land, improvements to land, easements, buildings and building improvements, vehicles, machinery, equipment, works of art and historical treasures, infrastructure, and all other tangible or intangible assets that are used in operations and that have useful lives that extend beyond a single reporting period. [Accrual basis of accounting]
- 211 Land and Land Improvements. Capital asset account that reflects the acquisition value of land owned by the district. If land is purchased, this account includes the purchase price and costs such as legal fees, filling and excavation costs, and other associated improvement costs incurred to put the land in condition for its intended use. If land is acquired by gift, the account reflects its fair value at the time of acquisition. Further, permanent improvements to land, such as grading and fill, should be accounted for in this account. [Accrual basis of accounting]
- Land and land improvements are considered nonexhaustible assets owing to their significantly long expected useful life. Nonexhaustible assets are not to be depreciated. Therefore, not all assets classified by asset code 211 will result in a depreciation expense. [Accrual basis of accounting]
- 221 Site Improvements. The capital asset account that reflects the acquisition value of nonpermanent improvements to building sites, other than buildings, which add value to land. Examples of such improvements are fences, retaining walls, sidewalks, pavements, gutters, tunnels, and bridges. If the improvements are purchased or constructed, this account contains the purchase or contract price. If improvements are obtained by gift, it reflects the fair value at time of acquisition.
- Site improvements are improvements that have a limited useful life. Because these improvements decrease in their value/usefulness over time, it is appropriate to depreciate these assets. Therefore, all capitalized site improvements should be depreciated over their expected useful life. [Accrual basis of accounting]
- 222 Accumulated Depreciation on Site Improvements. Accumulated amounts for depreciation of site improvements. [Accrual basis of accounting]
- 231 Buildings and Building Improvements. A capital asset account which reflects the acquisition value of permanent structures used to house persons and property owned by the district. If buildings are purchased or constructed, this account includes the purchase or contract price of all permanent buildings and the fixtures attached to and forming a permanent part of such buildings. This account includes all building improvements, including upgrades made to building wiring for technology. If buildings are acquired by gift, the account reflects their fair value at the time of acquisition. [Accrual basis of accounting]

BUDGETARY ACCOUNTS (REVENUE)

Budgetary accounts are integrated into the accounting system in order to compare the actual revenues and expenditures to the budgeted amounts at any point in time. The importance of this procedure is to prevent overspending.

Revenue accounts consist of control accounts as well as individual accounts. The control accounts are used to record the aggregate amount in the general ledger while the detail of the control account is recorded in a subsidiary ledger by individual accounts. The revenue subsidiary ledger is used to record the details of the control accounts and should include estimated and actual revenues.

Budgeted fund balance and withdrawals of reserved fund balance are included here, although not true revenue. Although not a true revenue source, these accounts appear in the revenue section of the annual budget in order to balance the expenditure side.

Balance SheetCode Description

- 301 Estimated Revenues (Control Account / Normal Debit Balance). The amount of revenues estimated to be received or to become receivable during the fiscal period. This account is debited to record the adoption of the annual budget. At the end of the fiscal period this account is closed out and does not appear in the balance sheet. It would only appear in interim financial statements.
- 302 Revenues (Control Account / Normal Credit Balance). The total of all revenues realized during a period. This includes receivables for revenues whose actual collections will not differ from the amounts in the certified budget (tax levy and state aid) as well as actual receipts of other types of revenue. - 303 Budgeted Fund Balance. This account reflects the amount of fund balance the LEA will utilize in supporting the anticipated appropriations for the school budget. This account is also used to record the deposit into capital reserve at budget time through the appropriation of anticipated excess surplus. At the end of the fiscal period, this account is closed out and does not appear in the balance sheet.
- 307 Budgeted Withdrawal from Capital Reserve. The budgetary account used to record the formal appropriation of eligible costs for a school facilities project in the current year. - 512 Accreted Interest. An account that represents interest that is accrued on deep discount bonds. This account should be used by school districts that issue capital appreciation bonds. Such bonds are usually issued at a deep discount from the face value, and no interest payment is made until maturity. Under full accrual accounting, the district is required to accrete the interest on the bonds over the life of the bonds. Accretion is the process of systematically increasing the carrying amount of the bond to its estimated value at the maturity date of the bond. To calculate accreted interest, the district should impute the effective interest rate, using the present value, the face value (or the future value), and the period of the bond, and multiply the effective interest rate by the book value of the debt at the end of the period. Accreted interest is usually recorded as an addition to the outstanding debt liability. [Accrual basis of accounting]

An account that represents the difference between the reacquisition price and the net carrying amount of old debt when a current or advance refunding of debt occurs. This account should be used only when defeasance of debt occurs for proprietary funds. The unamortized loss amount should be deferred and amortized as a component of interest expense in a systematic and rational manner over the remaining life of the old debt or the life of the new debt, whichever is shorter. On the balance sheet, this deferred amount should be reported as a deduction from or an addition to the new debt liability. [Accrual basis of accounting]

BUDGETARY ACCOUNTS (EXPENDITURES)

These accounts reflect budgeted and actual amounts related to expenditures and encumbrances. Budgetary accounts are integrated into the accounting system in order to compare the actual revenues and expenditures to the budgeted amounts at any point in time. The importance of this procedure is to prevent overspending.

Expenditure accounts consist of control accounts as well as individual accounts. The control account is used to record the aggregate amount in the general ledger while the detail of the control account is recorded in a subsidiary ledger by individual accounts. The expenditure subsidiary ledger is used to record the details of the control accounts and should include appropriations, encumbrances and expenditures.

EXPENDITURE ACCOUNT OUTLINE

1. OVERVIEW

The following expenditure account outline lists the minimum level of detail to be maintained in the chart of accounts for compliance with NJ Department of Education and federal reporting requirements. This handbook has described in detail the funds, programs, functions, and objects that comprise the coding structure of the chart of accounts. Appendix A illustrates a coding structure that incorporates the minimum function and object detail required to meet the aforementioned reporting requirements for each program. As reporting needs differ among programs, the function and object coding may be structured at the category or subcategory level. If at the category level (X00), the outline coding is a summary of subcategories with no specific detail breakout required. If a subcategory (XXX) is included in the coding, specific detail breakout is required for those expenditures, with remaining similar category items summarized in an “other” or “miscellaneous” subcategory (XX0). The account outline is not intended to dictate a standard chart of accounts for all districts, but offers an overview of expenditure categorizations within programs. When establishing their individual chart of accounts, handbook users should reference the expenditure account outline to assure that the coding established meets the minimum requirements. (Note: The outline is not applicable for county vocational and special services school districts. County schools are required to maintain the object detail reflected in the applicable prescribed budget statement).

SUPPLIES AND EQUIPMENT

CRITERIA FOR DISTINGUISHING SUPPLY AND EQUIPMENT ITEMS

At one time, the federal accounting handbook published by the National Center for Education Statistics (NCES) contained lists of both supplies and equipment. Such lists can never be all-inclusive, and become outdated. Some federal, state, and local laws and regulations, usually in the form of funding programs, present conflicting criteria for distinguishing between supplies and equipment. For these reasons, the use of a supply and equipment list is not practical.

The NCES has provided, in the Financial Accounting for Local and State School Systems 2003 Edition, a set of criteria for determining whether an item is classified as equipment or a supply. The four criteria are reproduced below and are in priority order as given by NCES. Unless otherwise bound by federal, state, or local law, school districts should use these criteria in their supply/equipment classification decisions. In cases where the distinction is unclear, the district, as always, must apply reason and good judgment in making its decision.

EQUIPMENT ITEMS

An equipment item is any instrument, machine, apparatus, or set of articles which meets all the following criteria:

1. It retains its original shape, appearance, and character with use;
2. It does not lose its identity through fabrication or incorporation into a different or more complex unit or substance;
3. It is nonexpendable; that is, if the item is damaged or some of its parts are lost or worn out, it is more feasible to repair the item than to replace it with an entirely new unit;
4. Under normal conditions of use, including reasonable care and maintenance, it can be expected to serve its principal purpose for at least one year.

CAPITALIZATION POLICY

The NCES decision chart reflects the above criteria and includes an additional point (capitalization threshold). When the answer to the following question is yes, "If the item exceeds the minimum dollar value mandated by a state or other government unit (with due regard for group control of some items)," and all four of the above criteria have been met, then the item should be classified as equipment.

On January 11, 2001, the NJ Department of Education notified districts that effective July 1, 2001, the capitalization threshold (minimum dollar value for determining if an item is equipment) used by school districts in New Jersey was increased to $2,000. This higher capitalization threshold required for accounting and financial reporting does not preclude a district from using a lower threshold for insurance or asset management/management control purposes.

SUPPLY ITEM

An item should be classified as a supply if it does not meet all the stated equipment criteria, and the cost is not more than the capitalization threshold of $2,000.
