

Arizona College Preparatory Study Tips

TESTS

Create flashcards

Regular use of flashcards can and will help increase your memory for test taking

Rewrite notes from your original notes

Utilize the study guides

Before every test, you will receive a study guide which talks about everything that will be on it.

Make good use of it!

Quiz yourself before the test

Study a little bit each day

Have Mom and Dad quiz you

Finally, try studying with SQ3R

QUIZZES

Be prepared that quizzes are given at least once every other week!

Pay attention throughout the week

Review the information that day when you get home

Take good notes (Cornell notes)

SQ3R notes

Quiz yourself!

PROJECTS

Remember to be organized and don't wait until the last moment

Know when you have a project due.

Remember – effort counts!

Projects are graded mostly on the effort you put into them.

Have a plan

Ask yourself important questions: What materials do I need? Where can I get the information? Where can I get help?

Put your name on it!

Make sure everything you turn in has your name on it so that you can get the points you deserve.

CLASSWORK

Complete each assignment faithfully

Put your name on it!!

Remember to turn in only your best work – rewrite or retype if necessary

Remember to always check the assignment calendar on the board – that will tell you what is due and when

If class time is given to work on assignments, use it wisely!

If you have questions, ask!

CLASS PARTICIPATION

It's ALL in the effort!

If you participate in class faithfully, you will have a 100% for that part of your grade.

Plan to participate in class!

Be prepared for all class activities.
