

For this year all art classes will be done at home with the help of parents. These art lessons will not be required by the school, but we highly encourage art for all our students. We have a wonderful website where age appropriate art lessons have been gathered. <https://artprep.weebly.com/>

Some lessons include a history lesson via YouTube, visit YouTube at your discretion; we ask that you please supervise your child during the lesson and when accessing YouTube.

Please feel free to make any changes or substitutions for any of the art projects. For example if you do not have oil pastels, crayons work very well as a substitute. Likewise if a project calls for watercolor pencils, you can use watercolor paints, or regular colored pencils.

If you would like to take any images of any art projects your children have done and send them to oakridgeartist@gmail.com we will deliver the photos to the yearbook staff to be posted on Facebook and put into the yearbook for the whole school.

I wish everyone a safe year and when parents are allowed to help we will be contacting everyone to get the program up and running again.
