

For Immediate Release

THE ORGANIZATION OF AMERICAN KODÁLY EDUCATORS SELECTS STUDENTS TO PARTICIPATE IN THE 2013 OAKE NATIONAL CONFERENCE IN HARTFORD, CT.

LOS ANGELES, CA (January 29, 2013) – The Organization of American Kodály Educators (OAKE) announced today that 458 talented elementary, middle and high school students from across the United States have been selected to participate in four choirs—Children’s Choir, Youth Choir, Concert Women’s Choir, and Chamber Ensemble—which will be featured at the organization’s 39th annual National Conference held in Hartford, CT, March 20-23.

The students, representing 143 cities and 32 states, will travel to Hartford, CT for a four-day intensive rehearsal schedule and will work under the direction of renowned conductors Dr. Susan Brumfield of Texas Tech University (Children’s Choir), Dr. Janet Galván of Ithaca College (Youth Choir), Dr. Martha Shaw of Reinhardt University (Concert Women’s Choir), and Dr. Ellen Gilson Voth of Western New England University (Chamber Ensemble). Financial assistance was made available to six scholarship recipients through funding from the OAKE National Scholarship Fund. The singers will perform the culminating concert at The First Cathedral, Bloomfield, CT on Saturday, March 23 at 7PM.

"We are excited to bring our National Conference to Hartford, CT this spring, and to set the stage for a life-changing music making event for the participants of the four National Honor Choirs," said Kelly Foster Griffin, OAKE President. "In a culturally rich environment, youth from all corners of the country will join together and experience the exhilaration of being an integral part of a highly artistic performance. It is always heartwarming to observe the strong connections that develop among the students, their nationally renowned conductors and their participating school music teacher - all because of a common appreciation for music and love of singing. Surely, the highlight of the conference is the Saturday evening concert."

The list of guest professionals participating in the 2013 OAKE National Conference includes keynote speaker Dr. Peter Boonshaft of Hofstra University and mini-conference session leaders Mollie Stone and Patty Cuyler. The opening concert will be performed by The Hartt School Chamber Choir under the direction of Dr. Edward Bolkovac. Friday night entertainment will be provided by folk quartet Work o’ the Weavers and late night music will be provided by the Mike Cohen Trio. Additional featured concerts will be provided by the Young People’s Chorus of New York City under the direction Elizabeth Núñez; the Connecticut Children’s Chorus Primi Voci under the direction of Stuart Younse; the Henry James Memorial School Select Chorus under the direction of Colleen Thompson; and the Chamber Singers of Fairfield County Children’s Choir under the direction of Jon Noyes. A full list of conference presenters, clinicians and featured guests as well as registration information can be found at www.oake.org.

OAKE was founded in 1975 to serve as a meeting place for music educators who embrace the Kodály Concept of Music Education. It draws its membership from educators of all levels, public and private, students, administrators, and others who share in its support and promotion. The mission of the Organization of American Kodály Educators is to support music education of the highest quality, promote universal music literacy and lifelong music making, and preserve the musical heritage of the people of the United States of America through education, artistic performance, advocacy and research.
