Futures Elementary arose out of the former Lockwood campus in 2007 due to the desires of parents and teachers to have a smaller, more responsive school. We now have over 300 students in K-5 classes. In our second year of operation, Futures had the highest Academic Performance Index (API) gains in the entire district. We emphasize dialog, relational trust and inquiry-based learning. Our students and teachers practice Mindfulness in the classroom. As one teacher put it, "We are always asking kids to pay attention, but we never teach them how. Mindfulness does that." Students stay with same teacher for two years (K-1, 2-3 and 4-5) in order to deepen trust and understanding in their relationship. Special Programs: None

Far West School's program integrates the arts into the core curriculum to provide a creative, hands-on method of learning. The program is also designed to strengthen the development of students as critical thinkers, self-aware individuals, and positive members of their communities. The key to this work is the emphasis on family and community partnerships, and the development of student voice and responsibility. At Far West, the learning priorities are student literacy, skills in critical thinking, self-awareness, and community involvement. A student who is fluent and comfortable with the written and spoken word, technology, contemporary culture, diversity, history, media, mathematics, science, the arts, and the environment demonstrates literacy at Far West. We teach students to take this core knowledge and use it for reflection, application, and action. Our staff, in combination with families and the community, helps guide and support the development of students as scholars and responsible citizens.

MetWest is a small, innovative high school in partnership with Laney College. In our seventh year in the school year 2008-09, we serve 130 students from all corners of Oakland. Our student population consists of approximately 35% African American, 45% Latino, 15% Asian American, and 5% White. MetWest's approach to learning is grounded in our commitment to "educate one student at a time." With the teachers (called "Advisors") and family members, each student designs an educational program which includes two days a week at an internship and three days of academic study and interdisciplinary project work on campus. The internships give students a deep sense of how their interests materialize in the adult world, and provide an authentic environment and audience for their work. The courses our students take both at MetWest and Laney College support academic rigor in the internship-based and independent projects they develop.

The Oakland Emiliano Zapate Street Academy is an alternative high school which, for the past 35 years, has been serving students from multi-cultural backgrounds, and many of whom were at risk of failure in school prior to coming to our school. Our school provides the students with a college prep program while emphasizing community service, appreciation of diversity and a strong commitment to social justice. A consulting teacher works with each parent/guardian and student to develop an educational plan and communicates regularly to ensure the student is on track. The school offers both a core academic day program and an extended day program with independent studies and enrichment programs. There are three steps to the application process. First, potential students and parents are invited to an orientation to the school's philosophy, instructional program, and rules. Next, the students will complete an application which includes an essay. The students must write why they wish to attend Street Academy. They also take placement tests in English languages arts and Mathematics. The tests are only for the purpose of placement in classes. Finally, the students will be scheduled for an interview with a committee consisting of a teacher and other students. The interview panel will determine acceptance of candidates.
