COURSE DESCRIPTION

United States History 3 Resource

1 Credit

This course explores the United States from the Reconstruction period to current United States History. Over the year, students will learn varying social studies strategies such as identifying historical content vocabulary, developing map skills and using critical thinking skills. Students will learn about topics such as the industrial Revolution, immigration from the past to present day issues and understanding the two world wars that have an impact on the United States today. Students will demonstrate their knowledge of United States history by participating in group discussions and by reflecting on these topics when reading and writing. A wide variety of resources will be used throughout the year. Students will use technology, hands on learning, cooperative groups and varying learning style strategies to access core content.

COURSE GOALS/LEARNING OBJECTIVES

The course goal is to provide individualized instruction and provide an opportunity for each student to build upon their learning style and ability. The instruction utilized in the room will be geared toward student individualized goals and objectives, thus allowing students to reach their full potential. Lessons will be differentiated to accommodate student learning needs and adapted to common core state standards for each subject area and grade level curriculum.

REQUIRED TEXTBOOK AND MATERIALS

Students are required to bring a notebook, pens and pencils, and a folder or binder. The teacher will assign varying articles, graphic organizers and packets which then become the responsibility of the student to be submitted on the applicable date.

COURSE POLICIES

- Attendance and Tardy Policy
 - Attendance Policy: Please refer to the district policy located on the Crosby website or in the student handbook (<https://goo.gl/nSz4er>)
 - Students who are tardy to a class 3 times will serve a detention issued by the classroom teacher. Each subsequent tardy will be a referral to the office for disciplinary action.

- Late Work Policy
 - Refer to district grading policy or see the link at the bottom of the page.
- Academic Dishonesty - Academic dishonesty shall in general mean conduct which has as its intent or effect the false representation of a student's academic performance, including but not limited to:
 - a. Cheating on an examination
 - b. Collaborating with others in work to be presented, contrary to the stated rules of the course
 - c. Plagiarizing, including the submission of others ideas or papers (whether purchased, borrowed or otherwise obtained) as one's own
 - d. Stealing or having unauthorized access to examination or course materials
 - e. Falsifying records, laboratory or other data
 - f. Submitting, if contrary to the rules of a course, work previously presented in another course
 - g. Knowingly and intentionally assisting another student in any of the above, including assistance in an arrangement whereby any work, classroom performance, examination or other activity is submitted or performed by a person other than the student under whose name the work is submitted or performed.

Students should not give or receive aid during examinations, quizzes, tests or lab assignments. Students should not use answers to examinations, quizzes and tests written on cheat sheets, clothing or body parts, or obtained from others who have taken the same test prior to them. Students should not use in any written work, without proper acknowledgement, the wording of any sentence or part of a sentence of another author without acknowledgement of the original author. Students should not use calculating devices during tests where calculators are not permitted.

Plagiarism according to The American Heritage Dictionary of the English Language, Fourth Edition, 2000, is "1. A piece of writing that has been copied from someone else and is presented as being your own. 2. The act of plagiarizing: taking someone's words or ideas as if they were your own." If you copy another's work in a paper, for instance, you must put the copied material in quotation marks and footnote or endnotes. If you restate the language or thoughts of another in your own words, you are paraphrasing. Omit the quotation marks, but footnote or endnote the original source. Not to attribute the idea to the original person is to plagiarize. In general, it is better to acknowledge too many sources than too few.

Plagiarism, as defined above, is considered a serious academic offense. According to Connecticut statute, plagiarism is a criminal act and classified as a Class "B" misdemeanor. The teacher, in conference with an administrator, will exercise his/her professional judgment when determining an appropriate penalty for a project that has been plagiarized. The nature of the penalty should be relative to the magnitude of the offense. Examples of penalties that will be invoked are: a zero for the project, an "F" for the course, and/or referral to the proper authorities. The teacher and administrator will determine if the student may be permitted to complete the paper properly, or write an entire new paper properly. These and other penalties will not be imposed when the classroom teacher determines that the sources in a paper have been mis-cited. The teacher with the administration will determine the extent of grade reduction and possible suspension or referral to authorities. (Obtained from Tunxis Community College Handbook)
