Important Information

There will not be a new practice sheet this week. Feel free to have your child read words and sentences from previous practice sheets.

As much as we would love for parents to come to the Winter party, due to Covid guidelines, parents are not allowed to attend. Please send all party items the morning of the party or drop off in the office if it is too heavy for your child.

Wow! What a year it has been! Thank you for your support at home.
