

Division Fact Websites

www.aplusmath.com

This site contains several games that can be played using division facts including Matho, hidden pictures and planet blaster.

Matho can be purchased as an AP for Androids for I-phones/ I-touches.

www.mathplayground.com

This site contains several games that can be played in the "Stay Sharp! Arcade." In the "Just for Facts" section, children can challenge themselves against the clock to complete flashcards. In the "Computation" section, division facts also practiced.

www.fun4thebrain.com/division.html

This site contains many games that can be played to practice division facts.

<http://www.funbrain.com/math/index.html>

This game allows you to practice division facts as you play a game of baseball.

<http://www.funbrain.com/tictactoe/index.html>

In this game, you practice division facts as you play a game of tic-tac-toe with the computer.