

Le Partitif

le/la/les???

un/une???

du/de la/des???

Use “le/la/les” when
talking about things you
like or dislike in general:

J’adore le gâteau.

I love cake.

Use “le/la/les” when
talking about things you
like or dislike in general:

Elle déteste la confiture.

She hates jelly.

Use “le/la/les” when
talking about things you
like or dislike in general:

Nous n’aimons pas les
oignons.

We hate onions.

Also use “le/la/les” when
talking about something
specific:

Donne-moi le gâteau au
chocolat, s’il te plaît.

Give me the chocolate cake,
please.

Also use “le/la/les” when
talking about something
specific:

Elle désire la confiture sur la
table.

She wants the jelly on the
table.

Also use “le/la/les” when
talking about something
specific:

Nous n’avons pas pris les
oignons verts.

We didn’t take the green
onions.

Use “un/une” when talking about one thing.

Je veux un gâteau.

I want one cake.

Use “un/une” when
talking about one thing.

Elle a désiré une banane.

She wanted a banana.

Use “du/de la/des” when
talking about an
unspecific quantity.

In English we may use
the word some:

Je désire du gâteau.

I want (some) cake.

Use “du/de la/des” when
talking about an
unspecific quantity.

Elle va prendre de la
confiture.

She's going to have (some)
jelly.

Use “du/de la/des” when
talking about an
unspecific quantity.

Ils ont acheté des oignons
verts.

They bought (some) green
onions.

Use “du/de la/des” when
talking about an
unspecific quantity.

Ils ont acheté des oignons
verts.

They bought (some) green
onions.

ATTENTION!

“du/de la/des”

change to “de” in the
negative:

Je désire du gâteau.

Je ne désire pas de gâteau.

ATTENTION!

“du/de la/des”

change to “de” in the
negative:

Elle prend de la confiture.

Elle ne prend jamais de
confiture.

ATTENTION!

“du/de la/des”

change to “de” in the
negative:

Ils achètent des oignons verts.

Ils n'achètent pas d'oignons
verts.

le/un/du =

masculin singulier

la/une/de la ==

feminin singulier

les/des ==

pluriel

La Fīn

