

Name: _____

Date: _____

10.3

Now that you've thought about the things you might include in your poem, it's time to write! Use the lines below to describe your object. Make sure to use all five senses.

If you finish with time remaining, read back over your poem silently. Try to add alliteration to another line. Then try to add a simile.

