

Name: _____

Date: _____

6.3

5. Look back over your writing and revision. These exercises helped you brainstorm, or gather lots of ideas about your memory, but you might not need all those details in your poem. Narrow your ideas down to the three most important details about your memory, and type them below in the order in which the memory happened. What came first? Second? Last? Next to each detail, type why this detail will be so important to your poem.

A. _____

B. _____

C. _____