Providing Feedback

Throughout the previous lessons, you have been working on your own memory poem. Today you will get to share your poem aloud with a partner. Each person will read his or her poem, then each listener will share responses to the questions below.

When it is your turn to read your work aloud, remember to speak clearly and slowly.

When it is your turn to listen to your partner, think about the following questions as you listen to the poem. Take a minute to type your answers and share them aloud with your partner.

Remember that you should listen attentively to your partner. This means you should think about what your partner is reading so that you are able to review the key ideas your partner expresses in his or her poem. Make sure to look at your partner while he or she reads the poem aloud.

1. Using your own words, describe the main thing that happens in your partner's poem.

2. The previous lesson asked you to emphasize a word or phrase in your poem. What word or phrase seems to be emphasized in your partner's poem? You may look at the written poem as you think about your answer; make sure to give a reason for your answer.
