

Name: _____

Date: _____

The remaining metaphors are listed below. Type the letter of the metaphor your teacher assigns your group in the box given below. Then work together as a group to fill out the graphic organizer.

Metaphors:

A. She had horses who were skins of ocean water.

---

B. She had horses who were the blue air of sky.

---

C. She had horses who were fur and teeth.

---

D. She had horses who were clay and would break.

---

E. She had horses who were splintered red cliff.

---

Type your metaphor on the line below.

She had horses who were _____

As you work on interpreting the metaphor, you must think like poets, which means thinking very creatively and using your imagination to decide what Harjo might have meant.