To Our Acalanes Adult Education Community,

Spring, 2020 brought about uncertain and unprecedented times. The health and safety of our students and staff are paramount. I am so proud of our staff, who jumped into action in March, and revamped their instructional practices. The students of Acalanes Adult Education (AAE) continued to support our programs and we came together, as a community, through Distance Learning.

We are eager to present our Fall class offerings, yet know there are still many questions as we move forward. Our staff have explored multiple options for class offerings. As we prepare for our Fall courses, know that we will continue to follow the guidance from state and local health officials, and follow the guidelines established by our District.

During our school closure, many students reached out to me, letting me know how much they appreciated their courses in an online format. That said, for the Fall, some courses will be offered in a face-to-face, on-site fashion, but class sizes will be limited to not more than 15 students to allow for proper social distancing. Some classes may be offered in a hybrid face-to-face and online format, while others may be offered as strictly online/distance learning formats.

Enhanced Health and Safety Measures - AAE

1. Physical distancing and capacity measures (Please see page 1 for explicit details)
2. Cleanliness and sanitization (Please see page 1 for explicit details)
3. Screening and prevention (Please see page 1 for explicit details)

Please note we will be adjusting our refund policy to properly address the current situation, so please refer to page 1 for our current, modified refund policy. AAE will continue to offer online registration where students may enroll in classes and pay the course fees with Discover, MasterCard, or Visa. We encourage you to enroll early so that you reserve your space in a class that is popular, or keep from being cancelled due to low enrollment. Additionally, should your class be offered online, you will receive log-in information from your teacher.

Thank you for your ongoing support of AAE and I look forward to seeing you in our classes during our Fall, 2020 term.

Thank you,

Steven France

Women in the Middle Ages - 5 classes

When medieval images are conjured up it is usually of knights on horseback, violence and a more primitive society. What is not often discussed is what were the women doing during this time period. Everyone knows about Eleanor of Aquitaine, but is that because she was the exception? What was life like for every other woman? Were the highborn women just marriage pawns for their fathers? Could merchant class women run their own business, could women own property or dispense justice? The answers may not be as straight forward as you think. In this seminar class we will examine, and students will discuss the roles and rights of European women from the Early Middle Ages to the High Middle Ages. Discussions will focus on if women's rights increase or decrease over the centuries and how different, or not, women's role and rights were compared to women's roles and rights today.
