

About Our Interim Superintendent

Dr. Lorrie Rodrigue holds a B.A. in English and an M.A. in Teaching Foundations from Fairfield University. Lorrie taught English at both Newtown Middle School and Newtown High School. In 1997, Lorrie became the first teacher in Newtown to receive National Board Certification and later took on the role of assistant principal at Newtown High School. Lorrie earned a Ph.D. in Leadership from Northcentral University in 2012. After serving as Principal in Southbury, Lorrie returned to Newtown in 2014 as Principal of the High School. In 2017, she was honored as Connecticut Principal of the Year by Connecticut Association of Schools (CAS).