Assistant Principal's Corner

By Jim Ross, Assistant Principal

Welcome back to school! I am looking forward to working with you and most importantly, your children, to make this the very best school year. The transition back to school is exciting, but also comes with its challenges. Below are some helpful insights that will help your children have a successful transition.

MANAGING BACK-TO-SCHOOL TRANSITIONS: TIPS FOR PARENTS

by Mark A. Lyon

In a National Association of School Psychologists (NASP) publication on "Back-to-School Transitions," Feinberg and Cowan (2004) point out that getting a new school year off to a good start can influence children's attitudes, confidence, adjustment to and performance in school, both academically and socially. The transition from summer fun and leisure to the more structured demands of school can be difficult for children and parents. They note that, "even children who are eager to return to class must adjust to the greater levels of activity, structure, and, for some, pressures associated with school life". While some of the demands for adjusting to school fall on the child, parents can assist their children with this transition by planning ahead, anticipating potential problems, being realistic about what needs to be accomplished, and maintaining a positive attitude. Following are some of Feinberg and Cowan's suggestions for easing the transition back to school and promoting a successful school experience:

.Before School Starts

- Be sure your child is in good physical and mental health.
- Review all of the information sent by the schools as soon as it arrives.
- Mark your calendar with important dates, such as Open House and Parent Conferences.
- Make copies of all health and emergency information for later reference.
- Buy school supplies early and fill backpacks a week or two before school starts.
- Plan to re-establish bedtime and mealtime (especially breakfast) routines at least one week before school starts.
- Encourage young children to play quiet games, do puzzles, flash cards, color or read as their early morning activities. This will help ease them back into the learning process and school regimen.
- Visit the school with your child.
- Designate and clear a place to do homework.

The First Week

- Clear your own schedule. Be ready to provide needed assistance to your child.
- Make lunches the night before school.
- Leave plenty of time to wake up, eat breakfast, and get to school.
- Review with your child what to do if they get home after school and you are not there.
- Review your child's schoolbooks with them, and talk about what they will be learning this year in school.

Assistant Principal's Corner (cont'd)

By Jim Ross, Assistant Principal

- Familiarize yourself with all the professionals in the school building or district who can serve as a resource for your child.

Overcoming Anxiety

- Children absorb their parent's anxiety, so model optimism and confidence for your child.
- Don't over-react if the first few days are a little rough. Maintain a positive attitude.
- Acknowledge anxiety over a bad experience the previous year. Help your child with strategies for coping with difficult situations. Let them know there are people at school who can assist them with problems.
- Arrange get-togethers with some of your child's classmates before school starts and in the first week to re-establish social connections.

Extra Curricular Activities

- Go for quality, not quantity. Your child will benefit most from one or two activities that are fun, reinforce social development, and teach new skills.
- Consider your family schedule and personal energy level. Too many activities may result in increased family stress.
- Select activities where you have someone with whom you can carpool.
- Find out from the teacher which days will likely be heavy homework or test days and schedule extracurricular activities accordingly.
- If your child does not want to participate in extracurricular activities, consider other options like planned visits to the library, monthly reading programs, or scheduled play times with other children.

Fall Parent/Teacher Conferences

Communication amongst parents and teachers is a critical component for the success of our students. Parent/teacher conferences are one of the many opportunities that parents have to collaborate with the teachers to review and modify student success plans. Please contact your cluster teachers for more details.

Fall Conference Dates:

Fall Conference Dates:

Middle School Drop-off and Pick-up Procedures

Students should not arrive at school before 7:30 a.m., unless they have made prior arrangements with their teachers to receive extra help. If they arrive between 7:30 a.m. and 7:50 a.m., they will report to the cafeteria (A-Wing homerooms) or the B-Gym (C-Wing homerooms). The Library Media Center is open at 7:50 a.m. for student use.

Parents who drive children to school between 7:30 a.m. and 7:50 a.m. have two drop-off locations:

The horseshoe area or

The cafeteria entrance (If you are facing the building from the street, it is on the left side near the softball field).

The main parking lot is not a drop off point. REMINDER...THE HORSESHOE IS A "NO PARKING" ZONE. Also, please note the sign in the horseshoe area in the morning. Parents should pull as far forward as possible (the overhang extends the length of the building) to alleviate congestion on Queen Street.

Parents who pick up their children at the end of the day at the student pick-up area behind the school at the cafeteria should do so by 2:45 p.m. The horseshoe is not a designated pick-up area as this is designated for walkers only. After 2:45 p.m., students can wait in the main lobby be picked up at the school's main entrance.

A student who is being dismissed during the school day must bring in a note signed by a parent or guardian to the C-Wing office before school. The note should state the time and reason for the dismissal. A student will NOT be dismissed until a parent or guardian signs out his/her child from the C-Wing office.

We certainly value every child's safety and appreciate your cooperation.

NMS Bus Pass Policy

If a student needs to ride a different bus, a student must bring in a parent/guardian signed note to Mrs. Frobey in the C Wing Office when he/she arrives at school. This note should state the child's name, homeroom teacher, date(s) of bus change, reason for bus change, and address to where the child should now be going (or different bus number). If approved, the child will be given a one-time bus pass.

Any questions can be directed to Mrs. Frobey at 203.426.7638 or frobeym@newtown.k12.ct.us

NEWTOWN MIDDLE SCHOOL ATTENDANCE

Parent(s) may send in a blanket note for the entire year (I give permission for _____ to ride the NYA bus whenever necessary for the 2019/2020 school year). This note should be addressed to Mrs. Frobey in the C Wing Office.
- The NMS student MUST sign up each day she/he wishes to ride the NYA bus by 9:00 each morning. A clipboard will be available in the C Wing Office. This timeframe will be strictly adhered to due to All-Star scheduling.

Counseling Office

Welcome to a new year 8th graders!

8th grade will be filled with new opportunities to explore your futures! Mrs. Doehr and Miss Connelly will continue our lessons in Road Trip Nation this year with a focus on setting goals and making educated choices for high school classes. We are working along side all of your teachers, cluster AND unified arts, to help you become more aware of your strengths, interests, talents and skills. In December, we will be hosting our annual Career Day which you will hear more about soon.

In early Fall, Henry Abbott Tech HS and Shepaug Valley HS for Agriscience will both be coming to talk to all 8th graders about their programs. You can follow these links for more information online.

<http://abbott.cttech.org/programs.html>

<https://www.region-12.org/our-schools/shepaug-valley-school-6-12/academics>

Anyone interested in applying to these schools or any private high schools will need to be aware of the timelines and deadlines involved in applications. The counseling office processes all of the applications and we will have updated information on our webpage by mid-September as to our procedure.

8th grade is exciting and as you have already seen, is very different from 7th grade. Some tips to help you find/continue success this year are:

- Set aside time each day to organize your school materials at home- the pace is faster in 8th grade and staying organized is key
- Ask teachers for help if you are struggling with in class content. Practicing self advocacy skills is a good habit to get into for high school and beyond!
- Manage your time by setting a goal for yourself with how much time you expect to spend on each subject for homework. Then compare that to how much time it actually takes you. (This does not include the time you spend checking your social media BTW)
- Practice self discipline by keeping your phone away and off during HW time. We know, we know... THIS will be very challenging. But you may notice that HW gets done much faster and you are more efficient without the distraction.
- Use your planner or other means to keep track of homework assignments- both short term and long term.
- Get out of your comfort zone and try meeting new people, get involved in new activities, do something totally different even if it's just once! You may make a wonderful discovery about yourself or someone else!
- Get involved in after school clubs and activities including ones in our community- it's important to balance work and fun!

We look forward working with you this year and watching you grow!

The CIAC/Special Olympics Unified Sports® Program provides a forum for positive social interaction between intellectually disabled and non-disabled students. As Unified® teammates train and compete together they foster ties that develop into friendships both on and off the athletic field.

Participation in Unified Sports® leads to new friendships, improved self-esteem and positive changes in attitude, behavior, and performance.

The CIAC/Special Olympics Unified Sports® Program helps to foster an inclusive school community where the values of tolerance, patience and sensitivity are cornerstones. Please visit this link to check out some videos http://ciacsports.com/site/?page_id=36

Backpack Basics for Healthier Kids

Used correctly, backpacks can be a good way to carry all the books, supplies and personal items needed for a typical school day. Backpacks are designed to distribute the weight of the load among some of the body's strongest muscles. However, backpacks that are too heavy or carried incorrectly can injure muscles or joints and contribute to back pain or other problems.

The Proper Backpack is:

- No wider than the user's chest
- Worn no higher than the base of the neck
- Worn no lower than 2 to 4 inches below the waist
- Supported by a waist or chest strap
- Made of lightweight material

A Good Backpack has:

- A padded back
- Several compartments
- Side compression strap
- A waist or chest strap
- Reflectors
- Two wide, padded shoulder straps

Nurse's Office

By: Jocelyne Taweh, RN and Andrea Trager, RN

How to Use a Backpack

To Wear It:

- Facing the backpack, bend your knees, hold the backpack with both hands, and straighten your knees to lift it to the waist.
- Apply one shoulder strap at a time.
- Be sure to always use both shoulder straps.

Snugly adjust it between your neck and the curve of your lower back using the shoulder straps .

To Load It:

- Keep it light—pack only what it needed for the day.
- Place the heaviest objects so they will be closest to your back.
- Use compartments to distribute the weight and keep things from sliding.
- Hand-carry heavy books to avoid excessive weight in the backpack.
- Clean it out daily.

If a backpack forces the wearer to lean forward, it's overloaded and some items should be removed. Carrying an overloaded backpack can cause discomfort and, over time, lead to back injuries and other problems. If the backpack weighs more than 15% of the carrier's weight, it's too heavy. To determine the proper maximum weight for a backpack, multiply the user's body weight by 0.15. If a heavier load is unavoidable, consider using a backpack with wheels.

NMS Art Department

"Creativity is allowing yourself to make mistakes. Art is knowing which ones to keep."

-Scott Adams

Why Art Matters

Art is more than just painting, coloring, sculpting, printing, etc. Art is a visual language.

At this age, our goal is to subconsciously instill the use of visual arts language and knowledge in our students through the projects in our class.

These skills transcend our classroom, and are valuable to them in all aspects of life. When 98% of our day is visual, it is important to know how to navigate what we are seeing, and interpret what it means.

Temporary "F" Policy

Our main goal is to get your student ready for high school. Taking ownership of their work, time management and other essential life skills are important. This policy is intended to prompt students to start a dialogue with us about their work.

Any missing or unfinished work will have an "F" placed in PowerSchool until the work is turned in. Once it is turned in, the "F" will be removed and have NO impact on the students' grade. If the project is left unfinished, and the quarter is ending, the "F" will be removed, however, the project grade may result in something lower than what is expected.

"A spectacular compilation of student talent; writing, artwork and narration!"

LITERARY ARTS MAGAZINE - OPUS OPTIMA

NMS offers a unique opportunity for students to have their work published in our AWARD WINNING literary arts magazine. If your student is interested in writing, illustration/drawing, or narration (acting, speeches); this is a club for them.

Artists will start meeting every other Monday on October 14th, and will meet weekly on Monday starting January 6th. Announcements will be made at school. You can join the Lit Mag for Artists Google Classroom: ec9qny

ANNUAL SCARECROW CHARITY CONTEST

This annual event is a long NMS tradition, going into its 27th year! The Scarecrow Contest is open to ALL NMS 8th GRADE STUDENTS. Students have 6 weeks to construct a larger-than-life "scarecrow" with a group of friends, install it on the front lawn of the school, and then it is open to the community to cast their votes for their favorite one! All proceeds raised go to the top 3 teams, who select a charity of their choice to donate their winnings. Students who participate in creating a scarecrow will earn 16 HOURS OF COMMUNITY SERVICE as long as they collect ballots on one of our voting days (Sat. 10/19 or Sun. 10/20). The one and only meeting for students about scarecrow will be held Wednesday 9/4 from 2:30-3:00pm in the auditorium. (No late bus available).
