HCPS IBMYP Eighth Grade Language and Literature 2019 Summer Reading The Inquisitive Quest

Your journey as an IB student has been full of surprises, challenges, and new endeavors. You'll find even more excitement around every corner in eighth grade as you refine your linguistic and literary skills. It is time to investigate the world of literature and IB by reading at least two great books this summer. As you complete the activities to document your discoveries, consider your understanding of the Global Contexts and Learner Profile traits. Follow the steps below as you embark on your inquisitive quest!

READ IT	REQUIRED READING: All rising IB eighth grade students MUST read the book below, annotate as you go along, complete the IB Global Contexts Reading Log, and be prepared to share your annotations with the class in September.
	The Outsiders by S. E. Hinton
DOCUMENT YOUR DISCOVERIES	• On the attached Reading Log, identify an IB Global Context that you think connects to the plot and characters of The Outsiders , and why. We encourage you to purchase the book, and we require that you annotate it as you read (see "How to Create Meaningful Annotations" attached). If you are unable to purchase the book, record your annotations on a digital or paper-based Reader's Journal as you read. Be prepared to share your annotations with the class.
READ IT	CHOOSE YOUR ADVENTURE : With the help of a parent or adult, select and read at least ONE additional book from the list below. Remember, the second book you read MUST come from this list and should not be one you have read before. Be sure to continue to document your reading connections on the Global Contexts Reading Log. Visit Common Sense Media with your parent/adult for independent ratings and reviews of the books before you make your selection.

GRADING: IBMYP Language and Literature Criterion D: U;ing Language

	The Global Context Reading Log with Outsiders and the second book you chose from the list provided will be scored as a quiz grade using the rubric provided below.
GRADING	When you are writing the key components of your brochure, TV news report, or website, take care to use appropriate vocabulary, correct grammar and spelling, and clearly understood sentences. Try reading your writing aloud and getting a second person to proofread for you. To achieve the highest grade, you should use interesting and varied vocabulary words, have very few errors in your grammar and spelling, and convey a clear message.
	This task will be scored as a separate quiz grade using the rubric provided below.

How to Create Meaningful Annotations

- If the book belongs to you, you may write in the margins. Otherwise, keep a digital or paper log (with page numbers). For The Outsiders, create at least TWO annotations for each chapter as you read.
- > Notice the writer's choice of words and literary techniques.
- Look for literary techniques label them and provide their meaning or purpose. For example, look for:
 - figurative language (similes, metaphors, personification)
 - imagery
 - symbols
 - characterization
 - foreshadowing
- > Keep annotations short and sweet. Use your own shorthand if it helps.
- > Begin your annotations with verbs that demonstrate your analysis (see list below)
- Mark passages or words that seem to jump out at you because they suggest an important idea or theme.
- Mark things that puzzle, intrigue, please, or displease you. Make connections to other text, pop culture, or world news. Ask questions; make comments. Talk back to the text!
- Note: Though not necessary, it may be helpful to write a bulleted list of key plot events at the end of each chapter to summarize what happened. It not only helps you remember what you read, but you'll also notice patterns and make connections to earlier sections. It helps you create a convenient record of the whole work.
