

WALKING, WALKING,
Without stopping,
Feet are sore,

Need a rest,
SO MANY SIGHTS,
So many heights,

Just for me,
LIKE A PAINTING,
Animals chasing,

Racing,
Seeing flowers,

By the hour,
SITTI'N DOWN ,

To have a snack,
Now I'm done,

And the hike
was fun

Fingers shaking

Aching,

Waking from their sleep.

On a chord,

Moving forward,

Crowd Claps,

People slap

my hand,

I'M THE LEADER

Of the band,

MY MOUTH

feels full of sand.

I am the

SAXOPHONE MAN.

As I take,
MY MARK,
Crowd goes silent,
getting nervous,
I dive
With thoughts to win,
Four laps
DONE,
TWO TO GO
Heart pumping,
Arms tired, Enemies Near,
I START TO FEAR, GET IN GEAR,
the crowd cheers,
TOUCH THE WALL,
THE CLOCK STATES
dictates my fate DARN!!! one second
TOO LATE.

Dance, Dance, Prance

Class begins

Fired up jumping, thumping
twisting, twirling

Having a blast

Hoping time

won't pass

Body loose

Got the power

Class has one more hour

rhythm stays

AT MY FEET

WITH EVERY

HEART

BEAT.

Brr! Brr!

Brass in hand
Music stand
As I blow,

Nice and slow Pressing my valves

Making some musical pals
Trying to deliver A fresh sound

Flooding the

FEELING CREATIVE

Making a scene

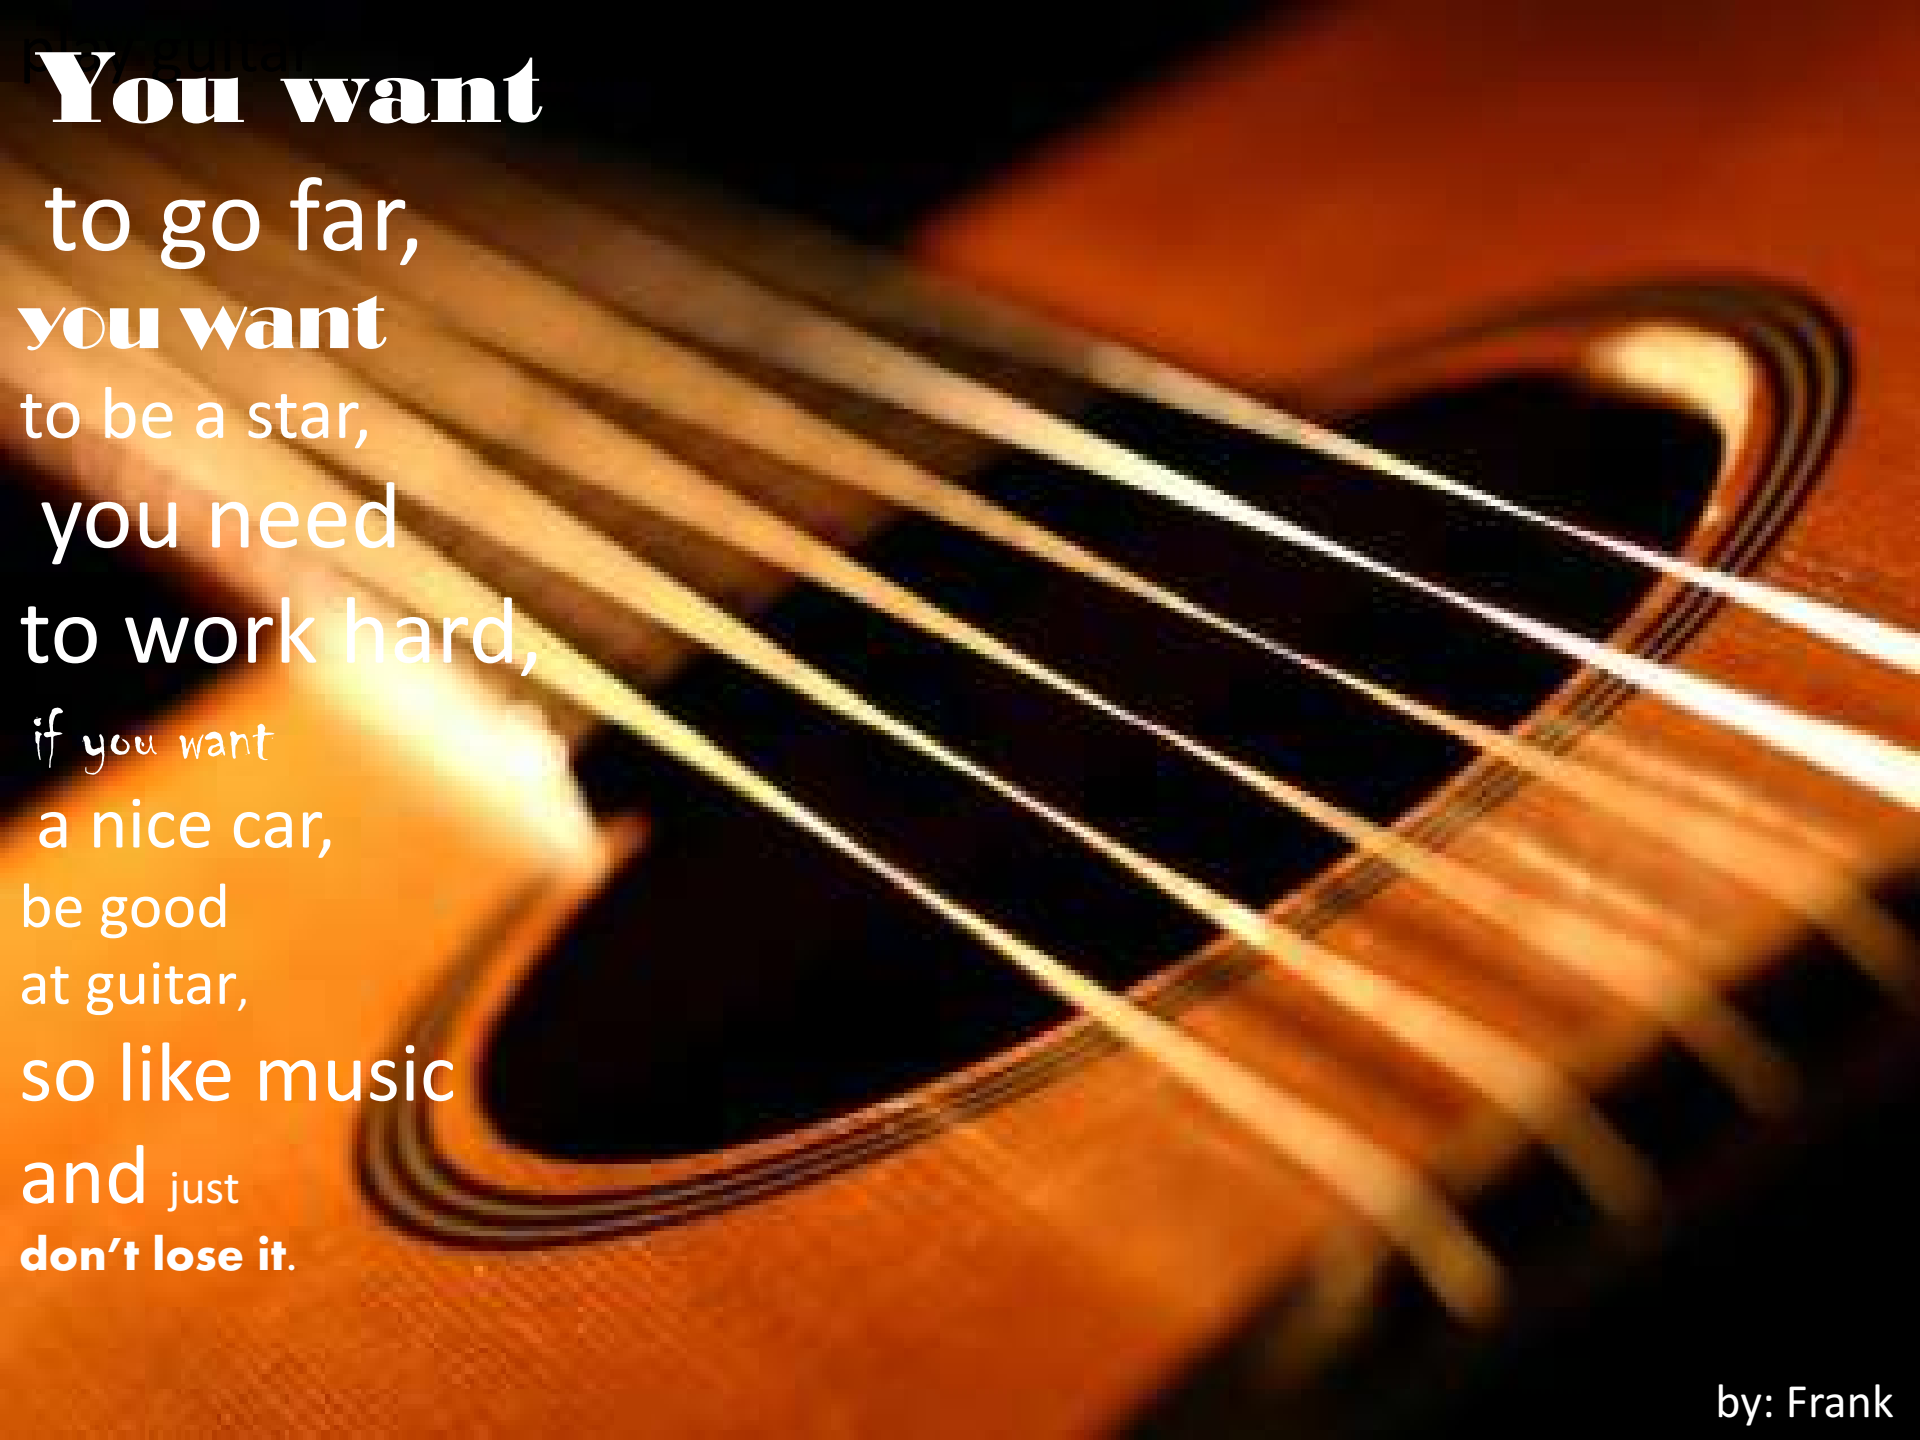

Drawing, sketching

Shading

As shapes take form

Ideas in my head

to go far,
you want to be a star, you need to work hard,
if you want a nice car, be good at guitar,
so like music and just don't lose it.

Canvas ready,
Grab my brush,
In a rush.
Paint EVERYWHERE,
In my HAIR,
No time to SPARE.
Takes an hour,
And all I painted,
A little flower.
Is it GOOD?
There's only ONE,
I'll add some MORE,
And maybe a SUN.
It's pretty simple,
But less is more.
At the contest,
WOW!
A good score.

*Got my book Got my stand
I'm in command
Feet are tapping Feel the beat in my feet Blowing the sound until my gums are weak*

*Trying not to retreat
But feeling defeat
Can't practice anymore
Exhausted to the core Muscles sore
Did my best Gotta get rest Putting my sax away Tomorrow is another day*

Fleeting, speeding
