From Dr. Padua's Desk

The first month of the academic year is over, and history is being made at Waterbury Career Academy. September was a month full of milestones, and I am grateful for the successful start of our first year with a graduating class. While every student here at WCA is equally important, the Class of 2017 will always be special. Three years ago, these young men and women had the courage to step into the unknown, and over the years, along with the staff and administration, helped us realize the vision of a comprehensive, career-oriented high school built on discipline, compassion, and Spartan Honor. Thank you to the parents, teachers, coaches and support staff for your efforts at helping build this culture of success. I look forward to the coming months.
