Science Olympiad is a nation wide K-12 science competition that is conducted at regional, state, and national levels. Solana Pacific participates in the Division B level for 6th-9th graders. (Please note San Diego County does not offer a Division A competition for K-5th graders at the present time.)

Teams and Events: A Science Olympiad team is composed of up to 15 students. The team competes in 23 independent events, with the maximum of 2 students per event. This is achieved by assigning each student to 3 events. Student event assignment is decided by the coordinator based on test scores, team requirements, event schedule, practice schedule, and student interests.

Practices: Prior to the Regional Science Olympiad, students practice for 4-5 months learning about their respective events. They practice in small groups on a weekly basis. Students should commit 4-6 hours per week for SO practices.

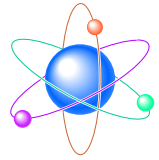

Coaching: The practices are prepared and conducted by parent volunteer coaches. Volunteer coaches should commit 8-10 hours per week. It is the coach's responsibility to prepare all their students for the events to the best of their ability. On site school meetings will be announced after parent volunteers have been selected.

Regional Competition: The Regional Division B Competition will take place in February 2017; date to be announced. Solana Pacific School is allowed to register a maximum of 2 teams (30 students) for the Regional competition.

Participation: All interested students are invited to participate in Solana Pacific Science Olympiad practices on a non-competitive, recreational basis. The 2x15=30 members of the Solana Pacific competitive teams will be selected by the coordinator based on a number of criteria, among them: test scores, student experience and commitment, student diligence during practices, and student participation. If needed, alternate competitive team members will be selected and charged the different for competing.
