Experience China Without Boarding a Plane!

For Students Entering Grades 1 through 6

Have fun learning Chinese language and culture through games, songs, art projects, outdoor exploration and simple plays. Choose one to four weeks. Wide ranging themes will vary each week and will include Chinese cuisine, Kung Fu, as well as Chinese calligraphy and painting. We welcome children of Chinese and non-Chinese heritage, as well as children with prior Chinese language exposure or none at all. Please note that children will be separated into two classes based on language skill and class sizes will be limited and filled on a first come, first serve basis.

Meet our Teachers!

Ella Liang has been teaching Chinese at Yale since 2002. She has been the Provost at Southern Connecticut Chinese school since 2009. She holds a B.A. in Chinese history and culture from Nanjing University and an M.A. in Second Language Teaching from Utah State University.

Haiying Wang, a Beecher parent, teaches at the Southern Connecticut Chinese School and Aux Trois Pommes Language School in New Haven. She graduated from Fudan University in Shanghai with a B.A. and M.A. in English and American Literature, and she received a PhD in Comparative Literature from City University of Hong Kong. She co-translated Language through Culture, Culture through Language: A Framework for K-8 Mandarin Curriculum. She also works at the Yale-China Association.

Jianhua Shen has taught Chinese at Yale since 2003. She holds a B.A. and M.A. in Chinese Language and Literature. She is also currently a teacher at the Southern Connecticut Chinese School.

Master Cunjie (Jack) Guo is the owner of the Wu Dang Kungfu Academy in Orange. He has studied Chinese martial arts and competed at the highest levels in China.

Ning Xie, a Beecher parent, teaches Chinese language and calligraphy at the Southern Connecticut Chinese School. She also teaches at the Woodbridge Child Center. She graduated from Xiamen University of Technology (a.k.a. Lujiang University) with a B.S. in Economics. Her teachers include Professor Yu Gang, a famous Chinese calligraphy artist, and Guo Huairan, a famous Chinese painter.

Rongzhen Li has taught Chinese at Yale since 2003. She holds a B.A. and M.A. in Chinese Language and Literature. From 2003 to 2009, she worked for the Southern Connecticut Chinese School as a teacher and Provost.
