Maddox Middle School

Brainstorming- Students identify (brainstorm) a list of high-risk behaviors -discuss ways to avoid them. Assessment(s) Many parts of life come together to make you a unique person. It is important to practice good grooming skills and present a positive attitude Students will evaluate how peer pressure can affect the decision- making process. Students will learn that saying "No" to high- risk behavior promotes teen safety. Students will be able to describe how assertiveness can help you be more in control of your own life. Identify factors that cause conflict.	Unit Name: Personal Discoveries
Standards 1.3a - Describing manners used in various settings 1.3b - Identifying grooming habits that lead to a healthy appearance 1.3c - Describing ways to show respect for self, others, and property 1.6 - Compare positive and negative peer pressure. 1.6a - Determining causes of teen conflict Unit Essential Questions Unit Essential Vocabulary Heredity, culture, self-concept, self-esteem, constructive criticism, self-actualization, adolescence, groomin hygiene, acne, dermatologist, cavity, respect, potential, durability, opinion, acquaintance, diverse, peers, peer pressure, compromise, expectation, jealousy, benefit, confide, refusal skills, addiction, abstinence, assertive, bully, acceptance, resist, conflict, prejudice, negotiation, peer mediation, escalate, neutral Glencoe - Discovering Life Skills Resources Role play correct manners for a variety of scenarios- ex: table manners, conversation etiquette, etc. Product design- Students will design their own grooming product. Each product must have a name and directions for use. (Directions should be based on good grooming procedures/habits) Role play- Students read scenarios of incidences of peer pressure and act out the appropriate action to tak to avoid the situation. Brainstorming- Students identify (brainstorm) a list of high-risk behaviors -discuss ways to avoid them. Assessment(s) Many parts of life come together to make you a unique person. It is important to practice good grooming skills and present a positive attitude Students will evaluate how peer pressure can affect the decision- making process. Students will evaluate how seer pressure can affect the decision- making process. Students will be able to describe how assertiveness can help you be more in control of your own life. Identify factors that cause conflict.	Time Frame:	Week 1
1.3a - Describing manners used in various settings 1.3b - Identifying grooming habits that lead to a healthy appearance 1.3c - Describing ways to show respect for self, others, and property 1.6 - Compare positive and negative peer pressure. 1.6a - Determining causes of teen conflict Unit Essential Questions Heredity, culture, self-concept, self-esteem, constructive criticism, self-actualization, adolescence, groomin hygiene, acne, dermatologist, cavity, respect, potential, durability, opinion, acquaintance, diverse, peers, peer pressure, compromise, expectation, jealousy, benefit, confide, refusal skills, addiction, abstinence, assertive, bully, acceptance, resist, conflict, prejudice, negotiation, peer mediation, escalate, neutral Glencoe - Discovering Life Skills Role play correct manners for a variety of scenarios- ex: table manners, conversation etiquette, etc. Product design- Students will design their own grooming product. Each product must have a name and directions for use. (Directions should be based on good grooming procedures/habits) Role play- Students read scenarios of incidences of peer pressure and act out the appropriate action to tak to avoid the situation. Brainstorming- Students identify (brainstorm) a list of high-risk behaviors -discuss ways to avoid them. Assessment(s) Many parts of life come together to make you a unique person. It is important to practice good grooming skills and present a positive attitude Students will evaluate how peer pressure can affect the decision- making process. Students will learn that saying "No" to high-risk behavior promotes teen safety. Students will be able to describe how assertiveness can help you be more in control of your own life. Identify factors that cause conflict.	Unit	1.3 - Explain the importance of character education for teenagers.
1.3b - Identifying grooming habits that lead to a nealthy appearance 1.3c - Describing ways to show respect for self, others, and property 1.6 - Compare positive and negative peer pressure. 1.6a - Determining causes of teen conflict Unit Essential Questions Unit Essential Vocabulary Heredity, culture, self-concept, self-esteem, constructive criticism, self-actualization, adolescence, groomin hygiene, acne, dermatologist, cavity, respect, potential, durability, opinion, acquaintance, diverse, peers, peer pressure, compromise, expectation, jealousy, benefit, confide, refusal skills, addiction, abstinence, assertive, bully, acceptance, resist, conflict, prejudice, negotiation, peer mediation, escalate, neutral Glencoe - Discovering Life Skills Role play correct manners for a variety of scenarios- ex: table manners, conversation etiquette, etc. Product design- Students will design their own grooming product. Each product must have a name and directions for use. (Directions should be based on good grooming procedures/habits) Role play- Students read scenarios of incidences of peer pressure and act out the appropriate action to tak to avoid the situation. Brainstorming- Students identify (brainstorm) a list of high-risk behaviors -discuss ways to avoid them. Assessment(s) Many parts of life come together to make you a unique person. It is important to practice good grooming skills and present a positive attitude It is important to practice good grooming skills and present a positive attitude Students will learn that saying "No" to high-risk behavior promotes teen safety. Students will be able to describe how assertiveness can help you be more in control of your own life. Identify factors that cause conflict.	Standards
1.3c - Describing ways to show respect for self, others, and property 1.6 - Compare positive and negative peer pressure. 1.6a - Determining causes of teen conflict Unit Essential Questions Unit Essential Vocabulary Heredity, culture, self-concept, self-esteem, constructive criticism, self-actualization, adolescence, groomin hygiene, acne, dermatologist, cavity, respect, potential, durability, opinion, acquaintance, diverse, peers, peer pressure, compromise, expectation, jealousy, benefit, confide, refusal skills, addiction, abstinence, assertive, bully, acceptance, resist, conflict, prejudice, negotiation, peer mediation, escalate, neutral Glencoe - Discovering Life Skills Role play correct manners for a variety of scenarios - ex: table manners, conversation etiquette, etc. Product design- Students will design their own grooming product. Each product must have a name and directions for use. (Directions should be based on good grooming procedures/habits) Role play- Students read scenarios of incidences of peer pressure and act out the appropriate action to tak to avoid the situation. Brainstorming- Students identify (brainstorm) a list of high-risk behaviors -discuss ways to avoid them. Assessment(s) Many parts of life come together to make you a unique person. It is important to practice good grooming skills and present a positive attitude Students will evaluate how peer pressure can affect the decision- making process. Students will evaluate how peer pressure can affect the decision- making process. Students will learn that saying "No" to high- risk behavior promotes teen safety. Students will be able to describe how assertiveness can help you be more in control of your own life. Identify factors that cause conflict.
Unit Essential Questions Unit Essential Vocabulary Heredity, culture, self-concept, self-esteem, constructive criticism, self-actualization, adolescence, groomin hygiene, acne, dermatologist, cavity, respect, potential, durability, opinion, acquaintance, diverse, peers, peer pressure, compromise, expectation, jealousy, benefit, confide, refusal skills, addiction, abstinence, assertive, bully, acceptance, resist, conflict, prejudice, negotiation, peer mediation, escalate, neutral Glencoe -Discovering Life Skills Role play correct manners for a variety of scenarios- ex: table manners, conversation etiquette, etc. Product design- Students will design their own grooming product. Each product must have a name and directions for use. (Directions should be based on good grooming procedures/habits) Role play- Students read scenarios of incidences of peer pressure and act out the appropriate action to tak to avoid the situation. Brainstorming- Students identify (brainstorm) a list of high-risk behaviors -discuss ways to avoid them. Assessment(s) Many parts of life come together to make you a unique person. It is important to practice good grooming skills and present a positive attitude Students will evaluate how peer pressure can affect the decision- making process. Students will learn that saying "No" to high-risk behavior promotes teen safety. Students will be able to describe how assertiveness can help you be more in control of your own life. Identify factors that cause conflict.
Unit Essential Questions Unit Essential Vocabulary Heredity, culture, self-concept, self-esteem, constructive criticism, self-actualization, adolescence, groomin hygiene, acne, dermatologist, cavity, respect, potential, durability, opinion, acquaintance, diverse, peers, peer pressure, compromise, expectation, jealousy, benefit, confide, refusal skills, addiction, abstinence, assertive, bully, acceptance, resist, conflict, prejudice, negotiation, peer mediation, escalate, neutral Glencoe -Discovering Life Skills Role play correct manners for a variety of scenarios- ex: table manners, conversation etiquette, etc. Product design-Students will design their own grooming product. Each product must have a name and directions for use. (Directions should be based on good grooming procedures/habits) Role play-Students read scenarios of incidences of peer pressure and act out the appropriate action to tak to avoid the situation. Brainstorming-Students identify (brainstorm) a list of high-risk behaviors -discuss ways to avoid them. Assessment(s) Many parts of life come together to make you a unique person. It is important to practice good grooming skills and present a positive attitude Students will evaluate how peer pressure can affect the decision- making process. Students will learn that saying "No" to high- risk behavior promotes teen safety. Students will be able to describe how assertiveness can help you be more in control of your own life. Identify factors that cause conflict.		1.6 - Compare positive and negative peer pressure.
Questions Unit Essential Heredity, culture, self-concept, self-esteem, constructive criticism, self-actualization, adolescence, groomin hygiene, acne, dermatologist, cavity, respect, potential, durability, opinion, acquaintance, diverse, peers, peer pressure, compromise, expectation, jealousy, benefit, confide, refusal skills, addiction, abstinence, assertive, bully, acceptance, resist, conflict, prejudice, negotiation, peer mediation, escalate, neutral Resources Glencoe -Discovering Life Skills Role play correct manners for a variety of scenarios- ex: table manners, conversation etiquette, etc. Product design- Students will design their own grooming product. Each product must have a name and directions for use. (Directions should be based on good grooming procedures/habits) Role play- Students read scenarios of incidences of peer pressure and act out the appropriate action to tak to avoid the situation. Brainstorming- Students identify (brainstorm) a list of high-risk behaviors -discuss ways to avoid them. Assessment(s) Many parts of life come together to make you a unique person. It is important to practice good grooming skills and present a positive attitude Students will evaluate how peer pressure can affect the decision- making process. Students will learn that saying "No" to high- risk behavior promotes teen safety. Students will be able to describe how assertiveness can help you be more in control of your own life.		1.6a - Determining causes of teen conflict
Unit Essential Vocabulary Heredity, culture, self-concept, self-esteem, constructive criticism, self-actualization, adolescence, groomin hygiene, acne, dermatologist, cavity, respect, potential, durability, opinion, acquaintance, diverse, peers, peer pressure, compromise, expectation, jealousy, benefit, confide, refusal skills, addiction, abstinence, assertive, bully, acceptance, resist, conflict, prejudice, negotiation, peer mediation, escalate, neutral Glencoe -Discovering Life Skills Role play correct manners for a variety of scenarios- ex: table manners, conversation etiquette, etc. Product design- Students will design their own grooming product. Each product must have a name and directions for use. (Directions should be based on good grooming procedures/habits) Role play- Students read scenarios of incidences of peer pressure and act out the appropriate action to tak to avoid the situation. Brainstorming- Students identify (brainstorm) a list of high-risk behaviors -discuss ways to avoid them. Assessment(s) Many parts of life come together to make you a unique person. It is important to practice good grooming skills and present a positive attitude Students will evaluate how peer pressure can affect the decision- making process. Students will learn that saying "No" to high- risk behavior promotes teen safety. Students will be able to describe how assertiveness can help you be more in control of your own life. Identify factors that cause conflict.
hygiene, acne, dermatologist, cavity, respect, potential, durability, opinion, acquaintance, diverse, peers, peer pressure, compromise, expectation, jealousy, benefit, confide, refusal skills, addiction, abstinence, assertive, bully, acceptance, resist, conflict, prejudice, negotiation, peer mediation, escalate, neutral Glencoe -Discovering Life Skills Role play correct manners for a variety of scenarios- ex: table manners, conversation etiquette, etc. Product design- Students will design their own grooming product. Each product must have a name and directions for use. (Directions should be based on good grooming procedures/habits) Role play- Students read scenarios of incidences of peer pressure and act out the appropriate action to tak to avoid the situation. Brainstorming- Students identify (brainstorm) a list of high-risk behaviors -discuss ways to avoid them. Assessment(s) Many parts of life come together to make you a unique person. It is important to practice good grooming skills and present a positive attitude Students will evaluate how peer pressure can affect the decision- making process. Students will learn that saying "No" to high-risk behavior promotes teen safety. Students will be able to describe how assertiveness can help you be more in control of your own life. Identify factors that cause conflict.		Heredity culture self-concept self-esteem constructive criticism self-actualization adolescence grooming peers, peer pressure, compromise, expectation, jealousy, benefit, confide, refusal skills, addiction, abstinence, assertive, bully, acceptance, resist, conflict, prejudice, negotiation, peer mediation, escalate, neutral Glencoe -Discovering Life Skills Role play correct manners for a variety of scenarios- ex: table manners, conversation etiquette, etc. Product design- Students will design their own grooming product. Each product must have a name and directions for use. (Directions should be based on good grooming procedures/habits) Role play- Students read scenarios of incidences of peer pressure and act out the appropriate action to tak to avoid the situation. Brainstorming- Students identify (brainstorm) a list of high-risk behaviors -discuss ways to avoid them. Assessment(s) Many parts of life come together to make you a unique person. It is important to practice good grooming skills and present a positive attitude Students will evaluate how peer pressure can affect the decision- making process. Students will learn that saying "No" to high-risk behavior promotes teen safety. Students will be able to describe how assertiveness can help you be more in control of your own life. Identify factors that cause conflict.
abstinence, assertive, bully, acceptance, resist, conflict, prejudice, negotiation, peer mediation, escalate, neutral Glencoe -Discovering Life Skills Role play correct manners for a variety of scenarios- ex: table manners, conversation etiquette, etc. Product design- Students will design their own grooming product. Each product must have a name and directions for use. (Directions should be based on good grooming procedures/habits) Role play- Students read scenarios of incidences of peer pressure and act out the appropriate action to tak to avoid the situation. Brainstorming- Students identify (brainstorm) a list of high-risk behaviors -discuss ways to avoid them. Assessment(s) Many parts of life come together to make you a unique person. It is important to practice good grooming skills and present a positive attitude Students will evaluate how peer pressure can affect the decision- making process. Students will learn that saying "No" to high- risk behavior promotes teen safety. Students will be able to describe how assertiveness can help you be more in control of your own life. Identify factors that cause conflict.	, Resources Resources Role play correct manners for a variety of scenarios- ex: table manners, conversation etiquette, etc. Product design- Students will design their own grooming product. Each product must have a name and directions for use. (Directions should be based on good grooming procedures/habits) Role play- Students read scenarios of incidences of peer pressure and act out the appropriate action to take to avoid the situation. Brainstorming- Students identify (brainstorm) a list of high-risk behaviors -discuss ways to avoid them. Assessment(s) Many parts of life come together to make you a unique person. It is important to practice good grooming skills and present a positive attitude Students will evaluate how peer pressure can affect the decision- making process. Students will learn that saying "No" to high- risk behavior promotes teen safety. Students will be able to describe how assertiveness can help you be more in control of your own life. Identify factors that cause conflict.
Resources Role play correct manners for a variety of scenarios- ex: table manners, conversation etiquette, etc. Product design- Students will design their own grooming product. Each product must have a name and directions for use. (Directions should be based on good grooming procedures/habits) Role play- Students read scenarios of incidences of peer pressure and act out the appropriate action to tak to avoid the situation. Brainstorming- Students identify (brainstorm) a list of high-risk behaviors -discuss ways to avoid them. Assessment(s) Many parts of life come together to make you a unique person. It is important to practice good grooming skills and present a positive attitude Students will evaluate how peer pressure can affect the decision- making process. Students will learn that saying "No" to high- risk behavior promotes teen safety. Students will be able to describe how assertiveness can help you be more in control of your own life. Identify factors that cause conflict.
Role play correct manners for a variety of scenarios- ex: table manners, conversation etiquette, etc. Product design- Students will design their own grooming product. Each product must have a name and directions for use. (Directions should be based on good grooming procedures/habits) Role play- Students read scenarios of incidences of peer pressure and act out the appropriate action to tak to avoid the situation. Brainstorming- Students identify (brainstorm) a list of high-risk behaviors -discuss ways to avoid them. Assessment(s) Many parts of life come together to make you a unique person. It is important to practice good grooming skills and present a positive attitude Students will evaluate how peer pressure can affect the decision- making process. Students will learn that saying "No" to high- risk behavior promotes teen safety. Students will be able to describe how assertiveness can help you be more in control of your own life. Identify factors that cause conflict.		Glencoe -Discovering Life Skills
Product design- Students will design their own grooming product. Each product must have a name and directions for use. (Directions should be based on good grooming procedures/habits) Role play- Students read scenarios of incidences of peer pressure and act out the appropriate action to tak to avoid the situation. Brainstorming- Students identify (brainstorm) a list of high-risk behaviors -discuss ways to avoid them. Assessment(s) Many parts of life come together to make you a unique person. It is important to practice good grooming skills and present a positive attitude Students will evaluate how peer pressure can affect the decision- making process. Students will learn that saying "No" to high-risk behavior promotes teen safety. Students will be able to describe how assertiveness can help you be more in control of your own life. Identify factors that cause conflict.	Resources directions for use. (Directions should be based on good grooming procedures/habits) Role play- Students read scenarios of incidences of peer pressure and act out the appropriate action to tak to avoid the situation. Brainstorming- Students identify (brainstorm) a list of high-risk behaviors -discuss ways to avoid them. Assessment(s) Many parts of life come together to make you a unique person. It is important to practice good grooming skills and present a positive attitude Students will evaluate how peer pressure can affect the decision- making process. Students will learn that saying "No" to high- risk behavior promotes teen safety. Students will be able to describe how assertiveness can help you be more in control of your own life. Identify factors that cause conflict.		Role play correct manners for a variety of scenarios- ex: table manners, conversation etiquette, etc.
Role play- Students read scenarios of incidences of peer pressure and act out the appropriate action to tak to avoid the situation. Brainstorming- Students identify (brainstorm) a list of high-risk behaviors -discuss ways to avoid them. Many parts of life come together to make you a unique person. It is important to practice good grooming skills and present a positive attitude Students will evaluate how peer pressure can affect the decision- making process. Students will learn that saying "No" to high- risk behavior promotes teen safety. Students will be able to describe how assertiveness can help you be more in control of your own life. Identify factors that cause conflict.		Product design- Students will design their own grooming product. Each product must have a name and
Brainstorming- Students identify (brainstorm) a list of high-risk behaviors -discuss ways to avoid them. Assessment(s) Many parts of life come together to make you a unique person. It is important to practice good grooming skills and present a positive attitude Students will evaluate how peer pressure can affect the decision- making process. Students will learn that saying "No" to high- risk behavior promotes teen safety. Students will be able to describe how assertiveness can help you be more in control of your own life. Identify factors that cause conflict.		directions for use. (Directions should be based on good grooming procedures/habits)
Assessment(s) Many parts of life come together to make you a unique person. It is important to practice good grooming skills and present a positive attitude Students will evaluate how peer pressure can affect the decision- making process. Students will learn that saying "No" to high- risk behavior promotes teen safety. Students will be able to describe how assertiveness can help you be more in control of your own life. Identify factors that cause conflict.		Role play- Students read scenarios of incidences of peer pressure and act out the appropriate action to take to avoid the situation.
It is important to practice good grooming skills and present a positive attitude Students will evaluate how peer pressure can affect the decision- making process. Students will learn that saying "No" to high- risk behavior promotes teen safety. Students will be able to describe how assertiveness can help you be more in control of your own life. Identify factors that cause conflict.		Brainstorming- Students identify (brainstorm) a list of high-risk behaviors -discuss ways to avoid them.
Students will evaluate how peer pressure can affect the decision- making process. Students will learn that saying "No" to high- risk behavior promotes teen safety. Students will be able to describe how assertiveness can help you be more in control of your own life. Identify factors that cause conflict.	Assessment(s)	Many parts of life come together to make you a unique person.
Students will learn that saying "No" to high- risk behavior promotes teen safety. Students will be able to describe how assertiveness can help you be more in control of your own life. Identify factors that cause conflict.	4.
Students will be able to describe how assertiveness can help you be more in control of your own life. Identify factors that cause conflict.
Identify factors that cause conflict.		Students will learn that saying "No" to high- risk behavior promotes teen safety.
		Students will be able to describe how assertiveness can help you be more in control of your own life.
Students will be able to explain how conflict can be prevented and suggest ways to resolve conflict when i		Identify factors that cause conflict.
		Students will be able to explain how conflict can be prevented and suggest ways to resolve conflict when it

Maddox Middle School

Course Name:	Teen Connections
Unit Name:	Sewing Skills
Time Frame:	Weeks 2, 3, 4, and 5
Unit Standards	Practice basic sewing skills.
Unit Essential Questions
Unit Essential Vocabulary	hem pattern notions ravel nap interfacing shears selvage bias guide sheet layout marking ease stay stich feed dog baste
Resources	Resources include all sewing equipment to be utilized during class time. ex: hem gauge, seam ripper, pins, pin cushion, tape measure, shears, scissors, tracing wheel, etc. Sewing Safety Notes Sewing Machine Students bring in their own paper for practice sewing Paper Samples Thread Fabric
Assessment(s)	Sewing Safety Test paper samples

Maddox Middle School

Course Name:	Teen Connections
Unit Name:	Food and Wellness
Time Frame:	Week 6, 7, 8
Unit Standards	 1.8a - Practicing safety and sanitation techniques in the laboratory 1.8b - Using kitchen equipment in a correct manner 1.8c - Comparing the nutritive value and cost of various foods
Unit Essential Questions				Jan
Unit Essential Vocabulary	Bake Baste Beat Blend Boil Broil Brown	Puree Saute Score Shred Sift Simmer Whip	Fold-in Garnish Grate knead Mince Pare Dice	Chop Cream Cube Cut-in Drain
Resources	Kitchen Cooking terms demonstration video Glencoe Discovering Life skills textbook Cooks.com website Demonstrate kitchen safety practice		Safe kitchen and food handling practices Preventing accidents in the kitchen Meal Preparation, Reading and following recipes A variety of cooking techniques
Assessment(s)	Kitchen safety test Kitchen vocabulary test

Maddox Middle School

Unit Name: Child Care and Career connections
Time Frame:	Week 9
Unit Standards	1.15 - Explain responsibilities involved in babysitting related to age, safety, and health of the child.1.20 - Describe factors that impact choosing a career.
Unit Essential Questions
Unit Essential Vocabulary	childproof, monitor, intruder, precaution, restrict, responsible, reliable, redirect, appreciate, imitate aptitude, portfolio, job shadowing, apprentice, networking, mentor, job satisfaction, entrepreneur, franchise, technology, credit, modify, reveal
Resources	Graphic Organizer- Keeping Children Safe/Good Babysitting Worksheet- Identifying safety hazards (Make it safe hazard hunt-Real Care Baby II Resources) Real Care Baby II Dolls- Practice feeding, changing diapers, holding, Laying down for nap. Glencoe- Discovering Life Skills Textbook Lectures
	Career Interest Inventory quiz Glencoe Discovering Life Skills Textbook
	Fact Sheets on variety of Careers ex: Doctor, Lawyer, Teacher, Child Care Provider, Seamstress, Chef, Restaurant Manager-facts will include salary, work hours, educational background required
Assessment(s)	Learn how to keep children safe by childproofing, preventing accidents, and always being aware of where children are. Good babysitters are responsible, reliable, and help children grow and learn. Babysitter resource binder
	Identify steps that can be taken to prepare for career choice. Choose a career based on interest level. Research different career choices based on contract length, salary, and skills.			