District Profile

Naco Elementary School District No. 25 is comprised of one K-8 school with an average student population of 300. Naco students feed into Bisbee High School. The school facility is a modern structure with classrooms and supporting space. The facility has a library/media center that also houses a computer lab. A multipurpose room that includes a league regulation gymnasium, a performing arts wing, a full-service kitchen, and an administrative office also support the education program.

The Naco School community places a high value on academic achievement for all students. The Board and staff place a high value on a curriculum that is rigorous, innovative and well-rounded while always remaining responsive to the student's needs. Small class sizes allow teachers to give one-on-one support to each child.

Community members are encouraged to become involved in the school. Parents are active partners in the school supporting the site council and parent teacher organization. Volunteers also help in classrooms.
