Mountain Lions, our SEL word of the week is Perspective. There are several ways to solve a problem and having a perspective helps us sometimes in problem-solving. For example, when you and a classmate are not getting along, you both may see things differently or in other words have a different perspective on the situation. And although two people can have different perspectives and not agree at least both can try to understand why the person is thinking and feeling the way they do.

Perspective is similar to having empathy because we look at the world from another person's point of view and when we do that we put ourselves in another person's situation and have a better understanding of the situation. It is important to start thinking about how we see things, how we think and feel about things. Most importantly, it is important to remember that everyone has a different perspective and to be respectful of each other's perspective when problem-solving.
