VIII. Board Recognition - Dr. Shackett

Chairman Bird turned the time over to Dr. Shackett for recognitions. Dr. Shackett presented gifts of appreciation to both Chairman Jeff Bird and Michaelena Hix, Director of Curriculum and Instruction. He thanked them for their dedicated service to the District.

A. Jeff Bird, Chairman Board of Trustees

Chairman Bird expressed his gratitude, respect and love for all those he has had the privilege of working with the past four years. Each Board member expressed their appreciation to Chairman Bird.

IX. Faculty Recognition - Dr. Shackett

A. Michaelena Hix, Director of Curriculum & Instruction

Rodd Rapp, District Specialist, has felt honored and privileged to have worked with Mrs. Hix. Her efforts have had great effects on every student and teacher and classroom in the district. Mrs. Hix has designed useful professional development programs with new strategies that are still being used today. Mrs. Hix expressed her love for those she has worked with and for her job.

- X. Public Input: Pursuant to Board Policy #1550 Public Participation in Board Meetings Public Input shall be held to a maximum of 1 hour and will provide an opportunity for any Board Member, administrator, staff member, student, or patron to raise issues of interest. The Board will receive such input without comment, except to ask germane questions of those speaking. Comments should be limited to three (3) minutes. The Board will take action relative to any items during the meeting, but may direct the Superintendent to consider such an item at a subsequent meeting.

Holly Giglio, 688 Katie Court: Ms. Giglio stated her student is currently a student at Bonneville HS in the Special Needs program. She stated that all special needs programs experience many different scenarios and would benefited to have all programs, teachers, and staff in the same location. Many times special needs students get the left overs; they need good programs to flourish.

Mary Wilding, 2431 Croft Street: Mrs. Wilding's children attend Falls Valley Elementary, a low income high risk school. Recently, a kitchen manager was transferred to another location. This kitchen manager would ensure that her student with food allergies was always provided for. Mrs. Wilding also expressed her disappointment to have the principal switched. These changes in administration affect faculty, students, and parents.

XI. Committee, Curriculum, and Administrative Reports

A. High School Construction Report - Brad McKinsey, Owners Representative

Chairman Bird invited Brad McKinsey to give the high school Construction update. The status of the site includes curb and gutter has been started, huge piles of dirt are gone, grading has been ongoing with the sports fields, stadium bleachers will be up soon, prepping for pavement has started, bridge has been installed over the canal, and irrigation lines have been laid. The site is about 45% complete. For work on the building includes the gym walls are up and trusses will be placed next week. The plumbing in the PE locker rooms has been finished and the CMU block is being laid; soon the floors will be poured. All the roofing is done, siding board is up, and windows will be placed in late July. The main corridor is not yet finished to allow large machinery to continue working in the auditorium, such as the catwalk, duct work, and fireproofing. The mechanical duct work is complete in the cafeteria. Sheet rock, taping, texture and painting has started on the first floor and second floor. Insulation is being hung on the third floor. Ceiling grid framing and staircases will start soon. The building is about 45% complete with approx. 150 workers on site.

B. Report on the State of the District - Summer Projects by John Pymm

Chairman Bird invited John Pymm to give his report on the District's summer projects. Mr. Pymm gave an overview of the 15 year maintenance plan including the work that has been done in the last two years and the projects that need done this next year and years to follow. The focus of the plan is to see what projects need done to keep things in good running order, and the best timing to accomplish them. Most of the funding for these projects comes of the Plant and Facility fund. It was suggested to involve the community, such as Student Councils, church service projects, and Eagle projects to help with the outside maintenance. The grounds crew has been set back by bad weather and machinery breakdowns. Currently, the district employees 15 people to care for 24 facilities.

XII. New Business

A. ISU Credit Union - Megan Suits, Heather Plain

Chairman Bird invited Heather Plain to introduce the representatives from ISU Credit Union. Ms. Megan Suits and Mr. BJ Fillingame presented a check to the Board for $1,035 to help cover the outstanding meal charges in the Food Services department from this past school year. These charges come from students who are not able to pay for their school meal. Ms. Suits informed the Board that ISU Credit Union is here to help with the community's educational needs and to take the stress off parents and students.

B. 5X5 Block Scheduling Presentation - Ellie Bryan

Chairman Bird invited Doug McLaren to introduce Ellie Bryan, an exceptional student at Hillcrest HS. Ms. Bryan presented information to the Board about the 5X5 Block Scheduling research she has done. She had previously met with the District Administrators and with Principal McLaren. Ms. Bryan likes the semester scheduling better than the trimester scheduling; she finds trimesters creates more work and less time to get it done. That's what brought her to research another option, 5X5 Block schedule; she feels this is the happy medium between AB blocks and trimesters. Most of her research was done in Utah schools. This method provides more classroom instructional time than trimesters. She noted Blooms Taxonomy of Learning by Timothy Baird, E.D.: Input, Process, and Output.

A. August Bonding Discussion - Chairman Bird

Chairman Bird invited John Pymm and the Facility Committee to give their reports; the facility committee has considered many options with open discussion.

- Jeremy Krupp presented the Middle school argument: best use of bond funding; limited space for trailers at current middle schools; build the most expensive while tax base is high; moving 6th graders to middle school will push off building an elementary for five years; continuity of extra-curricular programs and athletics with three middle schools to three high schools.
- Heather Lyon presented the Elementary school argument: building both schools would stretch bonding capacity; elementary school can be built in less time; current need is for elementary school; 6th graders can stay in elementary schools; special needs wings will centralize staff; nine classrooms will be open if special needs are moved to central location; less bonding for elementary school to open up funding for other district improvements.

The Board briefly reviewed the financial analysis provided by Piper Jaffray of the most expensive scenario: Elementary with special needs wing and small middle school. Both schools could be built without a tax increase; however, adding additional bonding for safety improvements and/or transportation center could come with a tax raise. Michael Keith from Piper Jaffray stated the District's total bond capacity is $70million. Discussion on the market value growth now and in the near future: the county assessor formulates the market growth rate from the assessments of 20% of the county property values, then the other 80% is based on those market values. One concern is what the immediate need is - we can afford an elementary school now, and if that is built first, gives the District a chance to increase bonding capacity in the years before the middle school needs to be built. Supply and demand eventually equal out. Data from March survey states that parents prefer smaller elementary schools; thus moving 6th graders to the middle schools creates more space in the elementary schools.

Director of Secondary Special Education and Federal Programs Julian Duffey presented information about the pros and cons of a special needs center: building a special needs center in elementary school will save money vs. a middle school that will increase costs of running a good program. It is most important for special needs students to be in an environment with general education students. More locations equal loss of program efficiency and class instruction with an increase of travel time for PT, OT, and Speech professionals. Upcoming Medicaid cuts could seriously affect district funding while still needing to meet the state mandates. If you change one thing, it affects everything.

Chairman Bird called for a recess at 9:30 p.m. and reconvened the meeting at 9:40 p.m.

Some Board members do not understand all the aspects about the special needs programs for our District. Director of Elementary Special Education and Federal Programs Rex Miller stated that the transition for special need students from grades 7-8 is easier than for students in a grade 6-8; moving 6th graders to the middle school level would create the challenge of finding the best way to meet the student's needs and how to pull the programs together. Up to twelve classrooms will open up if the special needs classes are moved out of the in current elementaries. Special needs programs in Utah have seen the benefits of having all required services at one location. It is obvious, with all the growth that boundary changes will continue to happen. Mr. Pymm informed the Board that CM/GC and the architect for the new project for the August bond will be available at the Special Meeting on June 28, 2017 to present information on the projected costs for this project. The conclusion of the discussion for the August bond proposed an elementary with a special needs center, a large middle school without an auditorium, and a large middle school with a special needs center. The bond would also include the Iona elementary roof and the parent loop at Falls Valley elementary.
