Dual Enrollment Commitment

- College level course means college level student responsibility
  - ▣ College professors and PHSC are not required to communicate with parents. You have to give permission and will have to work together.
- Must maintain a 2.0 in dual enrollment classes
  - ▣ If I drop below a 2.0, I know I can no longer take any more dual enrollment classes
- As a dual enrollment student, I realize all classes I take will permanently go on my college transcript

What if I am Off-Track?

- If you are behind in credits:
  - ▣ Credit recovery during extended school day
  - ▣ Summer School (morning/afternoon sessions for 10 days)
  - ▣ Retake class on FLVS or Pasco eSchool
    - If it was an elective, you can replace any elective with another elective
  - ▣ Credit recovery class next year instead of an elective

What if I am Off-Track?

- My GPA is below a 2.0:
  - ▣ Push for the higher grade; A's and B's are your best friend
  - ▣ D's are just as harmful to your GPA as an F is
  - ▣ You can replace any D on FLVS or Pasco eSchool
    - Only take if you know you can get an A or B, if you receive a D a second time it will count against you twice
  - ▣ Recover all F's through credit recovery or virtually
  - ▣ Attendance! If you are not here it is hard to make the higher grade

What if I am Off-Track?

- I have not passed the Algebra EOC:
  - ▣ Prepare and practice
