The KSU Academy for Inclusive Adult Education is a two-year certificate program designed to offer an inclusive college experience to students with developmental disabilities.

Our mission is to integrate an understanding and acceptance of diversity with the potential for social growth and development leading to academic and career achievement for the developmentally disabled.

Our vision is to develop a pilot program at Kennesaw State University replicable throughout the University System of Georgia accessible to individuals with developmental disabilities.

The Academy will:

- Appeal to high school graduates with varied limitations in both intellectual functioning and adaptive behavior whose disability impairs their accessibility to a post secondary general education curriculum.
- Commence incrementally, with the first cohort (3) attending classes in the Fall Semester 2009 and a larger cohort (6) beginning classes in the Fall Semester 2010.
- Adopt an application process which will, as its underlying philosophy, employ a self-selection process. This process will rely on the ability of the candidate and his/her family to determine the appropriateness of their application to higher education classes.
- Be tuition based and non-residential.

Academy Objectives:

- Create a campus atmosphere of understanding and acceptance of people with disabilities.
- Provide an inclusive college academic and social education to students who have been historically excluded from that opportunity.
- Offer career planning and preparation through on campus work experiences and a customized employment outcome.
- Support individual students' goals through opportunity and instruction
- Prepare students for a well rounded life of learning, health and successful employment.
- To present participating students with a KSU Certificate of Social Growth and Development upon completion of the 2 year program.

Operational Considerations: (Students will be enrolled as non-degree seeking audit students)
