

Locust Grove High School

Theatre Department

On May 1st and 2nd, the Wildcat Players will present Annie Jr. at the Henry County Performing Arts Center. It would be impossible to do the things we do for our students here at LGHS without support from parents and the community alike. Listed below is information regarding the purchase of an ad for our show program. Should you be interested in purchasing a half or full page ad to promote your local business, and/or simply show your support for your student, seniors especially, please carefully read the following, and submit with payment to Ali Burch, Locust Grove Theatre Director, no later than April 4th. Thank you in advance for your support! See you at the show!
