

Announcements for Monday, April 8, 2019

- ❖ Happy National Library Week! We are celebrating by having Amnesty Week. This means you may return your late books without a fine and if you ask Mrs. Smith or Mrs. Sutherland this week – we will forgive existing fines. It is a great way to clear your library account before the end of the year! Come see us in the Media Center.

- ❖ St. Johns River State College will visit with students and families in the Bartram Trail High School Auditorium tomorrow night at 6:30 pm to present general dual enrollment information followed by a brief Q & A session. If you are interested in understanding how dual enrollment works, this is your opportunity to learn more.

- ❖ Prom tickets are available on schoolpay now through April 17th. Tickets are $60 and all info is on the BTHS website. Buy your tickets now!

- ❖ There are only a few spots left for the Spanish Club's End of the Year Party at TOP GOLF, please bring your check to Ms. Echt's room as soon as possible.

- ❖ Attention Seniors! If you are interested in attending Florida Polytechnic University, there is still time to apply! FloridaPoly still has need-based and merit-based scholarships remaining for the Fall 2019 semester! They have even streamlined their application and decision process and will accept pics and screen shots of unofficial documents. If you are interested in Florida Polytechnic University, do not miss out on the opportunity for their scholarships!
