Acting Teacher Profiles

Your team has been assigned to research the following acting teacher _____ for our class. You will present your information in the form of a twenty-minute mini-lesson. You may teach the lesson any way you choose, but each partner must participate! (The only exception, you may NOT simply show a video.) However, use of photo's, visual aids and video as part of your presentation is encouraged.

Requirements:

- A typed outline of your presentation (If you need your notes to present, please make two copies! You will turn this in to me before you present)
- A five-question quiz that the class will take after your lesson (with answers).
- A brief (2 paragraph) response (one for each partner) about your personal feelings toward the method. Would you use it? Did you learn a new technique that works for you? (This may be handwritten, but I WILL take points off if I can't read it!)

Information you need to include

- The teacher's major influences (Did they study with Stanislavski? Delsarte? Did they study opera, dance, language?)
- Their major style (presentational, representational, realism or theatricalism?)
- A brief biography (about 2-5 minutes) including a photo.
- A warm-up or activity that might be used by someone teaching their method or style (You must do the warm-up or activity with the class)
- Notable people who studied with them.
- Projects that they worked on or took part in (Theatre companies, books they wrote, acting studios)
- Training schools that still use their work today.
- A complete bibliography of sources.

You will be graded using the following scoring:
