

Grady Brag Sheet 2014-2015

As of March 6th, 2015

Academics and Scholarships

State School Superintendent Richard Woods named 609 Advanced Placement (AP) Honor Schools. Grady was recognized in the following categories:

- AP Merit School
- AP Humanities School
- AP STEM School
- AP STEM Achievement School

AP Merit Schools are schools with at least 20 percent of the student population taking AP exams and at least 50 percent of all AP exams earning scores of 3 or higher. AP Humanities Schools are schools with students testing in all of the following AP courses: at least one ELA course, two social-science courses, one fine-arts course and one world-language course. AP STEM Schools are schools with students testing in at least two AP math courses and two AP science courses (AP Calculus AB, AP Calculus BC, AP Statistics, AP Biology, AP Chemistry, AP Environmental Science, AP Physics B, AP Physics C, AP Computer Science), and AP STEM Achievement Schools are schools with students testing in at least two AP math courses and two AP science courses and at least 40 percent of the exam scores on AP math and AP science exams earning scores of 3 or higher.

Noah Clinkscales won the 2015 Trumpet Awards Foundation, Inc. Scholarship to continue his education at an accredited college/university of his choice. The amount of the award is to be determined later.

Kiana Simmons has been awarded the 2015 11Alive Kids Who Care award. 2015 marks the 40th anniversary of the 11Alive Community Service Awards. The 11Alive Community Service Awards began in 1975 as a way to annually honor persons who had contributed significantly to their communities. The program honors 11Who Care- eleven outstanding local volunteers who have demonstrated selfless devotion for the betterment of the community.

Jessica Hume won Georgia Laws of Life Essay Contest two years in a row (2013-2014 and 2014-2015)

Colin Bray will be featured on WSBTV (channel 2), on October 17th for being honored as Athlete of the Week for his hard work in the classroom and on the field.

On October 24th and 25th, around 500 Latin students from all across the state met at Northview High School for Fall Forum. Fall Forum is a miniature Latin Convention where students compete in a variety of academic, athletic, oratorical, and artistic competitions, as well as attend workshops devoted to Roman culture/Latin. Grady sent 26 delegates this year, and our students performed well. It is considered an honor to place in the top 10 in any category. Please congratulate the students below on their success!

Academic Awards

Sajjad Ali, Josh Ortega, Nicholas Fritzingler-Pittman, and Jasmine Sutton made it to the semifinals of the Advanced (Latin III and above) certamen (Latin Quiz Bowl) competition before a tough loss to Walton. This is quite a feat since all four of these students are currently in Latin III, while their competition consisted mostly of students in AP Latin.

Oratorical Awards

Sajjad Ali—2nd place in the Sight Recitation contest

Athletic Awards (mens sana in corpore sano!)

Gabriel Kupersmith—1st in the “discus” throw (Boys)

Elizabeth Khayat—1st in the “shot put” (Girls)

Ellie LaRocca-Pitts—2nd in the discus throw (Girls) and 6th in the shot put (Girls)

Mack Hodges—3rd in the discus throw (Boys)

Sajjad Ali—3rd in the 100-yard dash (Boys)

Steffen Martin—4th in the discus throw (Boys)

Claudia Thrasher—5th in the discus throw (Girls)

Anna Lomsadze is a 2014 Atlanta Women in Transportation scholarship recipient.

Women in Transportation (WTS) Atlanta Chapter's Transportation YOU program has paired students with mentors. Heidi Schneider, Science Project Engineer at HNTB Corporation mentors Casey Manders, who is in 12th grade at Henry W. Grady High School.

The following students received 2nd place ribbons at the Social Science Fair: Clair Miller, Jamie Panarites, Maxwell Rafferty, Orly Mansbach, Robi Roberts, and William Chapman. Allie Schneider and Mei Nathan received first place ribbons and will be moving on to the city-wide fair.

Alana Jacobs, Nishat Shormi, Komi Siddiqui, Jordan Schuster, Tayler Jordan Aungeligue McGhee, Maysa Jhumi, and Grace Hawkins won first place at the Helen Ruffin Reading Bowl District competition on Saturday January 31st and advanced to the Regional competition at Clayton State.

Three Grady students have won awards in the 2015 Scholastic Art & Awards contest, 'the nation's longest-running, most prestigious recognition initiative for creative teens.' Clarissa Mullig received a Gold Pin for Personal Essay, one of 19 Gold Pins across all writing categories in Georgia, as well as a Silver Pin for Science Fiction Story and four Honorable Mentions for Dramatic Script, Fantasy Story, Poetry, and Short Story. Seraphina Cooley received a Silver Pin for Poetry and four Honorable Mentions for Poetry. Walden Jones received an Honorable Mention for Short Story.

On Wednesday, 1/28/2015, students and adult judges from across the Atlanta region participated in the 2015 Atlanta Regional Math, Science, & Engineering Fair at Coretta Scott King Young Women's Leadership Academy. Among all of the outstanding projects presented, the following Grady High School students were recognized to be among the best.

These projects were recognized by the judges as deserving of an Honorable Mention:

- Katie Earles & Sarah Slutsker for their project "Greenhouse Gasses"
- Cheyenne Love for her project "How Does Human Blood Immune Response Vary in Natural and Transformed E. Coli?"
- Robert Weimer and James Bryan for their project "Effects of Soul Permeation on pH."

These projects were recognized by the judges as deserving of a Bronze Medal:

- Jordan Schuster for her project "The Science of the Sauté: The Correlation between the Depth of the Plié and the Height of the Sauté"
- Bailey Damiani, Javon Sapp, and Nicholas Hill whose project "Light Organ: A Frequency Sensitive LED Sound Box"

These projects were recognized by the judges as deserving of a Silver Medal:

- Grace Bridges, Robert Brown, & Raydean Sparks for their project "Testing the Waters: Analysis of Desalination Efficiency"
- Alex Durham & Caleb Weinstock for their project "Does Urine Help or Hinder Plant Growth?"
- Maxwell Rafferty, Amber Thomas, and Drew Davis for their project "Desalination Technology and the California Drought"

These projects were recognized by the judges as deserving of a Gold Medal:

- Will Taft and Harrison Wilco for their project "Building a Better Laptop Charger: Smart Cycling."
- Grace Dwyer for her project "Windex: the True Multi-Purpose Cleaner."

The following projects will advance to the Georgia Science & Engineering Fair at the University of Georgia, March 26-28, 2015*:

- Grace Dwyer: "Windex: the True Multi-Purpose Cleaner"
- Will Taft and Harrison Wilco: "Building a Better Laptop Charger: Smart Cycling."
- Grace Bridges, Robert Brown, & Raydean Sparks: "Testing the Waters: Analysis of Desalination Efficiency"

Maxwell Rafferty, Amber Thomas, and Drew Davis: "Desalination Technology and the California Drought"

Molly Looman walked away from the 2015 SkillsUSA Region 3 Championships as the First Place, Gold Medal winner for Prepared Speech. Molly was the sole representative for the SkillsUSA Grady Chapter for this years competitions. Molly spoke with confidence, poise, and earnestness. Her speech and its content demonstrated the true characteristics that SkillsUSA promotes as key for industry's future leaders and innovators.

Robi Roberts National Center for Civil and Human Rights' Youth Activism Fellowship. It was an honor to get to know you through your application, essay, and recommendation. I was very impressed with your individual strengths and your awareness of where you currently stand as a leader. You also had a very strong recommendation letter and should be proud. For this inaugural class, there were 72 applicants for 25 spaces.

Let's congratulate these students and their teachers on their success at the APS Technology Fair.

Robotics

Three Grady High School students and their engineering mentor were selected as finalists for the 2014 Drone Prize sponsored by Intel. The team traveled to Portland, Oregon, all expenses paid, to present their project at Innovation Day hosted by SOAR Oregon and competed for the 2014 Drone Prize worth $10,000! On Friday, August 22nd, at Innovation Day hosted by SOAR Oregon, G3 presented to children, parents, and members of the UAV community. They were selected by the audience as the People’s Choice Award winning team.

On Saturday, August 23rd, the team competed in practical UAV maneuvers. The students operated the Unmanned Aerial Vehicles on an obstacle course, competing against teams made up entirely of college students and adults.

On Sunday, G3 Robotics was award 2nd Place in the 2014 Drone Prize for their work with MARTA and their practical UAV performance on Saturday. As part of the prize, the team won a prize package of UAV and camera hardware valued at approximately $3000 and donated by SkyWard. First Place went to the Furman University UAV team.

Isabelle Carson, Sajjad Ali, and Gabriel Kupersmith worked with mentor Gardner Chambliss over the summer to develop a project proposal for MARTA to use UAVs (unmanned aerial vehicles or “drones”) as part of their safety, security, and maintenance programs. The team presented their proposal to MARTA officials in July and brainstormed possible uses for UAVs with members of the MARTA police force. Their work with MARTA inspired the team to create their video submission to the 2014 Drone Prize.

On October 4th, G3 grabbed 1st place in the Georgia Regional Invitational Tournament and Showcase (GRITS) in a redux of last year’s FRC competition: Aerial Assist. Along with the help of our alliance partners Walton Robotics (2974), Westminster Wildcats (2415), and Team RoboBibb (4941), and after a long grueling day of competition, our work paid off and our alliance took home 1st place and a show-stopping trophy.

Congratulations to the members of FIRST Team 1648, Grady High School’s G3 Robotics, for winning the inaugural Georgia Southern Classic FIRST Robotics Competition Regional. Our alliance competed against a strong field of 43 teams from across the Eastern US. We consistently outscored teams in the finals, posting the highest scores seen at the event. Our win earns the team a spot to compete at the FIRST International Championship in St. Louis, MO, in the third week in April alongside 600 teams from across the globe. The current group of students, and especially the seniors, deserve recognition for the hard work and determination that brought them this win.

Mock Trial

On October 25th and 26th, the Grady Mock Trial Team had an excellent performance at The Empire Mock Trial World Championships in New York. We went in ranked 40th out of the 40 teams, and we finished 9th. Among many amazing performances, Nina Stern won a best witness award. It was a great honor for me to see such amazing hard work and growth over just a weekend.

On February 8th, the Grady Mock Trial Team placed 1st in region after competing in three rounds this past Thursday and Sunday. Along with winning first place, they were able to earn multiple individual awards.

1st Round Awards

Elizabeth Lansing, Outstanding Witness
Nina Stern, Outstanding Witness
Chandler Morris, Outstanding Attorney
Griffin Kish, Outstanding Attorney

2nd Round Awards

Griffin Kish, Outstanding Attorney

3rd Round (The Finals) Awards

Elizabeth Lansing, Outstanding Witness
Nina Stern, Outstanding Witness
Eli Hendler, Outstanding Attorney

The Grady Mock Trial Team finished a close second in the district competition on March 1st. That result, unfortunately means we will not be advancing to the state tournament. Below, are the students that won awards for their performances in the district tournament.

Visual Art

Grady placed third in the art THROWDOWN interscholastic art competition at the High Museum on March 7th. Eight teams from the North Metro Region competed in head to head art making competitions. Grady artists finished as follows: Jenn Steckl and Decker D'Alesio, Digital Photo Manipulation, 1st Place; Une Belle Revolution, Wearable Sculpture, 2nd Place; Decker D'Alesio, Wearable Sculpture Performance, 1st place; Reilly Blum, Art Critical Writing, 3rd Place; Anna Poznyak, 15 Minute Figure Drawing, 2nd Place; Grace Dines, 15 minute Figure, 5th place; Johnny Bakos, 30 Minute, Figure, 5th Place; Johnny Bakos, Gabe Kovacs, and Decker D'Alesio, Collaborative Painting, 1st Place. Grady finished third overall behind North Atlanta High and North Gwinnett.

Grady Music Programs

Mason Johnston was the grand prize winner of the Atlanta Symphony Orchestra's 2014 Next Generation Student Composition Contest! Mason is a rising 10th grader at Grady High School. Mason's Composition, Dominus for Solo Violin and String Orchestra was selected unanimously by an esteemed panel of judges. Inspired by the moon, this new piece will be performed on the Atlanta Symphony's Concert for Young People called Space: Music of the Universe, conducted by Assistant Conductor Joseph Young.

Ken Wagner from the Atlanta Symphony gave a master class to the orchestra class on August 11th and 12th.

Maestro Juan Ramirez from the Atlanta Symphony Orchestra provided master classes to Grady's Advanced Philharmonic Orchestra.

Justin Oliver and Sejin Kim both won seats at the prestigious Emory Youth Symphony Orchestra.

Julia Borthwick, Justin Oliver, Mason Johnston and Uzuki Kakinuma had an outstanding performance at the GSU/ASTA chamber music workshop. They performed the first movement of Dvorak String Quartet.

Orchestra students Justin Oliver, Mason Johnston, Uzuki Kakinuma, Sejin Kim, and Nicholas Hamilton won seats at the prestigious GMEA All-state Music Festival.

On October 22nd, Grady String Quartet performed at the Multiple Sclerosis Society.

On November 18th, the Grady Philharmonic won the highest ratings at the annual GMEA solo and ensemble festival. Mason Johnston, Uzuki Kakinuma and Justin Oliver won highest ratings in solo performance. Grady Knights String Quartet and Uzuki and Justin duets won highest ratings in chamber music!

Grady Knights String Quartet was chosen through a rigorous audition to participate at the annual Chamber Music Competition at USC. Unfortunately, one of the member of the string quartet has a conflict performing with the AYSO in Washington DC the same day of the festival, and we were not able to find a replacement in the short time span. Here is a comment of one of the judges left us: "I very much enjoyed the recording the Grady Knight String Quartet submitted and if it is encouraging to them, please let them know that they would have been one of the 8 quartets chosen to participate in the USC Chamber Day, out of 16 applying quartets."

March 3rd, the Grady orchestra program had an outstanding performance at GMEA and won the highest SUPERIOR ratings from all four judges!!!. The orchestra competed at the highest levels of V/VI. Soloists Justin Oliver, Julia Borthwick and Mason Johnston received acclaim bravos from the audience and judges.

The Grady Jazz Knights plus one performed for Atlanta Falcons Executives as they prepared the Dome for the opening game of the season. Special thanks to Ms. Woods and Inman Middle School for loaning us a drummer for the performance; Max Seldes. Our Grady performers included Henry White and Sam Wilson.

On Thursday October 2nd, Grady students attended a music workshop at Emory University Emerson Hall with master class with renowned artist in residence Daniel B. Romain.

Sam Sims held a master class with the Grady jazz Knights on November 12th.

Jacob Badgett, Tyler Hunt, and Lucy Ferguson qualified for the District Honor Chorus.

Two students passed the first audition for All State Chorus: Shann Mack and Hannah Prausnitz-Weinbaum will move on to the second round of auditions in January. The first round is the more difficult audition. Hannah actually ACED the audition with a perfect score of 90! We also had three students, Max Calderon, Anya Lomsadze, and Lucy Ferguson, that were within only a few points of the cutoff score.

Shann Mack and Hannah Prausnitz-Weinbaum, passed the second All-State Chorus audition with flying colors. Hannah passed with a perfect score on both auditions! If you know these students, congratulate them on their amazing accomplishment. Also, the Grady Chamber Singers have been asked to participate in another concert with the Atlanta Symphony! On February 27 and 28 we will be singing with the ASO and the Chieftains!

Publications/Broadcast Programs

The Southerner staff swept the story, design and multimedia categories in the Ball State Journalism Workshops Monthly Contest for May, 2014.

Grady journalists and publications won several 2014 Gold Circle Awards. Colin Bray won first-place in his category, Declan Farrissee won first place for infograph design and the Nexus staff won first place for overall specialty magazine design.

The Southerner made history! For the first time in recent (and not so recent) memory, the Southerner published a 24-page edition. The edition is filled with community news as well as following up on stories that developed at the end of the last school year. The staff worked hard to pull it together, as well as to mail off a substantial number of entries to Columbia Scholastic Press Association's online competition. If you're not familiar with Southerner Online, just click the link: <http://thesoutherneronline.com/frontpage/>

Journalism I students were treated to a presentation by a great journalists/authors team who have more than 20 published books and a Pulitzer Prize between them. Nick Chiles and Denene Millner spoke to Ms. Bolster's journalism classes about writing feature stories. Students heard about the fun interviews (Lena Horne) and the difficult ethical decisions (how do you decide whether to publish the facts and thus perpetuate stereotypes). As an added benefit Chiles and Millner are not only Grady parents, but also volunteers with the Writing Center (they share Mondays).

The Southerner staff learned on Feb. 4 that it had received an ALL-SOUTHERN rating—the highest possible evaluation rating—from the Southern Interscholastic Press Association (at the University of South Carolina). The award marks the first staff award for the current publication year. In order to be evaluated, the staff submitted the first two editions from the fall 2014 semester. The staff earned the highest possible marks in six of the seven categories evaluated: reader services, editing, news, opinion, features and sports.

The Southerner staff won 12 2015 Digital Media Gold Circle Awards from the Columbia (University) Scholastic Press Association. The tally included three first-place awards, one each for Josh Weinstock (on-campus personal opinion), Jennifer Steckl (photo illustration) and Quinn Mulholland (interactive graphic). Weinstock was the winner or co-winner of four of the 12 Gold Circle Awards. Senior Brandon Kleber (sports news) and junior Reilly Blum (general feature) each won second-place awards. Other winners included 2014 graduate Olivia Volkert; seniors Anna Braxton, Griffin Kish, Ben Simonds-Malamud and Margo Stockdale; and juniors Will Taft and Harrison Wilco.

These awards reflect entries produced between Nov. 2, 2013 through Oct. 10, 2014. Because CSPA dates its awards by the year in which they are given, they are given, they are known as the 2015 Gold Circle Awards for Yearbooks.

Grady Thespians

On October 24th and 25th, Grady drama students participated in the GHSA Region 6AAAA One-Act Play competition. Senior, Tatyana Sampson's directorial debut, Tracks, won out against competitors from Redan High School. Junior Chloe Citron was named Best Actress, and sophomore, Ben Grady won Best Actor. Junior, Cheyenne Johnson and Sophomore, Anna Hutchins were named to the All-Region Cast.

On January 10, several Grady students: Miguel Flores-Hormigo, Mia Panarites, Tatyana Sampson, and Camille Williams competed in TheatreSports on Saturday at Dad's Garage Comedy Improv Club. Not only did they prevail against competitors from Chattahoochee High and Clarkston High School, they had a good time and entertained the small but supportive audience.

2015 Georgia Thespian Conference

Our regional-winning One-Act, "Tracks", performed twice and received a standing ovation for both performances. It was the first show directed by a student (Tatyana Sampson) ever brought to conference.

James Winer auditioned for and performed in the State-wide opening number at the conference. He is the first Grady student to make it into the show twice.

Six students performed in Individual Events (IE's). Three of the six Grady IE's achieved an accomplished rating - Carter Guensler, Elizabeth Gibbs, and Chloe Citron - the most we've ever had at Grady. In addition, two of the six (Chloe and Elizabeth) scored a perfect 300, something we've never achieved before. Finally, out of the 80 accomplished IE's, the conference selects ten performances for a showcase at the end, and Chloe's was one of the ten. She performed the only monologue at conference - also a Grady first.

Three students auditioned for scholarships and colleges. Emma Mathews was called back for 15 different schools as a junior, and Tatyana Sampson and Carter Guensler were called back for the twelve achievement scholarships. Carter Guensler won the Gerald Ray Horne scholarship of $2,500 - the largest scholarship they offer. Again, a Grady first.

Grady Speech and Debate

On September 26th and 27th, the Jesters Speech and Debate Team competed at two different tournaments: The Chattahoochee HS "Cougar Classic" and the RW Johnson HS "Joust." The team represented Grady HS in spectacular fashion! Here are the results:

Law and Leadership

Grady Sports

USA Water Polo has recognized Jessie Hume, Catherine Hume and Sloan Hodges as 2013-2014 Academic All-Americans. They are also recognized as Outstanding Achiever award recipients. We are proud to acknowledge them for their hard work and dedication in the pool and in the classroom. Grady has 3 out of the 77 boys and girls in the East to be awarded Academic All American.

On November 8th, Grady cheerleaders finished 2nd in Region 6AAAA- Co-ed Division competition and advanced to the GHSA State Cheer Competition in Columbus Georgia.

Grady Swim Team is the City Champion! The girls placed first, the boys placed second, and the team won with the highest team score.

Congratulations to APS Knights water polo players Jessica Hume and Sloan Hodges. The two Grady juniors have made the Southeast Zone Olympic Development team and will train and then travel with their team to the National Championship in Riverside, California.

Varsity Boys Basketball Team who will advance to Round 2 of the Region Tournament.

Grady Faculty Accolades

Grady teacher and debate coach Mario Herrera was selected to moderate a panel discussion at the annual Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation conference: Elevating and Celebrating Effective Teaching and Teachers (ECET2). The first convening was held in 2012 and nearly 200 educators attended. After that meeting, energized teachers began organizing local conferences to inform and inspire colleagues at home. At its core, ECET2 conferences harness the power of teacher leader networks to deepen learning and to improve the teaching practice to better serve students.

Mario Herrera was selected as a KEY coach of the KEY Society of the Barkley Forum. This honor is particularly special since it is an election of your peers and reflection of their esteem for your professional contributions as teacher, coach, and judge. While a small number are elected each year they represent all the talented teachers who advance the forensic arts.

Mario Herrera was inducted into the Georgia Forensic Coaches Association Hall of Fame. Ramika Gourdine, Grady Class of '07, was at the ceremony with kind words and funny anecdotes about when Herrera joined the team. Herrera joined the ranks of Lisa Willoughby and other Georgia coaches in the Hall of Fame.

Grady Graduate Accolades

Sarah Bufkin is a 2009 Grady Graduate who was recently named a Rhodes Scholar; her sister is a current Grady student. While at Grady, Ms. Bufkin was a member of the State Championship Mock Trial Team and was also Editor of The Southerner.
