

CLAYTON COUNTY CADET LEADERSHIP COURSE CADRE GUIDELINES (REVISED 2016)

The AFJROTC instructors of Clayton County are pleased that you have volunteered to serve as cadre and assist with Clayton County Cadet Leadership Course (CCCLC). Your selection to serve as a member of the cadre was based on your demonstrated leadership ability, character and trustworthiness. Cadre defined is: Nucleus of trained people, a key group. Cadre will serve in the rank of C/Major during CCCLC.

Because you are voluntarily providing a service to the AFJROTC program, and have proven to be dependable leaders, you will be given limited authority over the CCCLC cadets and will be allowed a certain amount of freedom However, you must each realize that you too are in a learning situation. Providing each flight with the right blend of leadership and discipline will foster the teamwork required to earn Honor Flight at the Graduation ceremony. Good luck and with the above in mind, the following guidelines are provided:

A. INSTRUCTOR/CADRE RELATIONSHIP

1. Cadre members will treat all instructors with the utmost military respect and courtesy at all times.
2. Cadre is expected to carry out all instructor directions and assist instructors in any manner requested.

B. CADRE/CADET RELATIONSHIP

1. Cadre will have authority over all CCCLC cadets and will be treated with proper military respect by all cadets.
2. During the normal duty day (0730 - 1700), cadre must maintain a strict superior/subordinate, military relationship with all cadets. This relationship should be maintained throughout the entire six days of CCCLC.
3. During the evening activities, cadre may assume a somewhat more relaxed relationship with the cadets. However, close fraternization, especially with members of the opposite sex, regardless of any previous or existing relationship, must be avoided. Public displays of affection are strictly forbidden.
4. Cadres are expected to remain in the cadet area during non-duty hours unless authorized to leave by an instructor.

C. CADRE AUTHORITY AND RESPONSIBILITIES

1. Cadre members are expected to attend and supervise all formations in the cadet area. While cadets serving in leadership positions are responsible for the formation, cadre are charged to insure cadets are properly, and correctly attired, and that applicable policies and procedures are followed.
2. The cadre is expected to put stress on the cadets by energetically supervising and correcting all cadet actions/activities. The only exceptions to this policy are when the cadets are being instructed, engaging in intramural sports, during the evening activity, and the evening free-time period. Good leadership judgment should be used when taking any corrective action. "HAZING. Hazing of cadets is strictly Prohibited. Any type of physical or mental abuse and punishment is prohibited. Instructors will ... brief all cadets in leadership positions..." IAW AFROTCI 36-2001, PARAGRAPH 3.7.2. , .
3. Cadre is authorized to assess demerits (take chits) for cadet violations of rules, policies, procedures, regulations, etc. - one chit per offense unless an instructor specifically approves the taking of more than one chit for the offense in question. Cadre is cautioned/expected to exercise good judgment and fairness when exercising this authority. If in doubt, cadre should seek the counsel of an instructor.
4. Cadre is expected to serve as role models for all cadets. Therefore, cadre must insure that their uniforms, rooms, conduct, etc. are above reproach at all times.
5. Cadre is expected to assist with certain portions of the CCCLC training program, i.e. physical training, drill and ceremony, academics, intramural sports, etc. In this capacity, cadre will provide instruction, supervision, and guidance. The AFJROTC instructor responsible for a specific activity will determine the extent of cadre involvement in that activity.

D. CADRE/MT ZION HIGH SCHOOL RELATIONSHIP

Like the instructors and cadets, cadres are the guests of Clayton State University and The Performing Arts Center and as such are expected to conduct themselves accordingly at all times. If a cadre is unsure of any activity, they should check with an instructor before proceeding.

E. CADRE QUALIFICATIONS, COST AND TRAINING

To ensure quality and control and to provide a "lead by example" model for basic cadets attending the school, all cadre must complete and return the INSTRUCTOR CERTIFICATION CHECKLIST and application via email (dlwilson@clayton.k12.ga.us) or deliver in person by an Instructor to MSgt Wilson at Mount Zion HS.

NLT 31 MAY 2018.

Cadre training must be completed prior to you performing duties at the CCCLC. ALL cadre training will take place at Clayton State University June 5 through 7 June. Selected cadre will report to Clayton State University at 0800 hrs in PT gear. All cadre are responsible for transportation to and from Cadre training.

Cadre Registration Fee is $135.00. Registration is due NLT 28 May 2018. Acceptable forms of payment are Cash or Money Order only.

F. MISCELLANEOUS

Any other instructions or guidance will be provided on an as-required basis. Like any important leadership position, serving as a CCCLC cadre member will provide each cadre member with a sense of pride and accomplishment. Remember, you are helping to develop future leaders of your AFJROTC corps, your school, and your country. YOUR EFFORTS WILL DEFINE THE SUCCESS OF THE SCHOOL.
