Impact of Parent Approval

Parent Survey -1658 responses

- 70% of NT parents believe “youth drinking is never a good thing”. (6% more permissive in 2018 than 2017)
- 86% of parents think NT students have had at least 1-9 drinks in the past 30 days.
- 96% of parents believe youth marijuana use “is never a good thing”.
- 68% of parents think NT students have used marijuana.

Parent Survey Results Continued

- 83% of parents want other parents to call to see if they will be home, but, only 10% of NT parents think another parent will actually call them.
- 46% of parents would take no action if they were aware a parent was allowing teens to drink at their home.
- 88% of our parents do not allow underage alcohol use at home.
- 50-80% of parents think other parents knowingly allow their children to attend parties with underage drinking.

Hosting Law

- In Illinois, the Social Host Law, which went into effect January 1, 2013, holds adults accountable for underage drinking that occurs in the home
- If you allow or host a party at your house and provide alcohol to people under the age of 21 (or if you know or should have known that they are drinking alcohol), you are guilty of a Class A misdemeanor. This will result in a fine. Note that you are held responsible regardless if you are the one who provides the alcohol AND regardless if you are home or not.
- If a minor who was drinking at your house injures or kills someone, you are guilty of a Class 4 felony. This could result in both a fine and/or jail time. You will not be guilty of violating the law if you request help from the police to help remove the underage drinkers and stop the gathering.

Hosting Law

- Depending on local community ordinances, you may also be held responsible for the costs of emergency services/law enforcement that respond to a call, attorney fees and other costs associated.
- In 2006, a Lake County teenager was paralyzed as the result of a one-car accident where both the driver and the passenger had been drinking at a party. The court awarded $33.2 million to the injured passenger. A $2.5 million settlement was also reached between the injured youth and the homeowner parent, who did not know the teens were drinking alcohol while in her home.
- Early on the morning of April 22, 2007, a NT student and four teenage friends went up on the roof of a carpet warehouse on Chicago's Goose Island. A skylight gave way, and the girl fell more than 40 feet to the concrete floor, dying instantly. The teenagers had been at a hosted party in the suburbs.

Impact of Illinois Marijuana Legalization

- People will begin to accept the use of marijuana socially (similar to alcohol)
- The cost of legal purchases in dispensaries will be higher than if purchased on the street corner. There is concern about illegal sales rising along with criminal activity associated with such sales.
- Legal purchases from dispensaries will funnel their way to young adults and teens.
- Surrounding communities with licensed medical marijuana dispensaries will be authorized to sell adult-use sales in 2020.
- Evanston, Deerfield, Highland Park, Skokie, and numerous more in Chicago
