PROYECTO- LA COMIDA

Congratulations! Univision (a Spanish-language T.V. channel) has caught wind of what a talented chef you are. They would like to welcome you and one to two of your chef friends onto their talk show ¡Despierta, America! But don't get too excited just yet, there are several things that you need to do to prepare yourself for this big break.

1. Introducción a la comida y el país de origen: You and 1-2 others will research a dish or beverage from any Spanish speaking region of the world. In your research, you must find the answer to all of the following questions, and write them in one - two paragraphs using complete Spanish sentences or it could be completed on PowerPoint.

- a. ¿Cómo se llama la comida/ la bebida?
- b. ¿Cómo es la comida/ la bebida? (Escribir una descripción detallada)
- c. ¿De dónde es la comida/ la bebida?
- d. ¿Cuándo se come la comida?
- e. ¿Cuáles son las influencias culturales de la comida?
- f. Cite all sources used to gather information.
- 2. La receta: After researching a particular dish, you must write out a 5 (minimum) to 10 (maximum) step recipes telling exactly how one makes this food. (In English)
  - a. If it is a simple dish, you must expand it to 5 steps.
  - b. If it is a complicated dish, you should condense to 10 steps maximum.
  - c. Make sure to use ordinal numbers and adverbs to explain the order in which you take each step or add each ingredient.
- 3. La presentación: After your research and recipe translation is complete, you and your group members must write out a script IN SPANISH of what you are going to say to present your recipe to the world when you are on air. There is no limit to how short or long the presentation is, however it must include the following pieces:
  - a. A step-by-step walk through of how you make the dish/ drink.
  - b. A brief explanation of where it comes from and the food in that country.
  - c. Each group member must have roughly the same number of lines.
  - d. Some sort of visual display of the food/ drink being made. (You can use real food for this part, or you can create
