ParentTeen Connect

ParentTeenConnect.org is a free resource for parents that provides expert advice and practical tools for dealing with real parent-teen issues. About This Project:

ParentTeenConnect.org interviewed parents and teens from across the country about the issues that cause conflict in their lives, including screen time, independence, responsibility, and communication. Then we asked parenting expert Dr. Laura Kastner for advice on how to tackle these issues. Using these interviews and Dr. Kastner's expertise, we created a website especially for teens and their caregivers, where they can hear from real families, get expert advice, and learn about practical tools to help them connect and communicate with each other.

Crafts for a Cause (first pic- cards on a table)

Students around campus created cards with messages of gratitude for Veterans in November to give out at the annual Veteran’s Day Picnic at Kalama Park in Kihei. More than 100 cards were given to Janna Hoehn, one of the organizers of the event to distribute to the veterans in attendance.

Sticker Buffett by Maui Art Corps (last 2 pics of sticker buffet event)

Artists from Maui Art Corps tasked students with creating a design to encompass their vision of “Maui Strong” in a recent social emotional learning activity. Students were rewarded for their creativity and effort with a sticker buffet. In order to offer a creative outlet for our students while helping them regain a sense of ownership, identity, and normalcy during this challenging time, a wide variety of stickers were distributed for students to decorate their notebooks and water bottles

HERE TO HELP

Supporting Student Well-Being and Mental Health

The Here to Help logo was created to visually represent this commitment. The place marker—an upside-down tear shape—is a commonly used symbol on maps to identify where something can be found. Kalo, the official state plant of Hawai'i, "expresses the spiritual and physical well-being" of Hawai'i's people, and also "symbolizes the environmental, social and cultural values important to the State." Together, these two images convey a message of being present for students in the development of their well-being.
