OVERVIEW

Hello and welcome to Family and Consumer Sciences (FACS). This course is designed to help students develop everyday living skills that are useful for the efficient and productive management of the home and personal life. Basic life management skills will be taught to help students function and prosper as responsible persons in their adulthood. In this course, middle school students will experience a variety of activities that will promote self-awareness, leadership, and development of technical skills needed to achieve personal goals relating to family, home, career, and community. The students will gain a wide range of transferable skills that prepare them for multiple roles in today's society.

Expectations:

Students in the FCS classes are expected to:

- ★ Be respectful of your fellow classmates and adults
- ★ Log into the google meet class muted
- ★ May ask questions once called upon and given permission to unmute
- ★ Respect school property- computers, equipment, etc
- ★ Be responsible and complete all assignments
- ★ Follow all directions and instructions carefully
- ★ Work cooperatively as a team and with the teacher

Grading:

Grades will be based on attendance/participation, completed projects, labs, homework, in-class assignments, and assessments. Methods of assessment will be provided at the beginning of the assignments and or projects.

Due Dates:

Due dates for classwork, homework, and projects will be discussed once the assignment is issued.

Discipline:

Students who are not meeting expectations or who are causing distractions to their peers will be given verbal warnings. If the verbal warnings become excessive, the student may be removed from the google meet class by administrators and other disciplinary consequences would follow.
