Handbook of Definitions and Rules

PARTS OF SPEECH

Nouns

1. A singular noun is a word that names one person, place, thing, or idea: brother, classroom, piglet, and joy. A plural noun names more than one person, place, thing, or idea: brothers, classrooms, piglets, and joys.
2. To help you determine whether a word in a sentence is a noun, try adding it to the following sentences. Nouns will fit in at least one of these sentences:
I know something about _____. I know something about a(n) _____.
I know something about brothers. I know something about a classroom.
3. A collective noun names a group. When the collective noun refers to the group as a whole, it is singular. When it refers to the individual group members, the collective noun is plural.
The class meets two days a week. (singular)
The board of trustees come from all walks of life. (plural)
4. A common noun names a general class of people, places, things, or ideas: soldier, country, month, or theory. A proper noun specifies a particular person, place, thing, event, or idea. Proper nouns are always capitalized: General Schwartzkopf, America, July, or Big Bang.
5. A concrete noun names an object that occupies space or that can be recognized by any of the senses: tuba, music, potato, and aroma. An abstract noun names an idea, a quality, or a characteristic: courage, sanity, power, and memory.
6. A possessive noun shows possession, ownership, or the relationship between two nouns: Raul's house, the cat's fur, and the girls' soccer ball.

Pronouns

1. A pronoun takes the place of a noun, a group of words acting as a noun, or another pronoun.
2. A personal pronoun refers to a specific person or thing. First person personal pronouns refer to the speaker, second person pronouns refer to the one spoken to, and third person pronouns refer to the one spoken about.

	Nominative Case	Possessive Case	Objective Case
First Person, Singular	I	my, mine	me
First Person, Plural	we	our, ours	us
Second Person, Singular	you	your, yours	you
Second Person, Plural	you	your, yours	you
Third Person, Singular	he, she, it	his, her, hers, its	him, her, it
Third Person, Plural	they	their, theirs	them

3. A reflexive pronoun refers to the subject of the sentence. An intensive pronoun adds emphasis to a noun or another pronoun. A demonstrative pronoun points out specific persons, places, things, or ideas.
Reflexive: They psyched themselves up for the football game.
Intensive: Freddie himself asked Julie out.
Demonstrative: That is a good idea! Those are my friends.
4. An interrogative pronoun is used to form questions. A relative pronoun is used to introduce a subordinate clause. An indefinite pronoun refers to persons, places, or things in a more general way than a noun does.
Interrogative: Which is your choice? With whom were you playing video games?

Relative: The cake that we baked was delicious.
 Indefinite: Everyone has already voted. No one should enter without knocking.

5. The antecedent of a pronoun is the word or group of words referred to by the pronoun.
Ben rode his bike to school. (Ben is the antecedent of his.)

Verbs

1. A verb is a word that expresses action or a state of being and is necessary to make a statement. Most verbs will fit one or more of these sentences:

We _____. We _____ loyal. We _____ it. It _____.
 We sleep. We remain loyal. We love it! It snowed.

2. An action verb tells what someone or something does. The two types of action verbs are transitive and intransitive. A transitive verb is followed by a word or words that answer the question what? or whom? An intransitive verb is not followed by a word that answers what? or whom?

Transitive: Children trust their parents. The puppy carried the bone away.
 Intransitive: The team played poorly. The light burned brightly.

3. A linking verb links, or joins, the subject of a sentence with an adjective, a noun, or a pronoun.
 The concert was loud. (adjective) I am a good card player. (noun)

4. A verb phrase consists of a main verb and all its auxiliary, or helping, verbs.
 My stomach has been growling all morning. I am waiting for a letter.

5. Verbs have four principle parts or forms: base, past, present participle, and past participle.

Base: I eat. Present Participle: I am eating.
 Past: I ate. Past Participle: I have eaten.

6. The principle parts are used to form six verb tenses. The tense of a verb expresses time.

Simple Tenses

Present Tense: She eats. (present or habitual action)
 Past Tense: She ate. (action completed in the past)
 Future Tense: She will eat. (action to be done in the future)

Perfect Tenses

Present Perfect Tense: She has eaten. (action done at some indefinite time or still in effect)
 Past Perfect Tense: She had eaten. (action completed before some other past action)
 Future Perfect Tense: She will have eaten. (action to be completed before some future time)

7. Irregular verbs form their past and past participle without adding -ed to the base form.

PRINCIPAL PARTS OF IRREGULAR VERBS

Base Form	Past Form	Past Participle	Base Form	Past Form	Past Participle
be	was, were	been	catch	caught	caught beat	beat	beaten	choose	chose	chosen become	became	become	come	came	come begin	began	begun	do	did	done
bite	bit	bitten or bit	draw	drew	drawn blow	blew	blown	drink	drank	drunk break	broke	broken	drive	drove	driven bring	brought	brought	eat	ate	eaten

Base Form	Past Form	Past Participle	Base Form	Past Form	Past Participle
fall	fell	fallen	run	ran	run
feel	felt	felt	say	said	said
find	found	found	see	saw	seen fly	flew	flown	set	set	set freeze	froze	frozen	shrink	shrank or	shrunk or get	got	got or gotten		shrunk	shrunk give	gave	given	sing	sang	sung go	went	gone	sit	sat	sat
grow	grew	grown	speak	spoke	spoken
hang	hung or	hung or	spring	sprang or	sprung hanged	hanged		sprung
have	had	had	steal	stole	stolen know	knew	known	swim	swam	swum
lay	laid	laid	take	took	taken lead	led	led	tear	tore	torn lend	lent	lent	tell	told	told lie	lay	lain	think	thought	thought lose	lost	lost	throw	threw	thrown put	put	put	wear	wore	worn ride	rode	ridden	win	won	won ring	rang	rung	write	wrote	written rise	rose	risen

8. Progressive forms of verbs, combined with a form of be, express a continuing action. Emphatic forms, combined with a form of do, add emphasis or form questions.

Kari is scratching the cat.

Loni has been washing the walls.

We do support our hometown heroes. (present)

He did want that dinner. (past)

9. The voice of a verb shows whether the subject performs the action or receives the action of the verb. The active voice occurs when the subject performs the action. The passive voice occurs when the action of the verb is performed on the subject.

The owl swooped upon its prey. (active) The ice cream was scooped by the cashier. (passive)

10. A verb can express one of three moods. The indicative mood makes a statement or asks a question. The imperative mood expresses a command or request. The subjunctive mood indirectly expresses a demand, recommendation, suggestion, statement of necessity, or a condition contrary to fact.

I am overjoyed. (indicative) Stop the car. (imperative)

If I were angry, I would not have let you in. (subjunctive)

Adjectives

1. An adjective modifies a noun or pronoun by giving a descriptive or specific detail. Adjectives can usually show comparisons. (See Using Modifiers Correctly on pages 9 and 10.)

cold winter colder winter coldest winter

2. Most adjectives will fit this sentence:

The _____ one looks very _____.

The dusty one looks very old.

3. Articles are the adjectives a, an, and the. Articles do not meet the above test for adjectives.

- A proper adjective is formed from a proper noun and begins with a capital letter.
Marijka wore a Ukrainian costume. He was a Danish prince.
- An adjective used as an object complement follows and describes a direct object.
My aunt considers me funny.

Adverbs

- An adverb modifies a verb, an adjective, or another adverb. Most adverbs can show comparisons. (See Using Modifiers Correctly on pages 9 and 10.)
 - Adverbs that tell how, where, when, or to what degree modify verbs or verbals.
The band stepped lively. (how) Maria writes frequently. (when) Put the piano here. (where) We were thoroughly entertained. (to what degree)
 - Adverbs of degree strengthen or weaken the adjectives or other adverbs that they modify.
A very happy fan cheered. (modifies adjective) She spoke too fast. (modifies adverb)
- Many adverbs fit these sentences:
She thinks _____. She thinks _____ fast. She _____ thinks fast.
She thinks quickly. She thinks unusually fast. She seldom thinks fast.

Prepositions, Conjunctions, and Interjections

- A preposition shows the relationship of a noun or a pronoun to some other word. A compound preposition is made up of more than one word.
The first group of students arrived. They skated in spite of the cold weather.
- Some common prepositions include these: about, above, across, after, against, along, among, around, at, before, behind, below, beneath, beside, besides, between, beyond, but, by, concerning, down, during, except, for, from, into, like, near, of, off, on, out, outside, over, past, round, since, through, till, to, toward, under, underneath, until, up, upon, with, within, without.
- A conjunction is a word that joins single words or groups of words. A coordinating conjunction joins words or groups of words that have equal grammatical weight. Correlative conjunctions work in pairs to join words and groups of words of equal weight. A subordinating conjunction joins two clauses in such a way as to make one grammatically dependent on the other.
Coordinating conjunction: He and I talked for hours.
Correlative conjunctions: Russ wants either a cat or a dog.
Subordinating conjunction: We ate lunch when it was ready.
- A conjunctive adverb clarifies a relationship.
He did not like cold weather; nevertheless, he shoveled the snow.
- An interjection is an unrelated word or phrase that expresses emotion or exclamation.
Wow, that was cool! Aha! You fell right into my trap!

PARTS OF THE SENTENCE

Subjects and Predicates

- The simple subject is the key noun or pronoun that tells what the sentence is about. A compound subject is made up of two or more simple subjects that are joined by a conjunction and have the same verb.
My father snores. My mother and I can't sleep.

- The simple predicate is the verb or verb phrase that expresses the essential thought about the subject of the sentence. A compound predicate is made up of two or more verbs or verb phrases that are joined by a conjunction and have the same subject.
The night was cold. The elves sang and danced in the flower garden.
- The complete subject consists of the simple subject and all the words that modify it.
The bright lights of the city burned intensely. The warm, soothing fire kept us warm.
- The complete predicate consists of the simple predicate and all the words that modify it or complete its meaning.
Dinosaurs died out 65 million years ago. The sun provides heat for the earth.
- Usually the subject comes before the predicate in a sentence. In inverted sentences, all or part of the predicate precedes the subject.
There are two muffins on the plate Over the field soared the glider.

Complements

- A complement is a word or a group of words that complete the meaning of the verb. There are four kinds of complements: direct objects, indirect objects, object complements, and subject complements.
- A direct object answers what? or whom? after an action verb.
Sammi ate the turkey. (Sammi ate what?)
Carlos watched his sister in the school play. (Carlos watched whom?)
- An indirect object receives what the direct object names.
Marie wrote June a letter. George Washington gave his troops orders.
- A subject complement follows a subject and a linking verb and identifies or describes the subject. A predicate nominative is a noun or a pronoun that follows a linking verb and further identifies the subject. A predicate adjective follows a linking verb and further describes the subject.
Predicate Nominative: The best football player is Jacob.
Predicate Adjective: The people have been very patient.
- An object complement describes or renames a direct object.
Object Complement: Ami found the man handsome.
Object Complement: Carlo thought the woman a genius.

PHRASES

- A phrase is a group of words that acts in a sentence as a single part of speech.
- A prepositional phrase is a group of words that begins with a preposition and usually ends with a noun or a pronoun called the object of the preposition. A prepositional phrase can modify a noun or a pronoun, a verb, an adjective, or an adverb.
One of my favorite meals is pigs in a blanket. (modifies the noun pigs)
The supersonic jet soared into the sky. (modifies the verb soared)
The love of a household pet can be valuable for a family. (modifies the adjective valuable)
The child reads well for a six-year-old. (modifies the adverb well)
- An appositive is a noun or a pronoun that is placed next to another noun or pronoun to identify it or give more information about it. An appositive phrase is an appositive plus its modifiers.
My grandfather Géza takes me fishing. C.S. Lewis, my favorite author, lived in England.

4. A verbal is a verb form that functions in a sentence as a noun, an adjective, or an adverb. A verbal phrase is a verbal plus any complements and modifiers.
 - a. A participle is a verbal that functions as an adjective: Gary comforted the crying baby.
 - b. A participial phrase contains a participle plus any complements or modifiers: Thanking everyone, my uncle began to carve the turkey.
 - c. A gerund is a verbal that ends with -ing. It is used in the same way a noun is used: Skiing is a popular sport.
 - d. A gerund phrase is a gerund plus any complements or modifiers: Singing the national anthem is traditional at many sports events.
 - e. An infinitive is a verbal that is usually preceded by the word to. It is used as a noun, an adjective, or an adverb: I never learned to dance. (noun) She has an errand to run. (adjective) I will be happy to help. (adverb)
 - f. An infinitive phrase contains an infinitive plus any complements or modifiers: My father woke up to watch the news on television.
5. An absolute phrase consists of a noun or a pronoun that is modified by a participle or a participial phrase but has no grammatical relation to the sentence.
His legs terribly tired, Honori sat down.

CLAUSES AND SENTENCE STRUCTURE

1. A clause is a group of words that has a subject and a predicate and is used as a sentence or part of a sentence. There are two types of clauses: main and subordinate. A main clause has a subject and a predicate and can stand alone as a sentence. A subordinate clause has a subject and a predicate, but it cannot stand alone as a sentence.

main	sub.
------	------

The book bored me, until I read Chapter 5.
2. There are three types of subordinate clauses: adjective, adverb, and noun.
 - a. An adjective clause is a subordinate clause that modifies a noun or a pronoun.
The students who stayed after school for help did well on the test.
 - b. An adverb clause is a subordinate clause that modifies a verb, an adjective, or an adverb. It tells when, where, how, why, to what extent, or under what conditions.
When the sun set, everyone watched from the window. (modifies a verb)
Today is warmer than yesterday was. (modifies an adjective)
 - c. A noun clause is a subordinate clause used as a noun.
Who will become president has been declared. I now remember what I need to buy.
3. Main and subordinate clauses can form four types of sentences. A simple sentence has only one main clause and no subordinate clauses. A compound sentence has two or more main clauses. A complex sentence has one main clause and one or more subordinate clauses. A compound-complex sentence has more than one main clause and at least one subordinate clause.

	main
Simple:	The stars fill the sky.
	main main
Compound:	The plane landed, and the passengers left.
	sub. main
Complex:	Although the children found the letter, they couldn't read it.
	main main sub.
Compound-Complex:	The earth is bountiful; we may destroy it if we abuse it.

4. A sentence that makes a statement is classified as a declarative sentence: The Cleveland Browns are my favorite team. An imperative sentence gives a command or makes a request: Please go to the dance with me. An interrogative sentence asks a question: Who would abandon a family pet? An exclamatory sentence expresses strong emotion: Look out!

SUBJECT-VERB AGREEMENT

- A verb must agree with its subject in person and number.
Doli runs. (singular) Doli and Abay run. (plural)
He is singing. (singular) They are singing. (plural)
- In inverted sentences the subject follows the verb. The sentence may begin with a prepositional phrase, the words there or here, or the verb form of do.
Out of the bushes sprang the leopard. There is never enough time.
Do those pigs eat leftover food?
- Do not mistake a word in a prepositional phrase for the subject.
The boss of the employees works very hard. (The verb works tells the action of the boss.)
- Make the verb in a sentence agree with the subject, not with the predicate nominative.
Her problem was the twins. The twins were her problem.
- A title is always singular, even if nouns in the title are plural.
The War of the Worlds was a radio broadcast that caused widespread panic.
- Subjects combined with and or both use plural verbs unless the parts are of a whole unit. When compound subjects are joined with or or nor, the verb agrees with the subject listed last.
Chocolate, strawberry, and vanilla are common ice cream flavors.
Peanut butter and jelly is a good snack. Neither books nor a briefcase is needed.
- Use a singular verb if the compound subject is preceded by the words many a, every, or each.
Every dog and cat needs to be cared for. Many a young man has stood here.
- A subject remains singular or plural regardless of any intervening expressions.
Gloria, as well as the rest of her family, was late.
The players, accompanied by the coach, enter the field.
- A verb must agree in number with an indefinite pronoun subject.
Always singular: each, either, neither, one, everyone, everybody, everything, no one, nobody, nothing, anyone, anybody, anything, someone, somebody, and something.
Always plural: several, few, both, and many.
Either singular or plural: some, all, any, most, and none.
Is any of the lemonade left? Are any of the biscuits burnt?
- When the subject of an adjective clause is a relative pronoun, the verb in the clause must agree with the antecedent of the relative pronoun.
He is one of the singers who dance. (The antecedent of who is singers, plural: singers dance.)

USING PRONOUNS CORRECTLY

- Use the nominative case when the pronoun is a subject or a predicate nominative.
She eats cake. Is he here? That is I. (predicate nominative)

- Use the objective case when the pronoun is an object.
Clarence invited us. (direct object) Chapa gave me a gift. (indirect object) Spot! Don't run around me! (object of preposition)
- Use the possessive case to replace possessive nouns and precede gerunds. Never use an apostrophe in a possessive pronoun.
That new car is hers. They were thrilled at his playing the violin.
- Use the nominative case when the pronoun is a subject or a predicate nominative.
We three—Marijian, his sister, and I—went to camp.
- Use the objective case to rename an object.

USING MODIFIERS CORRECTLY

- Most adjectives and adverbs have three degrees of form. The positive form of a modifier cannot be used to make a comparison. The comparative form of a modifier shows two things being compared. The superlative form of a modifier shows three or more things being compared.
The year went by fast. This year went by faster than last year.
I expect next year to go by the fastest of all.

2. One- and two-syllable adjectives add -er to form comparative and -est to form superlative.
- | | | | |
|--------------|---------|----------|-----------|
| POSITIVE: | bold | happy | strong |
| COMPARATIVE: | bolder | happier | stronger |
| SUPERLATIVE: | boldest | happiest | strongest |
3. For adverbs ending in -ly and modifiers with three or more syllables, use more and most or less and least to form the comparative and superlative degrees.
- He was the least exhausted of the group. She spoke more caringly than some others.
4. Some modifiers have irregular forms.
- | | | | | | |
|--------------|------------|------------|----------|------------|--------|
| POSITIVE: | good, well | badly, ill | far | many, much | little |
| COMPARATIVE: | better | worse | farther | more | less |
| SUPERLATIVE: | best | worst | farthest | most | least |
5. Do not make a double comparison using both -er or -est and more or most.
- INCORRECT: That musical was the most funniest I have ever seen.
CORRECT: That musical was the funniest I have ever seen.
6. Do not make an incomplete or unclear comparison by omitting other or else when you compare one member of a group with another.
- UNCLEAR: Joey has missed more school than any kid in the ninth grade.
CLEAR: Joey has missed more school than any other kid in the ninth grade.
7. Avoid double negatives, which are two negative words in the same clause.
- INCORRECT: I have not seen no stray cats.
CORRECT: I have not seen any stray cats.
8. For clarity, place modifiers as close as possible to the words they modify.
- MISPLACED: The fire was snuffed out by the storm that we accidentally started.
- CLEAR: The fire that we accidentally started was snuffed out by the storm.
- DANGLING: To avoid the long walk, a friend drove us.
- CLEAR: To avoid the long walk, we were driven by a friend.
9. Place the adverb only immediately before the word or group of words it modifies.

COMPOSITION

Writing Themes and Paragraphs

1. Use prewriting to find ideas to write about. One form of prewriting, freewriting, starts with a subject or topic and branches off into related ideas. Another way to find a topic is to ask and answer questions about your starting subject, helping you to gain a deeper understanding of your chosen topic. Also part of the prewriting stage is determining who your readers or audience will be and deciding your purpose for writing. Your purpose—as varied as writing to persuade, to explain, to describe something, or to narrate—is partially shaped by who your audience will be, and vice versa.
2. To complete your first draft, organize your prewriting into an introduction, body, and conclusion. Concentrate on unity and coherence of the overall piece. Experiment with different paragraph orders: chronological order places events in the order in which they happened; spatial order places objects in the order in which they appear; and compare/contrast order shows similarities and differences in objects or events.
3. Revise your composition if necessary. Read through your draft, looking for places to improve content and structure. Remember that varying your sentence patterns and lengths will make your writing easier and more enjoyable to read.
4. In the editing stage, check your grammar, spelling, and punctuation. Focus on expressing your ideas clearly and concisely.
5. Finally, prepare your writing for presentation. Sharing your composition, or ideas, with others may take many forms: printed, oral, or graphic.

Outlining

1. The two common forms of outlines are sentence outlines and topic outlines. Choose one type of outline and keep it uniform throughout.
2. A period follows the number or letter of each division. Each point in a sentence outline ends with a period; the points in a topic outline do not.
3. Each point begins with a capital letter.
4. A point may have no fewer than two subpoints.

SENTENCE OUTLINE

- I. This is the main point.
 - A. This is a subpoint of I.

Writing letters

1. Personal letters are usually handwritten in indented form (the first line of paragraphs, each line of the heading, the complimentary close, and the signature are indented). Business letters are usually typewritten in block or semiblock form. Block form contains no indents; semiblock form indents the heading, the complimentary close, and the signature.
2. The five parts of a personal letter are the heading (the writer's address and the date), the salutation (greeting), the body (message), the complimentary close (such as "Yours truly"), and the signature (the writer's name). The business letter has the same parts and also includes an inside address (the recipient's address).

PERSONAL LETTER

Heading	_____

Salutation	_____

Body	_____

Complimentary Close	_____
Signature	_____

BUSINESS LETTER

Heading	_____

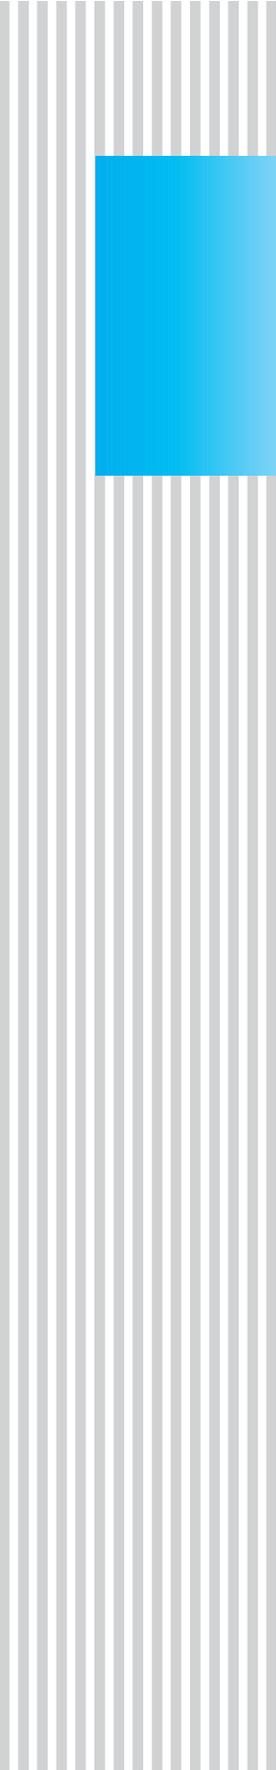

Inside Address	_____

Salutation	_____

Body	_____

Complimentary Close	_____
Signature	_____

3. Reveal your personality and imagination in colorful personal letters. Keep business letters brief, clear, and courteous.
4. Personal letters include letters to friends and family members. Thank-you notes and invitations are personal letters that may be either formal or informal in style.
5. Use a letter of complaint to convey a concern. Begin the letter by telling what happened. Then use supporting details as evidence. Complete the letter by explaining what you want done. Avoid insults and threats, and make reasonable requests. Use a letter of request to ask for information or to place an order of purchase. Be concise, yet give all the details necessary for your request to be fulfilled. Keep the tone of your letter courteous and be generous in allotting time for a response.
6. Use an opinion letter to take a firm stand on an issue. Make the letter clear, firm, rational, and purposeful. Be aware of your audience, their attitude, how informed they are, and their possible reactions to your opinion. Support your statements of opinion with facts.
7. Use a résumé to summarize your work experience, school experience, talents, and interests. Be clear, concise, and expressive. Use a consistent form. You do not need to write in complete sentences, but use as many action verbs as possible.
8. Use a cover letter as a brief introduction accompanying your résumé.

Sentence Fragments

PROBLEM 1

Fragment that lacks a subject frag Ali baked a chocolate cake. Took it to the party.

frag Maria thought the comedian was funny. Laughed at his jokes.

SOLUTION

Ali baked a chocolate cake. He took it to the party.

Maria thought the comedian was funny. She laughed at his jokes.

Make a complete sentence by adding a subject to the fragment.

PROBLEM 2

Fragment that lacks a complete verb frag Helen is a photographer. She becoming well-known for her work.

frag Alicia has a new computer. It very powerful.

SOLUTION A

Helen is a photographer. She is becoming well-known for her work.

Alicia has a new computer. It is very powerful.

Make a complete sentence by adding a complete verb or a helping verb.

SOLUTION B

Helen is a photographer and is becoming well-known for her work.

Alicia has a new computer, which is very powerful.

Combine the fragment with another sentence.

PROBLEM 3

Fragment that is a subordinate clause frag Akira repaired the old boat. Because it was beautiful.

frag Jennifer has two race car magazines. Which she bought at the store.

SOLUTION A

Akira repaired the old boat because it was beautiful.

Jennifer has two race car magazines, which she bought at the store.

Combine the fragment with another sentence.

SOLUTION B

Akira repaired the old boat. He thought it was beautiful.

Jennifer has two race car magazines. She bought them at the store.

Make the fragment a complete sentence by removing the subordinating conjunction or the relative pronoun and adding a subject or other words necessary to make a complete thought.

PROBLEM 4

Fragment that lacks both subject and verb frag The soft rustle of the trees makes me sleepy. In the afternoon.

frag The next morning. We talked about our adventure.

SOLUTION

The soft rustle of the trees makes me sleepy in the afternoon.

The next morning, we talked about our adventure.

Make the fragment part of a sentence.

More help in avoiding sentence fragments is available in Lesson 31.

Run-on Sentences

PROBLEM 1

Comma splice—two main clauses separated only by a comma run-on I don't know where the oil paints are, they were over by the easel.

SOLUTION A

I don't know where the oil paints are. They were over by the easel.

Make two sentences by separating the first clause from the second with end punctuation, such as a period or a question mark, and start the second sentence with a capital letter.

SOLUTION B

I don't know where the oil paints are; they were over by the easel.

Place a semicolon between the main clauses of the sentence.

SOLUTION C

I don't know where the oil paints are, but they were over by the easel.

Add a coordinating conjunction after the comma.

PROBLEM 2

No punctuation between two main clauses run-on Deelra ran the hurdles in record time Shawna placed second.

SOLUTION A

Deelra ran the hurdles in record time. Shawna placed second.

Make two sentences out of the run-on sentence.

SOLUTION B

Deelra ran the hurdles in record time; Shawna placed second.

Separate the main clauses with a semicolon.

SOLUTION C

Deelra ran the hurdles in record time, but Shawna placed second.

Add a comma and a coordinating conjunction between the main clauses.

PROBLEM 3

Two main clauses without a comma before the coordinating conjunction run-on The robins usually arrive in the spring and they start building nests at once.

run-on Emily won the scholarship last year but she decided not to accept it.

SOLUTION

The robins usually arrive in the spring, and they start building nests at once.

Emily won the scholarship last year, but she decided not to accept it.

Separate the main clauses by adding a comma before the coordinating conjunction.

More help in avoiding run-on sentences is available in Lesson 32.

Lack of Subject-Verb Agreement

PROBLEM 1

A prepositional phrase between a subject and its verb

agr The arrangement of those colorful pictures make a vivid, exciting combination.

agr One of those big, gray sea gulls have perched on the roof.

SOLUTION

The arrangement of those colorful pictures makes a vivid, exciting combination.

One of those big, gray sea gulls has perched on the roof.

Make the verb agree with the subject, not with the object of the preposition.

PROBLEM 2

A predicate nominative differing in number from the subject agr Fast-paced adventure movies was always Jenny's choice.

SOLUTION

Fast-paced adventure movies were always Jenny's choice.

Make the verb agree with the subject, not with the predicate nominative.

PROBLEM 3

A subject following the verb

agr On the sun deck there was several chairs and a table.

agr Here comes the rain clouds and the heavy, slanting rain.

SOLUTION

On the sun deck there were several chairs and a table.
Here come the rain clouds and the heavy, slanting rain.

Look for the subject after the verb in an inverted sentence. Make sure that the verb agrees with the subject.

PROBLEM 4Collective nouns as subjects

agr The crowd really like the music, doesn't it?

agr Margaret's company arrives tomorrow by bus and by train.

SOLUTION A

The crowd really likes the music, doesn't it?

Use a singular verb if the collective noun refers to a group as a whole.

SOLUTION B

Margaret's company arrive tomorrow by bus and by train.

Use a plural verb if the collective noun refers to each member of a group individually.

PROBLEM 5A noun of amount as the subject

agr The past two days seems like a week.

agr One thousand millimeters equal a meter.

SOLUTION

The past two days seem like a week.

One thousand millimeters equals a meter.

A noun of amount that refers to one unit is singular. A noun of amount that refers to a number of individual units is plural.

PROBLEM 6Compound subject joined by and agr A clear day and a light breeze brightens a summer afternoon.

agr Pop and pizza are a common meal.

SOLUTION A

A clear day and a light breeze brighten a summer afternoon.

Use a plural verb if the parts of the compound subject do not belong to one unit or if they refer to different people or things.

SOLUTION B

Pop and pizza is a common meal.

Use a singular verb if the parts of the compound subject belong to one unit or if they refer to the same person or thing.

PROBLEM 7Compound subject joined by or or nor agr Neither Yuri nor Sarah like the menu.

SOLUTION

Neither Yuri nor Sarah likes the menu.

Make your verb agree with the subject closer to it.

PROBLEM 8Compound subject preceded by many a, every, or each agr Many a brush and tube of paint were scattered around the studio.

SOLUTION

Many a brush and tube of paint was scattered around the studio.

The subject is considered singular when many a, each, or every precedes a compound subject.

PROBLEM 9Subjects separated from the verb by an intervening expression agr Jamal's new sculpture, in addition to his other recent works, reflect his abiding love of nature.

SOLUTION

Jamal's new sculpture, in addition to his other recent works, reflects his abiding love of nature.

Expressions that begin with as well as, in addition to, and together with, do not change the number of the subject. Make the verb agree with its subject, not with the intervening expression.

PROBLEM 10Indefinite pronouns as subjects

agr Each of the trees along the old canal have different colors in the fall.

SOLUTION

Each of the trees along the old canal has different colors in the fall.

Some indefinite pronouns are singular, some are plural, and some can be either singular or plural depending on the noun they refer to. (A list of indefinite pronouns is on page 54.)

More help with subject-verb agreement is available in Lessons 44–51.

Lack of Agreement Between Pronoun and Antecedent

PROBLEM 1

A singular antecedent that can be either male or female ant A great coach inspires his athletes to be their best on or off the field.

Traditionally, masculine pronouns referred to antecedents that might have been either male or female.

SOLUTION A

A great coach inspires his or her athletes to be their best on or off the field.

Use he or she, him or her, and so on, to reword the sentence.

SOLUTION B

Great coaches inspire their athletes to be their best on or off the field.

Make both the antecedent and the pronoun plural.

SOLUTION C

Great coaches inspire athletes to be their best on or off the field.

Eliminate the pronoun.

PROBLEM 2

A second-person pronoun that refers to a third-person antecedent ant Mary and Jodi prefer the new bridle trail because you get long stretches for galloping.

Do not use the second-person pronoun you to refer to an antecedent in the third person.

SOLUTION A

Mary and Jodi prefer the new bridle trail because they get long stretches for galloping.

Replace you with the appropriate third-person pronoun.

SOLUTION B

Mary and Jodi prefer the new bridle trail because the horses have long stretches for galloping.

Replace you with an appropriate noun.

PROBLEM 3

Singular indefinite pronouns as antecedents ant Each of the women in the boat received a rowing medal for their victory.

SOLUTION

Each of the women in the boat received a rowing medal for her victory.

Determine whether the antecedent is singular or plural, and make the personal pronoun agree with it.

More help with pronoun-antecedent agreement is available in Lessons 55–57.

Unclear Pronoun References

PROBLEM 1

Unclear antecedent

ref The wind was fair and the water calm, and that made sailing across the bay an absolute pleasure.

ref The traffic was snarled, which was caused by an accident.

SOLUTION A

The wind was fair and the water calm, and those conditions made sailing across the bay an absolute pleasure.

Substitute a noun for the pronoun.

SOLUTION B

The traffic was snarled in a massive tie-up, which was caused by an accident.

Rewrite the sentence, adding a clear antecedent for the pronoun.

PROBLEM 2

A pronoun that refers to more than one antecedent ref The team captain told Karen to take her guard position.

ref The buses came early for the students, but they were not ready.

SOLUTION A

The team captain told Karen to take the captain's guard position.

Substitute a noun for the pronoun.

SOLUTION B

Because the buses came early, the students were not ready.

Rewrite the sentence, eliminating the pronoun.

PROBLEM 3Indefinite uses of you or they ref In those hills you rarely see mountain lions.

ref In some movies they have too much violence..

SOLUTION A

In those hills hikers rarely see mountain lions.

Substitute a noun for the pronoun.

SOLUTION B

Some movies have too much violence.

Eliminate the pronoun entirely.

More help in making clear pronoun references is available in Lesson 58.

Shifts in Pronouns

PROBLEM 1

Incorrect shift in person between two pronouns

- pro* They went to the stadium for the game, but you could not find a place to park.
- pro* One needs to remember to always keep their study time free from other commitments.
- pro* We were on the hill at dawn, and you could see the most wondrous sunrise.

Incorrect pronoun shifts occur when a writer or speaker uses a pronoun in one person and then illogically shifts to a pronoun in another person.

SOLUTION A

They went to the stadium for the game, but they could not find a place to park.

One needs to remember to always keep one's study time free from other commitments.

Replace the incorrect pronoun with a pronoun that agrees with its antecedent.

SOLUTION B

We were on the hill at dawn, and Mary and I could see the most wondrous sunrise.

Replace the incorrect pronoun with an appropriate noun.

More help in eliminating incorrect pronoun shifts is available in Lessons 52–58.

Shift in Verb Tenses

PROBLEM 1

Unnecessary shifts in tense shift t Akira waits for the bus and worked on the computer.

shift t Jenny hit the home run and runs around the bases.

Two or more events occurring at the same time must have the same verb tense.

SOLUTION

Akira waits for the bus and works on the computer.

Jenny hit the home run and ran around the bases.

Use the same tense for both verbs.

PROBLEM 2

Tenses do not indicate that one event precedes or succeeds another shift t By the time the movie finally started, we waited impatiently through ten minutes of commercials.

If events being described occurred at different times, shift tenses to show that one event precedes or follows another.

SOLUTION

By the time the movie finally started, we had waited impatiently through ten minutes of commercials.

Use the past perfect tense for the earlier of two actions to indicate that one action began and ended before another action began.

More help with shifts in verb tenses is available in Lessons 38–40 and 42.

Incorrect Verb Tenses or Forms

PROBLEM 1

Incorrect or missing verb endings tense Ricardo said it snow last night.

tense Karen and her family travel to Costa Rica last year.

SOLUTION

Ricardo said it snowed last night.

Karen and her family traveled to Costa Rica last year.

Regular verbs form the past tense and the past participle by adding -ed.

PROBLEM 2

Improper formation of irregular verbs tense The sun rised out of scarlet clouds into a clear, blue sky.

SOLUTION

The sun rose out of scarlet clouds into a clear, blue sky.

An irregular verb forms its past tense and past participle in some way other than by adding -ed.

PROBLEM 3

Confusion between the past form of the verb and the past participle tense The horses have ate their feed already.

tense The coach has wore the old team jacket to every graduation.

SOLUTION

The horses have eaten their feed already.

The coach has worn the old team jacket to every graduation.

When you use the auxiliary verb have, use the past participle form of an irregular verb, not its simple past form.

PROBLEM 4Improper use of the past participle tense Deemee drawn the winning ticket for the door prize at the dance.

tense The old rowboat sunk just below the surface of the lake.

Past participles of irregular verbs cannot stand alone as verbs. They must be used in conjunction with a form of the auxiliary verb have.

Deemee had drawn the winning ticket for the door prize at the dance.

The old rowboat had sunk just below the surface of the lake.

Form a complete verb by adding a form of the auxiliary verb have to the past participle.

Deemee drew the winning ticket for the door prize at the dance.

The old rowboat sank just below the surface of the lake.

Use the simple past form of the verb instead of the past participle.

More help with correct verb forms is available in Lessons 36, 37, and 41.

Misplaced or Dangling Modifiers

PROBLEM 1

Misplaced modifier

mod Untended and overgrown since last summer, Marlene helped Keshia in her garden.

mod Sarah won the jumping contest with her mother's horse, wearing western riding gear.

SOLUTION

Marlene helped Keshia in her garden, untended and overgrown since last summer.

Wearing western riding gear, Sarah won the jumping contest with her mother's horse.

Place the modifying phrase as close as possible to the word or words it modifies.

PROBLEM 2

Misplacing the adverb only mod Akiko only runs hurdles in track.

SOLUTION

Only Akiko runs hurdles in track.

Akiko runs only hurdles in track.

Akiko runs hurdles only in track.

Each time only is moved in the sentence, the meaning of the sentence changes. Place the adverb immediately before the word or group of words it is to modify.

PROBLEM 3

Dangling modifiers

- mod* Branches swaying in the breeze, we rested in the shade.
- mod* Trying out the new exercise equipment, the new gym is a great improvement over the old one.

A dangling modifier does not modify any word in the sentence.

SOLUTION

Branches swaying in the breeze, the tree provided us with shade.

Trying out the new exercise equipment, Mary said the new gym is a great improvement over the old one.

Add a noun to which the dangling phrase clearly refers. You might have to add or change other words, as well.

More help with misplaced or dangling modifiers is available in Lesson 64.

Misplaced or Missing Possessive Apostrophes

PROBLEM 1

Singular nouns

poss Charles car is the white one, but Jamals is the red convertible.

SOLUTION

Charles's car is the white one, but Jamal's is the red convertible.

To form the possessive of a singular noun, even one that ends in -s, use an apostrophe and an -s at the end of the word.

PROBLEM 2

Plural nouns that end in -s poss The seven maple trees cool, delicious shade is the best in the park.

SOLUTION

The seven maple trees' cool, delicious shade is the best in the park.

To form the possessive of a plural noun that ends in -s, use an apostrophe by itself after the final -s.

PROBLEM 3

Plural nouns that do not end in -s poss The childrens movies are on that rack next to the nature films.

SOLUTION

The children's movies are on that rack next to the nature films.

Form the possessive of a plural noun that does not end in -s by using an apostrophe and -s at the end of the word.

PROBLEM 4

Pronouns

poss That painting cannot be just anybody's work.

poss Their's is the trophy in the center of the display case.

SOLUTION A

That painting cannot be just anybody's work.

Form the possessive of a singular indefinite pronoun by adding an apostrophe and -s to it.

SOLUTION B

Theirs is the trophy in the center of the display case.

With any of the possessive personal pronouns, do not use an apostrophe.

PROBLEM 5

Confusing its with it's poss The computer is booting up; I see it's power light blinking.

poss Its going to be a great victory party.

SOLUTION

The computer is booting up; I see its power light blinking.

It's going to be a great victory party.

It's is the contraction of it is, not the possessive of it.

More help with apostrophes and possessives is available in Lessons 3 and 89.

Missing Commas with Nonessential Elements

PROBLEM 1

Missing commas with nonessential participles, infinitives, and their phrases

com Lois scowling fiercely turned her back on Clark.

com The detective mystified by the fresh clue scratched his head in bewilderment.

com Television to tell the truth just doesn't interest me.

SOLUTION

Lois, scowling fiercely, turned her back on Clark.

The detective, mystified by the fresh clue, scratched his head in bewilderment.

Television, to tell the truth, just doesn't interest me.

If the participle, infinitive, or phrase is not essential to the meaning of the sentence, set off the phrase with commas.

PROBLEM 2

Missing commas with nonessential adjective clauses

com The sailboat which looked like a toy in the storm rounded the point into the breakwater.

SOLUTION

The sailboat, which looked like a toy in the storm, rounded the point into the breakwater.

If the clause is not essential to the meaning of the sentence, set it off with commas.

PROBLEM 3

Missing commas with nonessential appositives

com The palomino, a beautiful horse with almost golden hair, is often seen in parades.

SOLUTION

The palomino, a beautiful horse with almost golden hair, is often seen in parades.

If the appositive is not essential to the meaning of the sentence, set it off with commas.

PROBLEM 4

Missing commas with interjections and parenthetical expressions

com Wow, did you see that falling star?

com I would have told you, by the way, but you weren't home.

SOLUTION

Wow, did you see that falling star?

I would have told you, by the way, but you weren't home.

Set off the interjection or parenthetical expression with commas.

More help with commas and nonessential elements is available in Lesson 78.

Missing Commas in a Series

PROBLEM 1

Commas missing in a series of words, phrases, or clauses

- s com Mona said that Amy Tan, James Baldwin, and Charles Dickens were her favorite authors.
- s com Sailing on the Great Lakes can be as challenging, adventurous, and rewarding as sailing on the ocean.
- s com Our forensic team practiced hard, did their research, and used all their wit and intelligence to win the championship.
- s com The wind shifted, the clouds parted, and the sunlight streamed down.

SOLUTION

Mona said that Amy Tan, James Baldwin, and Charles Dickens were her favorite authors.

Sailing on the Great Lakes can be as challenging, adventurous, and rewarding as sailing on the ocean.

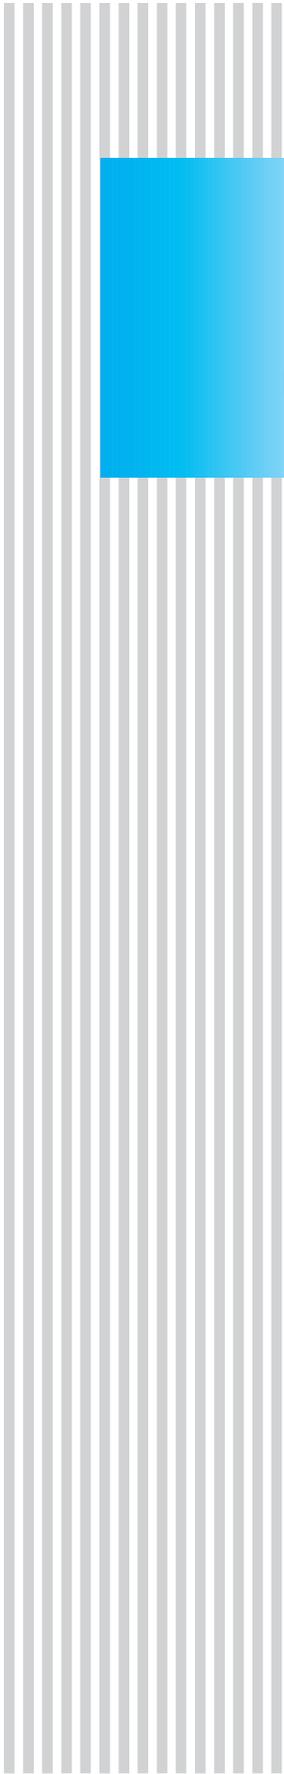

Our forensic team practiced hard, did their research, and used all their wit and intelligence to win the championship.

The wind shifted, the clouds parted, and the sunlight streamed down.

Use a comma after each item in a series except the last.

More help with commas is available in Lessons 76–82.

Grammar

Unit 1: Parts of Speech

Lesson 1

Nouns: Concrete, Abstract, and Collective

A noun is a word that names a person, place, thing, or idea. A singular noun names one person, place, thing, or idea, and a plural noun names more than one.

	SINGULAR	PLURAL

- 30. The Americans and the Chinese were trading partners for a century.

► Writing Link Write a paragraph about the plot of your favorite movie. Use proper and common nouns.

Lesson 3Pronouns: Personal and Possessive; Reflexive and Intensive

A pronoun is a word that takes the place of a noun, a group of words acting as a noun, or another pronoun. A personal pronoun refers to a specific person or thing by indicating the person speaking (the first person), the person being addressed (the second person), or any other person or thing being discussed (the third person).

	SINGULAR	PLURAL
First person	I, me	we, us
Second person	you	you
Third person	he, him, she, her, it	they, them

A possessive pronoun shows possession or control. It takes the place of a possessive noun.

	SINGULAR	PLURAL
First person	my, mine	our, ours
Second person	your, yours	your, yours
Third person	his, her, hers, its	their, theirs

► Exercise 1 Underline each personal pronoun and circle each possessive pronoun.

I told her that it was yours.

- Carlos read the story to his younger brother.
- She brought them to the skating rink yesterday.
- They swim in their pool each day during the summer.
- Your dog is begging you to feed him.
- I lost their video somewhere between the library and my house.
- She granted us the time we needed to complete the assignment.
- You first organized the recycling campaign with their assistance.
- Can we ask her to join us for lunch?
- He played Felix in our production of The Odd Couple.
- Candice called them before they left for the airport.
- The snow covered the windshield of his car.
- Did you enjoy their convention as much as we did?
- Our wagon creaked under the pressure of its weight.
- We studied their arguments carefully before making our final decision.

15. Carl wrote them a letter of recommendation about her.
16. You could be mistaken about him.
17. If you don't like yours, you can have some of mine.
18. They returned to the football game before it was over.
19. I cannot decide which book she would prefer.
20. He owes her an apology for his inconsiderate remark.

A reflexive pronoun refers to a noun or another pronoun and indicates that the same person or thing is involved. An intensive pronoun adds emphasis to a noun or another pronoun.

He surprised himself by breaking the home-run record. (reflexive)

Leo himself prepared the main course. (intensive)

	SINGULAR	PLURAL
First person	myself	ourselves
Second person	yourself	yourselves
Third person	himself, herself, itself	themselves

► Exercise 2 Underline each reflexive pronoun and circle each intensive pronoun.

She helped herself by finishing her homework early.

1. The puppy scared itself by watching its shadow.
2. You yourselves can lead the singing tonight.
3. He bought himself a computer at the garage sale.
4. I myself forgot to bring the luggage.
5. They voted for the unknown candidate themselves.
6. You let yourself eat too much chocolate.
7. Bonita composed the music playing in the background herself.
8. We will learn the new dance ourselves.
9. Did you yourself advance in the standings after the first round of play?
10. They allowed themselves plenty of time to reach the arena.
11. He himself assured us it would not rain on our picnic.
12. The train itself seemed to stop suddenly.
13. We promised ourselves we would see that movie Friday night.
14. You have visited Virginia many times yourself.

Lesson 4Pronouns: Interrogative and Relative; Demonstrative and Indefinite

An interrogative pronoun is used to form questions. Interrogative pronouns are who, whom, whose, what, and which. Other forms of the interrogative pronouns are whoever, whomever, whosoever, whatever, and whichever.

Who is planning to attend the silent auction?

Whatever are the Wilsons going to do with the leftover potato salad?

A relative pronoun is used to begin a special subject-verb word group called a subordinate clause (see Lesson 24).

The tour guide says this is the invention that changed history.

RELATIVE PRONOUNS

who	whom	what	which	that whoever	whomever	whatever	whichever	whose ► Exercise 1 Underline each interrogative pronoun and circle each relative pronoun.

Unit 4: Clauses and Sentence Structure

Lesson 24

Main and Subordinate Clauses

A main clause is a group of words that contains a complete subject and a complete predicate. Also known as an independent clause, a main clause can stand alone as a complete sentence.

A light gray wall served as background for Lisel’s paintings.

A subordinate clause also contains a subject and a predicate but cannot stand alone. Because it depends on a main clause to make sense, it is also known as a dependent clause. Usually, a subordinating conjunction introduces a subordinate clause, although it may begin with a relative pronoun (such as who, whose, whom, which, that, or what) or a relative adverb (such as when, where, or why.) In some subordinate clauses, the connecting word also serves as the subject of the clause.

Lisel’s paintings stood out vividly when they were displayed against a neutral background.

The clown who left his red nose in the dressing room should report to Lost and Found. (The relative pronoun who, which connects the clauses, is the subject of the subordinate clause.)

SUBORDINATING CONJUNCTIONS

Time: after as, as soon as, before, since, until, when, whenever, while

Place: where, wherever Manner: as, as if, as though

Cause: as, because, inasmuch as, since, so that

Concession: although, even though, though

Condition: if, than, unless ▶ Exercise 1 Check (✓) the blank before each sentence that contains a subordinate clause.

► Writing Link Write a sentence that contains at least two subordinate clauses.

Lesson 25Simple and Compound Sentences

A simple sentence has one complete subject and one complete predicate. The subject, the predicate, or both may be compound.

SUBJECT	PREDICATE
Long strands of ivy	curled around the window ledge.
Ivy and juniper	filled the flower boxes.
Plants	breathe air and absorb sunlight.

Two or more simple sentences, each considered a main clause, comprise a compound sentence. Main clauses can be joined to build a compound sentence by using a comma followed by a conjunction such as or, and, or but. However, a conjunction is not necessary to form a compound sentence. A semicolon may be used to join two main clauses without a conjunction. A semicolon is also used before a conjunctive adverb, such as moreover.

Spring arrived late this year, but Mona's garden was as beautiful as ever.
 Spring arrived late this year; Mona's garden was as beautiful as ever.
 Spring arrived late this year; however, Mona's garden was as beautiful as ever.

► Exercise 1 Write in the blank whether the sentence is simple or compound.

Lesson 26Complex and Compound-Complex Sentences

A complex sentence contains a main clause and one or more subordinate clauses.

MAIN CLAUSE	SUBORDINATE CLAUSE
We played charades by candlelight	when the electricity went out.

Do not be confused by the electricity went out, which is a complete sentence (or main clause). The complete subordinate clause is when the electricity went out, which cannot stand alone as a sentence.

A compound-complex sentence has more than one main clause and one or more subordinate clauses.

SUBORDINATE CLAUSE	MAIN CLAUSE	MAIN CLAUSE
Whenever we have an ice storm,	the twins go skating,	and I enjoy the peace.

► Exercise 1 Draw one line under each main clause and two lines under each subordinate clause. Write C in the blank if the sentence is complex and CC if it is compound-complex.

► Writing Link Describe a familiar setting. Use at least two complex sentences and one compound-complex sentence.

Lesson 27Adjective Clauses

When a subordinate clause modifies a noun or a pronoun it is called an adjective clause. Often, an adjective clause is introduced by a relative pronoun. An adjective clause can also begin with where or when.

The present that I bought for Ron's birthday was lost when I moved. (modifies the noun present)

Do you know anyone who will lend me a computer? (modifies the pronoun anyone)

RELATIVE PRONOUNS

that	whom	whomever
which	whose	what
who	whoever	whatever

► Exercise 1 Draw one line under each adjective clause and two lines under each word that introduces an adjective clause.

19. Kahlil ate two eggs besides the pancakes.
20. Please hand me the jars, those with the green labels.

Unit 5: Diagramming Sentences

Lesson 33

Diagramming Simple Sentences

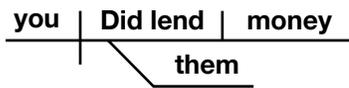

To diagram a simple sentence, write the simple subject and verb on a horizontal line and then draw a vertical line between them. Add adjectives and adverbs on a slanted line under the words they modify.

The new computer arrived yesterday.

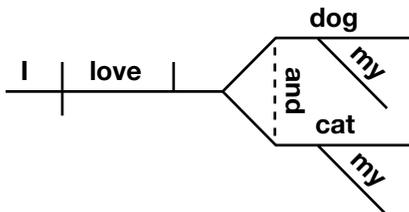

Place a direct object on the same line as the simple subject and the verb. Separate it from the verb with a vertical line. An indirect object is placed under the verb.

Did you lend them money?

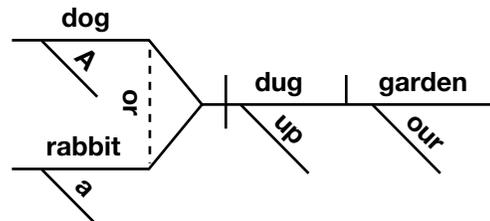

To diagram a simple sentence with a compound part, follow the model diagrams below.

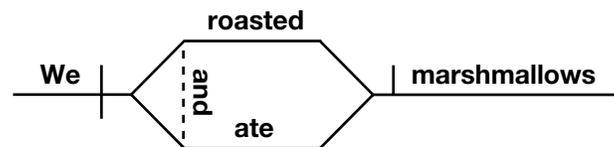

I love my dog and my cat.

A dog or a rabbit dug up our garden.

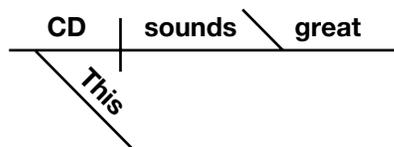

We roasted and ate marshmallows.

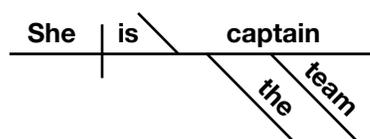

To diagram a simple sentence with a subject complement (a predicate nominative or a predicate adjective), follow the model diagrams below.

This CD sounds great!

She is the team captain.

▶ Exercise 1 Diagram each sentence.

1. Dad ordered pizza.
2. Ships and boats roam the blue sea.
3. The team appears eager.
4. Beth has registered three cats and two dogs.
5. Mom gave me the grocery list.
6. The Inca created and maintained a large empire.
7. Mammoths and mastodons roamed North America.
8. Trent and Franz invented and developed that game.

Lesson 34

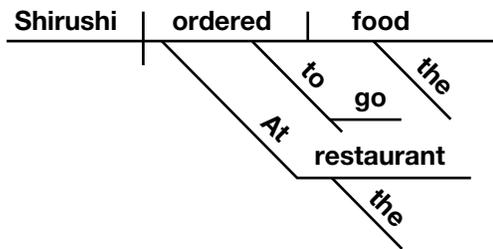

Diagramming Simple Sentences with Phrases

To diagram a prepositional phrase, place the preposition on a diagonal line under the word it modifies. Place the object of the preposition on a horizontal line that joins the diagonal. An infinitive phrase is diagrammed like a prepositional phrase, except that its diagonal line extends a little below the horizontal line.

Who is afraid of the big, bad wolf? (prepositional phrase)

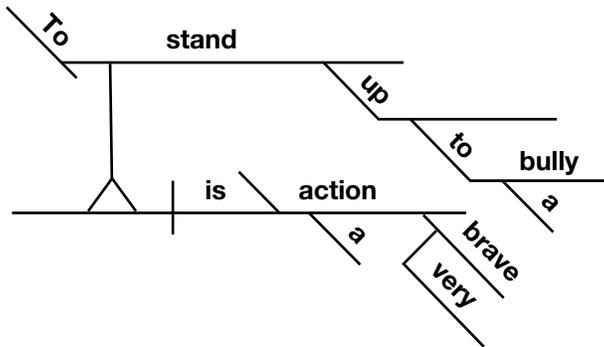

At the restaurant, Shirushi ordered the food to go. (infinitive phrase)

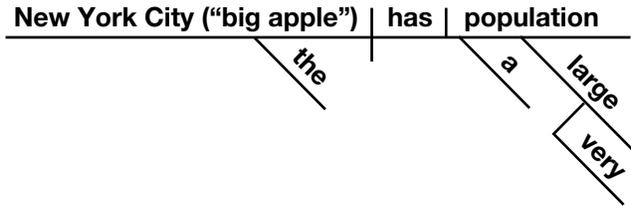

An infinitive phrase used as a noun is diagrammed like a prepositional phrase and then placed on a "stilt" in the subject or complement position.

To stand up to a bully is a very brave action.

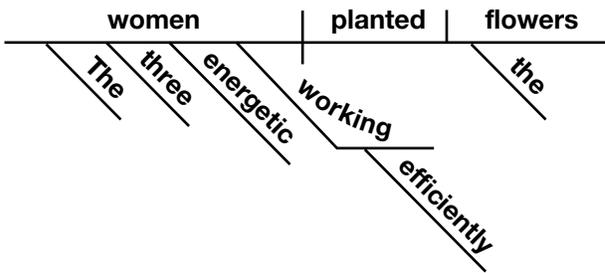

Place an appositive in parentheses after the noun or pronoun it identifies. Beneath it add any new words that modify the appositive. Any words that modify the noun or pronoun itself, and not the appositive, should be placed directly beneath the noun or pronoun.

New York City, the “big apple,” has a very large population.

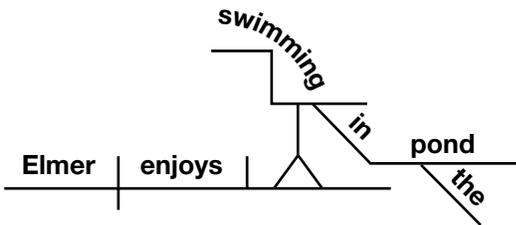

Place a participle or participial phrase under the word it modifies. The participle should curve along the line.

Working efficiently, the three energetic women planted the flowers.

Place a gerund on a “step,” and add complements and modifiers in the usual way. Position the gerund according to its role in the sentence. Remember that a gerund can be a subject, a complement, an object of a preposition, or an appositive.

Elmer enjoys swimming in the pond.

► Exercise 1 Diagram each sentence.

1. Gary, the store manager, hired me yesterday afternoon.
2. Angry citizens gathered outside the courthouse.

Name _____ Class _____ Date _____

3. The sound of that new group is particularly vibrant.
4. Coach asked us to run five laps.
5. The man in the moon is just a series of craters on the surface of the moon.
6. Sue tried to win Sally's friendship.
7. Beautiful clipper ships once sailed across the seas.
8. The removing of the Berlin Wall in Germany signaled the fall of communism.
9. The old dilapidated car was difficult to steer.
10. I would like to pass by Grandma's house.

11. Alicia, a veterinarian, loves training puppies.
15. The wall needed scraping and washing.

12. The continent of Antarctica is a frigid environment.
16. This recipe is easy to make.

13. Fala wants to write a story for the school paper.
17. Tailoring garments requires special skill.

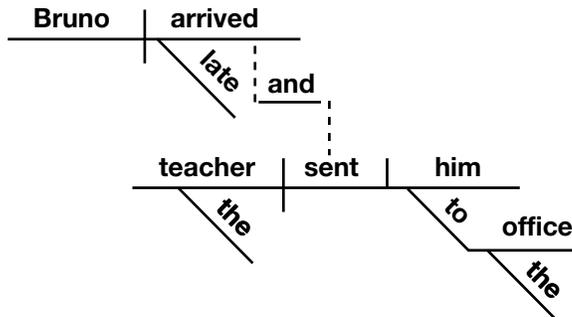

14. The flowers in the garden by the side of the house are beautiful.
18. Kristen, my oldest sister, is now a freshman in college.

Diagramming Sentences with Clauses

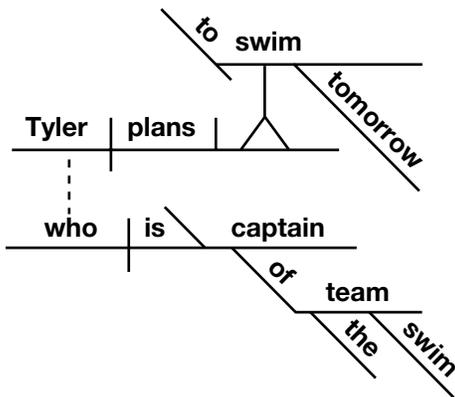

Diagram separately each main clause in a compound sentence. Clauses joined by a semicolon have a vertical dotted line between their verbs. Clauses joined by a conjunction have the conjunction on a solid horizontal line connected to the verbs of each main clause by vertical dotted lines.

Bruno arrived late, and the teacher sent him to the office.

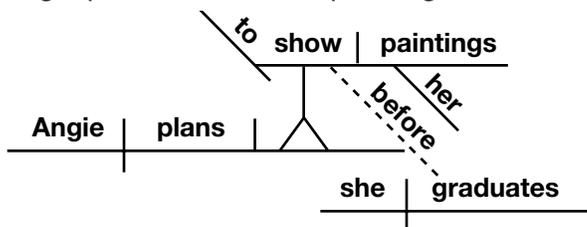

To diagram a complex sentence with an adjective clause, place the adjective clause beneath the main clause. Draw a dotted line between the relative pronoun that introduces the clause and the noun or pronoun it modifies. Diagram the relative pronoun according to its function in its own clause.

Tyler, who is captain of the swim team, plans to swim tomorrow.

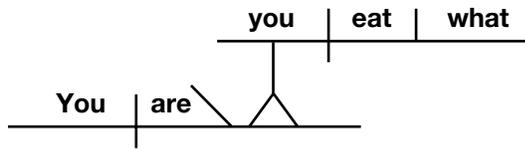

The diagram of an adverb clause is also placed beneath the diagram of the main clause. Place the subordinating conjunction on a diagonal dotted line connecting the verb in the adverb clause to the modified verb, adjective, or adverb in the main clause.

Angie plans to show her paintings before she graduates.

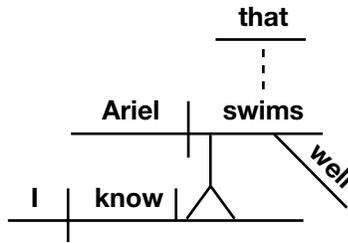

When diagramming a noun clause, first determine its function in the sentence: subject, direct object, predicate nominative, or object of a preposition. Then diagram the main clause, placing the noun clause on a “stilt” in the appropriate position. Place the introductory word of the clause in the position of the subject, object, or predicate nominative within the noun clause itself. If the introductory word merely begins the noun clause, place it on a line of its own above the verb in the subordinate clause, connecting it to the verb with a dotted vertical line.

You are what you eat.

I know that Ariel swims well.

► Exercise 1 Diagram each sentence.

1. I was told that the neighbors had moved.
2. Our coach hates to lose Katie, but she has to quit.
3. I wish that I had worked harder.
4. Controlling the water supply was their responsibility.

Name _____ Class _____ Date _____

5. Whoever brought the first gift wrapped it in red foil.
6. The African elephant is the largest land mammal; the blue whale, which lives in the ocean, is the largest of all mammals.
7. The sundae that I bought is yours to eat.
8. Lightning and thunder scare me when I am home alone.
9. The new student inquired where he could find the classroom.
10. Some people believe that Elvis Presley, the King, is still alive.
11. Collecting two hundred signatures, they expressed their views.
12. What this bike needs is a day in the shop.

13. Mongolian paleontologists find reptilian fossils when they dig in the Gobi.
16. The smell of roast beef woke Ben, for he had not eaten anything.

14. The pies that have Evelyn's special crust will be delicious.
17. Shooting with bow and arrow is a great skill.

15. The storyteller knew what tales his audience would like.
18. Francis, who always leaves behind something, will not want to forget his suitcase.

Unit 5 Review

► Exercise 1 Diagram each sentence.

1. Kenji makes kites.
2. Venus and Mars are Earth's neighbors in the solar system.
3. To write a good composition takes discipline.
4. Caveat emptor, a Latin phrase, means that all purchases have risk.
5. The apple proved tasty.
6. People inhabiting the seashore collected great amounts of shellfish.
7. Sheila's friend lost her radio near the church.
8. The twister dropped Dorothy's house on the witch, and the ruby slippers appeared on Dorothy's feet.

Cumulative Review: Units 1–5

► Exercise 1 Read the two italicized sentences. Using these sentences, write at least one example of the word, phrase, or clause described.

Our general policy is to give the customer whatever she wants.

Thinking of something special that I can do for each of my friends has been fun, but it has taken a lot of my time.

1. possessive pronoun _____

Unit 6: Verb Tenses and Voice

Lesson 36

Regular Verbs

All verbs have four principal parts—a base, or present, form, a present participle, a past form, and a past participle. All the verb tenses are formed from these principal parts.

Different types of verbs form their past participles differently. A regular verb forms its past and past participle by adding the suffix -ed to the base form.

PRINCIPAL PARTS OF REGULAR VERBS

BASE	PRESENT PARTICIPLE	PAST	PAST PARTICIPLE
call	calling	called	called roar	roaring	roared	roared

Used alone, the base form (except the base form of be) and the past form are main verbs. However, one or more auxiliary verbs are required for the present participle and the past participle to function as the simple predicate.

Doctors confer. (base form)

Doctors conferred. (past form)

Doctors are conferring. (present participle with the auxiliary verb are)

Doctors have conferred. (past participle with the auxiliary verb have) ► Exercise 1 Complete each sentence by writing the form of the verb indicated in parentheses.

Archaeologists have discovered that music existed in ancient civilizations. (past participle of discover)

- Dictionaries have _____ music as the organization of sounds. (past participle of define)
- Some experts believe that people _____ music by rhythmically repeating a sound. (past form of create)
- A voice or an instrument _____ a series of sounds called a melody. (past form of produce)
- Harmony is _____ when a number of sounds are made at the same time. (present participle of occur)
- Throughout history, rhythm, melody, and harmony have _____ into complex arrangements. (past participle of evolve)

Name _____ Class _____ Date _____

6. Remnants of musical instruments are _____ at excavations. (past participle of uncover)
7. In ancient China, musicians often _____ together in groups. (past form of play)
8. The king _____ of stone slabs on a frame, which were struck with mallets. (past form of consist)

36. The school's football team _____ all of their games. (past form of lose)

Lesson 38Verb Tenses: Present, Past, and Future

Verb tenses help to show when events take place—in the present, the past, or the future.

The present tense expresses a constant, repeated, habitual, or customary action or condition. It can also express a general truth or an action or condition that is happening right now.

The Volga River flows southward to the Caspian Sea. (a constant action)

Mercury is the planet nearest the sun. (a condition that is generally true)

Samantha feels happy. (not always but just now)

The present tense of all verbs except be is the same as the base form of the verb. To form the third-person singular of these verbs, add -s or -es to the base form.

SINGULAR

I lift.	You lift.	She, he, or it lifts.	We lift.	You lift.	They lift.
I am.	You are.	She, he, or it is.	We are.	You are.	They are.

PLURAL

The past tense expresses an action or condition that was started and completed in the past.

The dogs chased the car until it turned the corner.

Except for be, all regular and irregular verbs have one past-tense form. The past-tense form of be may be either was or were.

SINGULAR

I drifted.	You drifted.	She, he, or it drifted.	We drifted.	You drifted.	They drifted.
I was.	You were.	He, she, or it was.	We were.	You were.	They were.

PLURAL

► Exercise 1 Complete each sentence by writing the tense of the verb indicated in parentheses.

Scientists study weather patterns carefully. (study, present)

- Temperature records _____ back as far as the mid-1800s. (go, present)
- Studying the records, climatologists _____ a worldwide increase in temperature. (find, past)
- They _____ the increase is about 1°F since 1860. (think, present)
- Several years in the 1980s _____ among the warmest ever recorded. (be, past)
- However, scientists _____ no overall warming trend in the United States. (discover, past)
- Still, the continental United States _____ only about 1.5 percent of Earth. (cover, present)
- Climate on Earth _____ dramatically from region to region. (vary, present)

8. Scientists _____ mathematical models and powerful computers to predict changes in the earth's climate. (use, present)
9. Weather _____ from day to day and sometimes from year to year. (change, present)
10. Global warming _____ to much debate among scientists. (lead, present)

Use the future tense to express an action or condition that will occur in the future. To form the future tense of any verb, use will or shall before the base form of the verb.

I shall try. You will come.

Future time also can be expressed without using shall or will. Use going to or about to with the present tense of be and the base form of the verb. Or, use the present tense with an adverb or adverb phrase that states a future time.

I am about to leave the house. Luan arrives next week.

► Exercise 2 Change the verb or verbs in each sentence to future tense. Write the new verb in the blank. For those sentences indicated, use other words besides will or shall to express future time.

- One major effect of global warming was changes in weather. will be
1. Temperatures rose more quickly in the Northern Hemisphere. _____
 2. There was greater warming in winters than in summers. (Do not use will or shall.)

 3. Winter temperatures increase by an even greater amount in the Arctic and Antarctic.

 4. Snow and ice melted. _____
 5. An increase in evaporation put more water vapor into the atmosphere. _____
 6. Water flooded low-lying areas. _____
 7. Sea levels are as much as 25 feet above normal. _____
 8. Ocean currents slowed down or shifted direction. _____
 9. Hurricanes became more powerful and frequent. _____
 10. Global warming brought many unexpected changes. _____
 11. Perhaps some areas benefited from global warming. (Do not use will or shall.)

 12. Small organisms were more adaptable to a rapid change in climate. _____

Lesson 39Perfect Tenses: Present, Past, and Future

There are three perfect tenses in the English language: the present perfect, past perfect, and future perfect.

The present perfect tense expresses an action or condition that occurred at some indefinite time in the past. This tense also shows an action or condition that began in the past and continues into the present. To form the present perfect tense, use has or have with the past participle of a verb.

She has heard this song. (past indefinite action)

They have remained at the hospital for three days. (action began in past, continues into present)

Use the past perfect tense to indicate that one past action or condition began and ended before another past action started. To form the past perfect tense, use had with the past participle of a verb.

By the time I left (past), our team had scored (past perfect) twenty points.

Use the future perfect tense to express one future action that will begin and end before another future event begins. To form the future perfect tense, use will have or shall have with the past participle of a verb.

By tomorrow, Jean will have finished her project.

► Exercise 1 Identify each perfect tense verb by underlining it and writing either present perf., past perf., or future perf. in the blank.

- present perf. The children have played the same game all day long.
- _____ 1. Frederick had worn glasses for five years before he got contact lenses.

15. Next week, the astronauts _____ their tenth journey into space. (future perfect of make)

Lesson 40

Distinguishing Tenses

At times it is difficult to determine which tense to use when writing. Use this summary of the six tenses to help you understand when and where each should be used.

TENSE	EXPRESSES	FORMS
present	current or habitual action	same as base form; add -s or -es to form third-person singular past	action completed at some time in the past	one past-tense form, such as won or lived
future	action or condition that will occur in the future	shall or will before the base form present perfect	action or condition that occurred in the indefinite past	past participle form with present-tense auxiliary verb has or have past perfect	one past action that began and ended before another past action	past participle form with auxiliary verb had
future perfect	one future action that will begin and end before another future action begins	past participle form with auxiliary verbs will have or shall have

► Exercise 1 Underline each verb. Identify the tense of each verb by writing either present, past, future, present perfect, past perfect, or future perfect in the blank.

- _____ present perfect The Aztecs have captured the interest of many archaeologists.

 11. The Mexican flag _____ green, white, and red. (present tense of be)

Lesson 41

Progressive and Emphatic Forms

Each of the six verb tenses has a progressive form that expresses a continuing action. To make the progressive form, use the appropriate tense of the verb be with the present participle of the main verb.

They are trying. (present progressive)

They were trying. (past progressive)

They will be trying. (future progressive)

They have been trying. (present perfect progressive)

They had been trying. (past perfect progressive)

They will have been trying. (future perfect progressive)

The present and past tenses have additional forms, called emphatic, that add force, or emphasis, to the verb. To make the emphatic forms, use do, does, or did with the base form of the verb.

I do try. (present emphatic) I did try. (past emphatic)

► Exercise 1 Underline the progressive or emphatic verb form in each sentence and write in the blank which form it is.

- | | |
|-------------------------|---|

Lesson 42Compatibility of Tenses

When writing about two or more events that occur at the same time, do not shift, or change, tenses.

INCORRECT: During the night the barn owl hunted, and it catches a fieldmouse. (Tense shifts from past to present.)

CORRECT: During the night the barn owl hunted, and it caught a fieldmouse. (Clearly the two events happened at nearly the same time in the past.)

Shift tenses only to show that one event precedes or follows another in time.

INCORRECT: By the time the movie ended, everyone left the theater. (The two past-tense verbs give the mistaken impression that both events happened at the same time.)

CORRECT: By the time the movie ended, everyone had left the theater. (The shift from the past tense verb ended to the past perfect verb had left clearly shows that the departure from the theater had happened before the movie ended.)

► Exercise 1 Underline the second verb in each sentence and change it so that its tense is compatible with the first. Write the new verb in the blank.

Lesson 43Voice of Verbs: Active and Passive

An action verb is in the active voice when the subject of the sentence performs the action.

The cat was chased by the dog.

The active voice is generally stronger. However, sometimes the passive voice is preferred or even necessary. Use the passive voice if you do not want to call attention to the performer, or if you do not know the performer.

The cookies were eaten. (You may not want to identify who ate them.)

The dishes were washed. (You may not know who did the washing.)

To form the passive voice, use a form of the auxiliary verb be with the past participle of the verb. The tense of the auxiliary verb determines the tense of the passive verb.

The cat is chased by the dog. (present tense, passive voice)

The cat was being chased by the dog. (past progressive tense, passive voice)

The cat will have been chased by the dog. (future perfect tense, passive voice)

► Exercise 1 Write A if the action verb in each sentence is in the active voice and P if it is in the passive voice.

Unit 7: Subject-Verb Agreement

Lesson 44

Subject-Verb Agreement

Every verb must agree with its subject in person and in number. Most verbs have a different form only in the present tense; when the subject is third-person singular, an -s or -es is added to the base verb. The linking verb be is an exception. It changes form in both the present and past tenses.

SINGULAR

He takes.

She is friendly.

It was ripe.

PLURAL

They take.

They are friendly.

They were ripe.

The auxiliary verbs be, have, and do change form in verb phrases to show agreement with third-person subjects.

He is running home

She has arrived.

Does she have a ride?

They are running home.

They have arrived.

Do they have a ride?

► Exercise 1 Draw one line under the simple subject and two lines under the correct verb form in parentheses.

► Writing Link Write three or four sentences describing the person you most admire. Use examples of subject-verb agreement with linking verbs and predicate nominatives in at least two of your sentences.

Lesson 47Agreement: Inverted Sentences

An inverted sentence is one in which the subject follows the verb. Take care to locate the subject accurately, making sure that the verb agrees with it. Because an inverted sentence often begins with a prepositional phrase, the object of the preposition can be easily mistaken for the subject. Remember that the subject follows the verb in an inverted sentence.

Singular: Under the bush sits a rabbit. (The verb, sits, must agree with the subject, rabbit.)

Plural: Under the bush sit three rabbits. (The verb, sit, must agree with the subject, rabbits.)

Inverted sentences often begin with the word there or here. These words are almost never the subject of a sentence.

Singular: There is a shadow across the page.

Here comes my brother.

Plural: There are cracks in the foundation.

Here are five examples.

The subject in an interrogative sentence may follow an auxiliary verb. In this event, the subject will appear between the auxiliary verb and the main verb.

Singular: Does the price include tax?

Plural: Do our privileges include free admission?

► Exercise 1 Draw one line under each simple subject and two lines under the correct verb or helping verb in parentheses.

Unit 8: Using Pronouns Correctly

Lesson 52

Personal Pronouns: Case

Pronouns that refer to persons or things are called personal pronouns. Personal pronouns have three cases, or forms, called nominative, objective, and possessive. The case of a personal pronoun depends on the pronoun's function in the sentence.

CASE	SINGULAR	PLURAL	FUNCTION IN SENTENCE
Nominative	I, you, she, he, it	we, you, they	subject or predicate nominative
Objective	me, you, her, him, it	us, you, them	direct object, indirect object, or object of preposition
Possessive	my, mine, your, yours, her, hers, his, its	our, ours, your, yours, their, theirs	replacement for possessive noun(s)

Use the nominative case for a personal pronoun in a compound subject.

Ricardo and she are taking the advanced placement test.

Use the objective case for a personal pronoun in a compound object.

The guide handed the questionnaire to Mom and me.

In formal writing, after a form of the linking verb be, use the nominative case. People often use the objective case, however, in informal writing and speaking.

The person at the door was he. The best player is I.

Use possessive pronouns to indicate ownership and before gerunds (-ing forms used as nouns). Do not spell possessive pronouns with apostrophes.

His playing is getting better. That canoe is theirs.

► Exercise 1 Underline the pronoun in parentheses that best completes each sentence.

Unit 9: Using Modifiers Correctly

Lesson 59

Modifiers: Three Degrees of Comparison

Most adjectives and adverbs have three degrees or forms: positive, comparative, and superlative. The positive degree of a modifier is the basic form found in the dictionary and is not used to make a comparison. The comparative degree of a modifier is used to show comparison between two things. The superlative degree of a modifier is used to show comparison among three or more things.

For most short (one-syllable and two-syllable) modifiers, add -er to the positive degree to form the comparative and -est to form the superlative. Some words change spelling when -er or -est is added. If the modifier ends in e, drop the final e before adding -er or -est. If the modifier ends in y preceded by a consonant, change the y to an i. Double a final consonant after a vowel that is short in sound.

dark, darker, darkest sure, surer, surest angry, angrier, angriest wet, wetter, wettest

Some short modifiers, all modifiers of three or more syllables, and all adverbs ending in -ly use more and most instead of -er and -est to form the comparative and superlative forms.

often, more often, most often tasteless, more tasteless, most tasteless brightly, more brightly, most brightly

dull, less dull, least dull obvious, less obvious, least obvious ► Exercise 1 Complete each sentence by writing the correct comparative or superlative form of the modifier indicated in parentheses.

19. Do not eat (nothing, anything) before you swim your laps.
20. I didn't go (anywhere, nowhere) after school.

Lesson 64Misplaced and Dangling Modifiers

Modifiers should be placed as close as possible to the words they modify. Misplaced modifiers are modifiers (words, phrases, or clauses) that cause confusion because they modify the wrong word or seem to modify more than one word in a sentence. To make the meaning of the sentence clear, move the modifier as close as possible to the word it modifies.

MISPLACED: Interested in a compromise, the mediator’s suggestions appealed to both parties.

CLEAR: The mediator’s suggestions appealed to both parties interested in a compromise.

Dangling modifiers are modifiers that do not logically modify any word in the sentence. A sentence with a dangling modifier often can be rewritten correctly by supplying the words that are implied.

DANGLING: After trying for many years to locate my birth mother, she lives in Tucson.

CLEAR: After trying for many years to locate my birth mother, I found her living in Tucson.

In most cases, place the adverb only before the word or group of words it modifies. The meaning of a sentence may be unclear if only is positioned incorrectly.

UNCLEAR: Only Nickie wears gloves in the dead of winter. (Nickie is the only person who wears gloves.)

UNCLEAR: Nickie wears only gloves in the dead of winter. (Nickie is probably rather chilly because she isn’t wearing anything but gloves.)

CLEAR: Nickie wears gloves only in the dead of winter. (Nickie doesn’t wear gloves in warm weather.)

► Exercise 1 Above the italicized word or group of words write M for a misplaced modifier, D for a dangling modifier, or C for a modifier that is correctly placed.

D

Lesson 77Commas: Series and Coordinate Adjectives

Use commas to separate three or more words, phrases, or clauses in a series.

Snakes, lizards, and crocodiles are all reptiles.

The snake crawled over the log, through the grass, and into the stream.

No commas are necessary when all of the items are connected by conjunctions.

Celia has a boa constrictor and an iguana and a chameleon.

Nouns that are used in pairs (salt and pepper, thunder and lightning, red beans and rice) are usually considered single units and should not be separated by commas. If such pairs appear with other nouns or groups of nouns in a series, they must be set off from the other items in the series.

Will you have ranch dressing, Italian dressing, or oil and vinegar on your salad?

Place a comma between coordinate adjectives that precede a noun. Coordinate adjectives modify a noun equally. To tell whether adjectives are coordinate, try to reverse their order or put the word and between them. If the sentence still sounds right, the adjectives are coordinate.

The short, dark-haired, handsome hero saved the day.

Vocabulary and Spelling

Unit 13: Vocabulary and Spelling

Lesson 93

Building Vocabulary: Learning from Context

Sometimes you can figure out the meaning of a word from its context—the words that surround the word. There are many context clues you can use to help you figure out the meaning of a word. The following chart describes five types of context clues:

TYPE OF CONTEXT CLUE	CLUE WORDS	EXAMPLE
Definition: The meaning of the unfamiliar word is stated in the sentence.	which means also known as in other words or	The anthropologist was interested in ethnology , or a science that deals with the division of humans into races.
Example: The meaning of the unfamiliar word is explained through examples or other illustrations.	for instance such as for example like	He was a farrier ; for example , he replaced shoes on horses .
Comparison: The unfamiliar word is compared to a similar familiar word or phrase.	likewise also similarly as	There was a public mania for hula hoops; likewise , there was excessive enthusiasm for yo-yos.
Contrast: The unfamiliar word is the opposite of a familiar word or phrase.	however but on the contrary unlike	We were tenacious about the agenda; however , we were flexible about the meeting place.
Cause and Effect: The unfamiliar word describes a cause whose effects are familiar, or an effect whose causes are familiar.	therefore thus since because when as a result	Their white carpet was immaculate ; therefore , we took off our shoes before we stepped on it .

► Exercise 1 Determine the meaning of the italicized word in each sentence by examining the context. Write the meaning in the blank.

Lesson 94

Building Vocabulary: Word Roots

You can figure out the meaning of a word by analyzing its parts. The main part of a word is its root. A root that is a complete word is called a base word. A root or base word, such as think, is often combined with a prefix (a word part attached to the beginning of the word), a suffix (a word part attached to the end of a word), or another root word to form a different word, such as unthinkable.

The root is the most important clue for finding a word’s meaning. When unsure, think of other words that might share the same root. The meanings of the other words might give you clues to the meaning of the unfamiliar word. The following chart lists some common roots and words that share them:

ROOT	MEANING	EXAMPLE	MEANING
aqua	water	aquarium	tank of water
astro	stars	astronomer	one who studies stars
bio	life	biography	story of a person’s life
cent	hundred	century	one hundred years
chron	time	chronological	arranged in order of time
geo	Earth	geology	study of Earth
nym	name	anonymous	with no name
scrib	write	inscribe	to write or mark on
viv	live	vivacious	full of life

► Exercise 1 Circle the common root words in each set of three words. Write the meaning of the root word in the blank. Use a dictionary if necessary.

9. consequence	sequential	sequel	_____
10. passport	deport	portfolio	_____
11. bicycle	cyclical	cyclone	_____

Lesson 95

Building Vocabulary: Prefixes and Suffixes

Prefixes and suffixes change the meaning of the root words to which they are attached. A prefix is a word part that is attached to the beginning of a word. Prefixes are important tools for building new words. Certain prefixes, such as un- and in-, can even reverse the meaning of a root word.

PREFIX	MEANING
co-	"together"
contra-	"opposed"
de-	"from" or "down"
dis-	"lack of" or "not"
il-, im-, in-, ir-	"not"
inter-	"among" or "between"
mis-	"wrong" or "bad"
pre-	"before"
re-	"again" or "back"
sub-	"under" or "below"

► Exercise 1 Write a word with a prefix that could replace the word or words in italics.

- _____ replay _____ Classical music enthusiasts play again their favorite pieces.
- _____ 1. The two actresses starred together in the television drama.
 - _____ 2. The writers wrote again the script five times before they were satisfied.
 - _____ 3. I think the director was guided wrongly.
 - _____ 4. The temperature must be below zero today!
 - _____ 5. Mrs. Lee was informed wrongly about the new laundry room policy.
 - _____ 6. The coach did not agree with the call.
 - _____ 7. I recorded beforehand the music I needed to present in class.
 - _____ 8. He knew that getting there on time was not possible.
 - _____ 9. Tanya and Paula were workers together.
 - _____ 10. She didn't follow directions, so the teacher asked her to do it again.

 - _____ 12. Aristotle thought the question was not appropriate.
 - _____ 13. The museum director said the broken vase was not replaceable.
 - _____ 14. The threads of her sweater were tightly woven together.

In English, suffixes are more common than prefixes. A suffix is a word part that is attached to the end of a word. Like prefixes, suffixes create new words with new meanings. Many suffixes also change the part of speech of the original word. For example, when the suffix -able is added to the verb forgive, the new word forgivable is an adjective. With certain words, especially those ending in -e, the spelling of the original word may change slightly when a suffix is added.

SUFFIX	MEANING
-ant, -ent	"one who does an action"
-dom	"state" or "condition"
-en	"to become"
-ful	"full of"
-ize	"to become" or "to make"
-less	"without"
-ly	"in the way or manner mentioned"
-ness	"quality" or "state"
-ous	"full of"

► Exercise 2 Write a word with a suffix that could replace the word or words in italics.

- _____ diligently _____ Hector raked the leaves in a diligent manner.
- _____ 1. An airbag could make less the impact of the crash.
- _____ 2. Some of the sun's rays are full of harm to the skin.

- _____ 12. The park in the spring is full of beauty.
- _____ 13. Mitsuyo in a patient manner explained the problem to her younger sister.
- _____ 14. The birds sang a tune that was full of melody.

Lesson 96Basic Spelling Rules I*SPELLING IE AND EI

Put i before e except after c, or when sounded like \bar{a} , as in neighbor and weigh.

achieve relieve receive deceive sleigh veil

Exceptions to this rule include: seize, leisure, weird, height, either, forfeit, and protein.

SPELLING -CEDE, -CEED, AND -SEDE

Because c and s are often pronounced the same way, confusion arises in spelling words ending in -cede, -ceed, and -sede. Remember that in all words except four, the $\bar{s}e\bar{d}$ sound is spelled cede. The only four exceptions are supersede, exceed, proceed, and succeed.

SPELLING UNSTRESSED VOWELS

The dictionary uses the schwa symbol (ə) to indicate an unstressed vowel sound. To help you spell a word with this sound, think of a related word in which the vowel sound is stressed. If you are unsure how to spell final, think of the word finality. Although the a in final is an unstressed vowel sound, the a in finality is not. You can hear the short a sound when you say finality aloud.

► Exercise 1 Find the misspelled word in each sentence. Rewrite the word correctly in the blank. Use a dictionary if necessary.

- _____ precede The high school band will preceed the fire engines in the holiday parade.

- _____ 13. May I have a reciept for the wool suit?

- _____ 14. The first thing the nurse does is take my height and wieght.
 _____ 15. His poems deal with fantasy rather than realety.

ADDING PREFIXES

Always keep the original spelling of the word when you add the prefix. If adding the prefix causes a double letter, keep both letters.

mis- + inform = misinform il- + logical = illogical

SUFFIXES AND THE SILENT E

When adding a suffix that begins with a vowel or y to a word that ends with a silent e, usually drop the e.

excite + -able = excitable shine + -y = shiny

However, when adding a suffix that begins with an a or an o to a word that ends with ce or ge, retain the e so the word will keep its soft c or g sound.

service + -able = serviceable courage + -ous = courageous

agree + -able = agreeable canoe + -ing = canoeing

When adding a suffix that begins with a consonant to a word that ends in silent e, keep the e.

bare + -ly = barely place + -ment = placement

SUFFIXES AND THE FINAL Y

If a word ends in a consonant +y, change the y to i unless the suffix begins with an i. Keep the y in a word that ends in a vowel +y.

fry + -ed = fried hurry + -ing = hurrying stay + -ing = staying joy + -ous = joyous

Lesson 97Basic Spelling Rules II*DOUBLING THE FINAL CONSONANT

Double the final consonant in words that end in a consonant preceded by a single vowel if the word is one syllable, if it has an accent on the last syllable that remains there even after the suffix is added, or if it is a word made up of a prefix and a one-syllable word.

cap + -ing = capping stop + -age = stoppage concur + -ent = concurrent compel + -ing = compelling misstep + -ed = misstepped

Do not double the final consonant if the accent is not on the last syllable, or if the accent shifts when the suffix is added. Also do not double the final consonant if it is preceded by two vowels or by another consonant. If the word ends in a consonant and the suffix begins with a consonant, do not double the final consonant.

develop + -ing = developing prefer + -ence = preference rain + -ing = raining remind + -ed = reminded faith + -less = faithless

ADDING -LY AND -NESS

When adding -ly to a word that ends in a single l, keep the l, but when the word ends in a double l, drop one l. When adding -ness to a word that ends in n, keep the n.

ideal + -ly = ideally full + -ly = fully mean + -ness = meanness

FORMING COMPOUND WORDS

When joining a word that ends in a consonant to a word that begins with a consonant, keep both consonants.

snow + fall = snowfall year + book = yearbook hair + do = hairdo

► Exercise 1 Find the misspelled word in each sentence. Rewrite the word correctly in the blank. Use a dictionary if necessary.

Any one can donate blood but a person must be at least 17 years old, weigh at least 105 pounds, and in be generally good health.

Lesson 102The Writing Process: Presenting

After completing a piece of writing, you may want to present or share your work with others. Consideration of this can occur as early as the prewriting stage. The nature of your material affects how and where you might present your writing.

An outlet for presenting your writing to a specific audience is called a market. As a tenth-grade student, several markets are available to you. These include school forums, such as newspapers and classroom presentations; community forums, such as newspapers and the newsletters of local organizations; and open-market forums, such as special-interest magazines, writing contests, and periodicals. The Market Guide for Young Writers, available in libraries, can give you many ideas for marketing your work.

To decide how to present your piece, first analyze it to pinpoint your audience; then search for an outlet serving that audience. Some markets, such as radio programs or speech contests, offer a chance for oral presentation. In some of these cases, visual aids may enhance your presentation.

► Exercise 1 Suggest an outlet or market for each piece of writing described below.

Idea: _____

Intended audience: _____

Form of presentation: _____

Reasons for choice of presentation: _____

Lesson 103

Outlining

Outlining is a method for organizing the information to be presented in a piece of writing. During prewriting you generate ideas; outlining gives you a way to structure those ideas before you begin drafting. One method for constructing an outline is to transfer pieces of information from your prewriting material to index cards. The cards can then be arranged by main topic and supporting details. When writing an outline, use roman numerals to indicate main topics. Use capital letters for subtopics. Under each topic, you can list details using regular numerals. (If you include details for a subtopic, always give at least two specifics.) An outline for an informational piece on cross-country skiing might look like this:

- I. Background
 - A. What is it?
 - 1. Traveling over snow in all kinds of terrain
 - 2. Skis are lighter and less expensive than in downhill skiing
 - B. Is it difficult?
 - 1. Anyone can learn to ski in this way
 - 2. Safer than downhill skiing
 - C. Benefits
 - 1. Develops the heart and lungs
 - 2. Develops muscles of entire body
 - 3. No need to travel to a ski resort
- II. Equipment

► Exercise 1 Evaluate the outline below. Write your comments on the writing lines that follow the outline.

- I. Small reptiles
 - A. Turtles
- II. Large reptiles
 - A. Crocodiles
 - 1. Largest is over 20 feet long
 - 2. Heavy armor plates cover body

 - 2. Smaller; eat insects
 - C. Alligators
 - 1. Resemble crocodiles but are in a separate family
 - 2. Closest living relative of dinosaur
 - 3. Most intelligent of all reptiles

Lesson 104Writing Effective Sentences

Use effective sentences to add interest and impact to your writing. As you create and combine sentences, keep the following strategies in mind. Vary the length of the sentences. Avoid using all long sentences or all short sentences. Also vary the structure of the sentences. Avoid using a single sentence pattern for all sentences. Use parallel construction for emphasis. Parallel construction enables you to deliberately repeat certain words, phrases, or sentence structures for effect. You can also use interruption for emphasis. A sudden break in thought can call attention to an important point or detail. Another way to emphasize is to use an unusual sentence pattern that stands out from all the other sentences. When writing a topic sentence, make it specific enough to arouse the reader's interest. Also, write the lead sentence of a piece in a way that will “hook” your readers so that they want to read on.

Use the active voice as much as possible. In a sentence in the active voice, the subject performs the action (he or she speaks). In a passive-voice sentence, the subject is acted upon (e.g., he or she is spoken to). Active verbs always make a stronger impression than passive verbs. Generally, only use passive for emphasis or when the “doer” of an action is not known (or when you do not want him or her to be known).

► Exercise 1 Rewrite the sentences below and add details to create more effective sentences.

Long ago Persia invaded Greece with a gigantic army. The Greeks fought bravely to defend their freedom. Their heroism is an example to us all. Although it happened long ago, the Greeks' heroic defense of their liberty against the invasion of the Persians and their gigantic army is still an example to us all.

1. Badminton is a neglected racket sport in this country. The volleys are fast-paced. The slams can be sizzling. Drop shots can be extremely delicate.

10. All forty-one players were squeezed onto the risers for the team picture. _____

Lesson 105Building Paragraphs

The supporting details in a paragraph can be arranged in different ways. Chronological order places events in the order in which they happened. Spatial order is the way objects appear. Compare/contrast order shows similarities and differences.

The first of the following paragraphs makes use of chronological order; the second, spatial order; and the third, compare/contrast order.

After parking the car, we walked to the top of a hill overlooking the Ohio River near Ripley, Ohio. There we saw the Rankin House, a famous stop on the Underground Railroad that helped fugitive slaves to escape. Gazing up at the second-floor window, I tried to imagine the lantern shining to inform runaway slaves that it was safe to cross the river.

On a table in the living room of the house are a wooden globe and John Rankin's Bible. Upstairs are the many hiding places, tiny wooden compartments where runaway slaves were hidden. Behind the house are a hundred steps, built by Rankin in 1828, that lead down to the Ohio River.

Looking south across the Ohio River, you can't help but think about the differences between Ohio and Kentucky in the years before the Civil War. Ohio was a free state, but Kentucky was a slave state. While Ohioans like John Rankin were helping slaves gain their freedom, just eleven miles south of the river, slaves were being sold at auction in Washington, Kentucky.

► Exercise 1 Number the following sentences in chronological order.

- _____ First, open the door and climb in.
- _____ Make sure the car is in park.
- _____ When you're ready to go, put the car in gear—either Drive or Reverse.
- _____ After making sure the door is closed, fasten your safety belt.
- _____ Turn the key.
- _____ Check the door to make sure it's closed.
- _____ There's a safe way to start a car.
- _____ Insert the key into the ignition.
- _____ Then look carefully around you in all directions, and you're ready to drive off.
- _____ Then let the car warm up for a short time, especially if it's cold out.

Lesson 106Paragraph Ordering

Revising a first draft includes checking the unity and coherence of paragraphs. You need to make sure that each paragraph is unified, that it opens with a topic sentence (a sentence that states the main idea of the paragraph) and that the supporting details are related to the topic. To make sure the comparisons are clear, or coherent, you must check chronological details for proper order and compare/contrast details. Finally, you need to make sure that ideas are properly linked by transitions.

► Exercise 1 Revise the following paragraphs for unity and coherence.

Let's take a look at the place where everything begins and find out why the modern automobile engine is truly an engineering marvel. Ford, General Motors, and Chrysler are known as the Big Three United States auto manufacturers. It's an extremely complicated process, one that has been refined for more than a hundred years. Have you ever wondered what actually happens when a driver steps on the accelerator of a car? Dozens of different systems have to work properly—and work together—for that automobile to pull away from the curb or out of the driveway. Man, it's an amazing machine!

The piston goes through a four-stroke cycle, which serves to “combust,” or burn, the fuel mixture and transfer its energy to the car's wheels. Each cylinder houses a moving arm called a piston, which fits very tightly against the walls of the cylinder. The four strokes are repeated as many as six thousand times a minute, and the piston can travel at speeds of three hundred miles per hour or more!

In the piston's first stroke, an inlet valve opens and the piston slides down the smooth walls of the cylinder, sucking in air and gasoline. Some cars and trucks use diesel fuel, but a diesel engine works in a different way. In the second stroke, the valve shuts and the piston moves upward to compress the fuel very tightly.

Next, the spark flares and the fuel explodes, pushing the piston down very fast. The pistons transfer the downward movement's energy to the crankshaft by means of connecting rods, and the crankshaft transfers the power to the wheels. If the crankshaft ever breaks or wears out, it's very expensive to replace. Mostly because it is very hard to reach. In the fourth stroke, the piston travels upward again, pushing the leftover hot gases out the exhaust valve.

Lesson 107

Personal Letters

A personal letter is a letter to a friend or relative. You write letters to describe recent events in your life, to ask the recipient questions about his or her life, and to express your personal feelings, hopes, and desires. A personal letter can also be an invitation or a thank-you note. In every case, careful consideration of your audience is extremely important when writing personal letters. These letters are usually written in indented form. Each paragraph is indented, as well as each line in the heading and the signature line.

► Exercise 1 Read the following personal letter. Answer each question.

7561 Knoxville Road
 Saddle River, New Jersey 07458
 January 12, 1995

Dear Shannon,

Thanks for your letter. Being president of the Computer Club takes a lot of time. If I had known you were going to move to Dallas and that I would have to replace you, I might never have let myself be elected vice president!

Well, the big news is that I finally bought a CD-ROM drive for my computer. I hate to say it, but you were right. It's fantastic! How did I ever live without one? I've already gotten a few games, and the graphics are unbelievable. Do you have any recommendations for multimedia encyclopedias? I want to get one. However, since they are expensive, I want to get advice from someone who knows something about them. Write back as soon as you can. Have you met any other computer nerds in Dallas? (Ha-ha, just kidding!)

Your friend,
Courtney

1. Why is Courtney writing to Shannon? _____

2. Do you think Courtney and Shannon are good friends? Why? _____

3. How is this a good example of a personal letter? _____

4. What might Shannon include in a response to Courtney's letter? _____

Lesson 108

Business Letters: Letters of Request or Complaint

A letter of request is a letter that asks for information or service. When you write a letter of request, always be clear and courteous. Explain what information you need and why you need it. Include any information the receiver may need to answer your request.

Business letters are usually written in block form or semiblock form. In block form, everything is lined up with the left margin. In semiblock form, the heading, complimentary close, and signature are placed on the right side of the page (see Exercise 1).

► Exercise 1 Examine the body of the following letter. Do you think it is a good example of a letter of request? Why or why not? Write your critique below.

Dear Person in Charge of Research:

I am a freshman at Glenville Hi School and am working on a project on family history. Which is due next week, so I'm kind of like in a hurry. Do you have any information on the Guimond family in this area. We come from France. Please send me anything you have so I can use it in my project.

Sincerely,
Sarah Guimond

► Exercise 2 Write a short letter requesting information on one of the following topics. Be sure to use proper business-letter format.

- information on a local service program you'd like to join
- information on the different guitar models a company sells
- information on how to obtain tickets to a sporting event
- information on which breeds of dogs would make appropriate pets for your family

A letter of complaint is a letter informing someone of a problem or concern and sometimes requests action. It should be clear, concise, and reasonable. Never let your anger get the best of you. Begin your letter by stating the problem and telling briefly how it happened. Then use supporting details as evidence of your problem. End the letter by explaining what you would like done about the matter. Always avoid insults and threats.

► Exercise 3 Read the following letter of complaint. Describe any problems and suggest how to correct them.

1457 Piedmont Rd.
Lincoln, Nebraska 40521
March 20, 1996

La Crème Lotion
111 Corporate Dr.
Young America, MN 14444

Dear maker of stinky hand lotion,

Something disgusting happened to me that you might want to know about because its all you fault. I bought a bottle of your La Creme hand lotion for $12.99 because your TV ads say that its the best. Well, your lying about that. It's not the best. More like the worst. the reason is it smells like rotten eggs—or worse, like there was something dead in there. I wouldn't put this stuff on a stray dog, not to mention my hands. Give me a refund or youll be sorry.

Not your friend,
Danielle Marshall

► Exercise 4 Revise and rewrite the above letter of complaint.

Lesson 109

Business Letters: Résumés and Cover Letters

A résumé is a summary of your work experience, school experience, talents, and interests. You use it to apply for a job or for admittance into a school or academic program. You want your résumé to be clear, concise, expressive, and informative. In describing your accomplishments, use action verbs (won the prize, taught the class). Because a résumé is a summary, it is not necessary to use complete sentences. However, you do want to use a consistent format, as in the following example.

Rebecca Chin
 345 Boyle Street, Apt. 9
 Concord, MA 01742
 (508) 369-2120

Objective:	Part-time employment in a preschool or day-care center
Work Experience:	Counselor, Camp Rolling Hills, Lenox, MA, 1993, 1994
Responsibilities:	Cabin counselor for ten third-grade girls
Education:	Emerson High School, September 1994–present, 3.7 GPA Fox Middle School, September 1989–June 1993, 3.8 GPA
References:	Ruben Gonzalez, teacher, Emerson High School, (508) 567-1092 Jean Robertson, Director, Camp Rolling Hills, (508) 444-9078

► Exercise 1 Answer the following questions.

1. How might the headings (Objective, Work Experience, Responsibilities, etc.) be ordered if Rebecca were applying for a school program? Why? What else might she include if she were applying for a school program? _____

2. The headings Rebecca used are not the only ones you can use on a résumé. What are some others? _____
3. If you were the manager of a day-care center and considering hiring Rebecca, would you be impressed by her résumé? Why or why not? _____

A cover letter is a brief letter of introduction that usually accompanies a résumé. A cover letter states what you are applying for and where you can be contacted. It also refers the reader to your résumé for additional information. It may also briefly state why you are well suited for the position.

The following is an example of a well-formatted, concise cover letter. Note that the letter follows business-letter style and that it is directed to a specific person.

Rebecca Chin
345 Boyle Street, Apt. 9
Concord, MA 01742
April 13, 1996

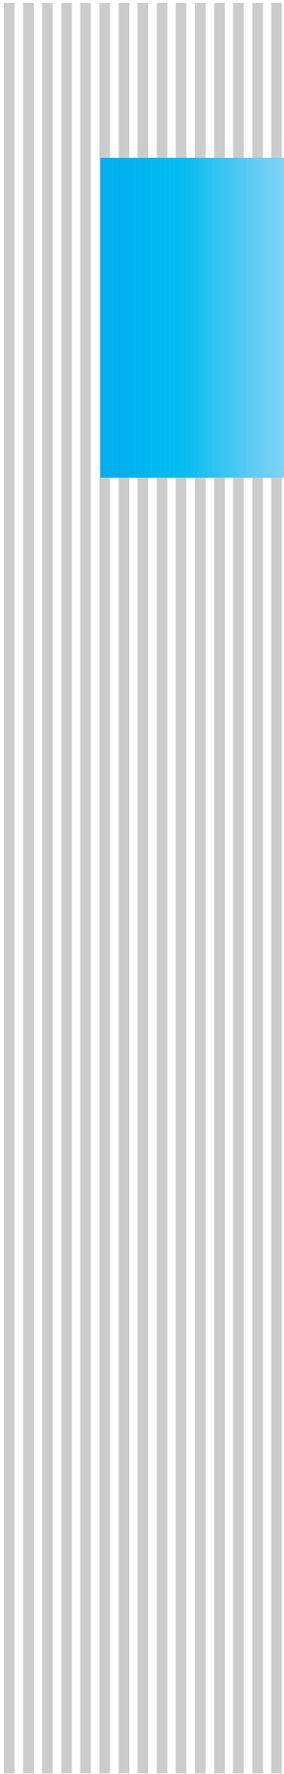

Mr. Thomas Orlando
Director, Louisa May Alcott Preschool
14 Third Street
Concord, MA 01742

Dear Mr. Orlando:

I am an honors student at Emerson High and am interested in part-time after-school work in a preschool or day-care center. I am dedicated to helping young children learn and grow. I have a special interest in your preschool because of your focus on teaching French at an early age. I have taken three French courses and I plan to take the upper level course next year. Enclosed is a copy of my résumé I hope you find that my qualifications meet your needs. Please feel free to contact me if you have any questions. I hope to hear from you soon.

Sincerely,
Rebecca Chin

► Exercise 4 Write a cover letter to send with your résumé for the position you chose in Exercises 2 and 3.

UNIT 14 COMPOSITION

Subtest 1

Summer is without a doubt my favorite season. The weather is warm, the sun shines nearly every day, and I have a chance to do all of my favorite things. I love to water-ski, take long bike rides, and play beach volleyball. In the summer, I have plenty of time to get together with my friends, though some days I just sit under a tree and read a book. Of course, this summer I am going to get a job. Then I can start saving money for the future. Sports, time with friends, time to relax, opportunity to earn money—is it any wonder summer is my favorite season?

Subtest 3 (Answers will vary.)

Aunt Vivian taught me how to make pizzelles. It's much easier than I thought, especially if you have an electric pizzelle iron. A pizzelle iron is similar to a waffle iron, except that its design resembles a snowflake. Pizzelles are thin, wafer-like Italian cookies. They can be made in many different flavors. The basic recipe uses eggs, flour, sugar, salt, baking powder, butter, and milk. The dry ingredients are sifted together before being added to the batter. Pizzelle batter is thick and sticky. Once the basic ingredients are combined, you can add a flavoring such as vanilla, almond, or anise, or you can add cocoa and more sugar.

If you are using an electric pizzelle iron, be sure it has heated properly before you begin using it. Place one teaspoon of batter in the center of each pizzelle form (most pizzelle irons have two forms). Close the lid. Different irons may have different suggested cooking times. Most pizzelles will bake in thirty seconds. Lift the lid by its handle (the rest of the iron will be quite hot). Carefully remove each pizzelle with a fork and set on a tray to cool. Most batters will make several dozen cookies—which means that you can share them with your friends and still have plenty left for yourself!

Subtest 4 (Answers will vary.)

Students' answers should be logical and complete. Topic chosen should be appropriate for audience chosen. Attitude of audience should seem reasonable for such persons regarding such a topic. Evidence should support student's opinion with provable facts.
