1. Jabri has walked away from a lab computer without logging off. Hope sits down and, still logged in as Jabri, sends inflammatory messages out to a number of students and posts similar messages as Jabri.
2. Every time Abner posts a comment, his posts are flamed by a group of "enemies." Abner has responded to each flame in turn, and a full-scale war is now in progress.
3. Sandy has been receiving hundreds of anonymous insults daily (text bombing). Because of the context of the notes, she has narrowed the suspect down to someone in her 4th hour class. She sends the entire class a nasty warning not to do it again.
4. Paula and Ron went out for a few months. During that time, they sent each other some pretty personal messages and texts. But their break up was messy. The final straw came when Ron found out that Paula was sending copies of their old messages and texts to his new girlfriend. Pretty soon, copies seemed to be all over the school and his new girlfriend wouldn't speak to him.
