

“ Midway Elementary is a unique school in that it offers specialized arts in addition to the academics. My kids are not only learning traditional things found in elementary school but being exposed to many different art forms. The opportunity for my children to be a part of this magnet program has made them better thinkers and problem solvers. ”

ARTFUL LEARNING

Midway Elementary School of the Arts is the only Artful Learning School in the state of Florida and 1 of 17 in the country. The Artful Learning model is an arts-based, K-5 comprehensive school plan inspired by legendary American composer Leonard Bernstein. His vision was that music and other fine/performing arts could be used to improve academic achievement and instill a love of learning by challenging students to:

EXPERIENCE

Students experience a classical or iconic Masterwork through sight, sound, movement, ideas and emotions.

CREATE

Students embrace learning as they actively create a product to show their understanding.

INQUIRE

Students are encouraged to inquire and build their own knowledge of the concept based on significant questions.

REFLECT

Students reflect thoughtfully on their process and to make connections and apply knowledge to other areas.
