March 8, 2017

Dear Families,

Hawaii State Department of Education (HIDOE) 's School Food Services Branch is transitioning our electronic meal counting system to PrimeroEdge throughout the month of March. It is a comprehensive meal counting system that will allow for the seamless transfer of student balances within HIDOE schools, as your child progresses from elementary through high school. The program will allow parents/guardians the ability to view purchases and deposits via PrimeroEdge's SchoolCafe website and mobile application.

Student eligibility and balance data is in the process of being transferred to PrimeroEdge from the prior system. During this transition, you may notice fluctuations in your child's meal account balance. By the end of the transition period, all student and adult balances will be imported and manually checked to ensure each account balance is correct. You may continue to deposit funds, and purchase meals during this transition, as the balance import will not affect all other transactions conducted in the meal counting system.

PrimeroEdge notification letters that are sent home will have a new look. The eligibility notification letters, balance reminders, and receipts may look a little different as your child's school transitions into the new system.

In the future, SchoolCafe will allow families the ability to see daily menus and basic nutritional information as well, and make online deposits to meal accounts with a nominal convenience fee.

Thank you for your patience and understanding as we work towards giving families more accessibility and control over their child's meal accounts.

If you have any questions or concerns, please feel free to call the school office at 305-3000.

Leilehua JROTC Earns National Cyber Finals

LEILEHUA HIGH SCHOOL JROTC Press Release

Preparation continues for the National Youth Cyber Defense Competition at Leilehua High School, Monday. WAHIAWA — A local team of students from Leilehua High School is headed to Baltimore as a finalist in the national championship round of CyberPatriot IX — The National Youth Cyber Defense Competition. This is the Leilehua JROTC's third trip to the national finals where it captured consecutive Army Service Champion- ships in 2012 and 2013.

Annual contenders

Since 2009, CyberPatriot's National Youth Cyber Defense Competition has challenged teams of two to six students to harden simulated computer systems and resolve real-life cybersecurity situ- ations faced by industry professionals. The competition provides students with hands-on experience securing computer networks while also exciting, educating, and motivating them toward careers in cybersecurity and other science, technology, engineering and mathematics (STEM) fields.

Leilehua's Army JROTC Mighty Mules, led by Coach Lt. Col. (Ret.) Nick Spiridigliozzi, and mentors 1st Lt. Ben Allision, Chief Warrant Officer 3 Lee Unrein, and Spc. Evan Wittman, is one of 13 finalists for the competition's All Service Division.

Team members are Cadet Brandon Unrein, Cadet Tyler McWilliams, Cadet Jarod Olive-Stalling, Cadet Jacob Huerta, and Cadet Team support person Lejah Amantiad.

This group recently claimed its third consecutive Hawaii State CyberPatriot Championship. This year's three-track competition had public, private, and home-school teams registered in the Open Division, while JROTC units and Naval Sea Cadet Corps and Civil Air Patrol squadrons filled the All Service Division. The third track consisted of middle school competitors. In all, more than 4,400 teams registered to participate, representing all 50 states, the District of Columbia, Canada, U.S. Department of Defense Dependent Schools in both Europe and the Pacific, and other teams abroad.

The All Service Division began with more than 1,500 teams registered. Now, the group has been narrowed to 13 final teams, and each team will receive an all-expenses-paid trip to the CyberPatriot National Finals Competition at the Hyatt Regency in Baltimore, where they will compete face-to-face and defend virtual networks from a professional aggressor team.

Competitors will participate in several timed events to showcase a myriad of cybersecurity skills in an attempt to win the coveted national championship award and scholarships.

“The CyberPatriot competition engaged our students in real cyber security threats, showing real-world applications of science, technology, engineering and math, or STEM, lessons,” said Leilehua High School Principal Jason Nakamoto. “I applaud the hard work of our students, coach, and mentors in qualifying for the highly competitive national champion- ship round.”

CyberPatriot greatly benefits from the support and technical expertise of the Northrop Grumman Foundation and the competition's founding partner – CIAS at the University of Texas-San Antonio.

Spread My Wings

By: Kyo Johnson

Today, I step forward to achieve my dream with the help of many people like my family, the counselors, my teachers and mentors. I've wanted to be a flight attendant since elementary school. To me this job looked really cool because I would wear an airline uniform, make people comfortable on the flight and give passengers the best experience they've ever had. As a Japanese student coming to America, I traveled all around the world and my dream to be a flight attendant grew stronger. I realized that I could learn English and be a bilingual speaker in the future.

My dream became a reality through an opportunity when the Leilehua career counselor, Ms. Lum, informed me about the Island Air Explorers Program. In this 10-week program, explorers learn about different careers in the airline industry like: aircraft mechanic, flight attendant, flight operations, airline pilot, air traffic controller and an airport rescue fire fighter. We will also experience the operation of the Honolulu Airport and United Airlines. At each class, we will discuss and take notes on various subjects, get hands-on training, and at the end of the program there will be a final exam and the top students will receive a $1000 college scholarship from Island Air.

I was so happy and excited to apply for this program. The application process included an essay, a letter of recommendation, and an interview. This was the first time I had ever completed an application, so I didn't have a lot of experience. I was really worried and nervous about speaking English during the interview since I've only been in the U.S. for four years, so I started practicing with Ms. Lum at the College and Career Center.

At first, I was really terrible at interviewing and I thought I wouldn't pass. Ms. Lum taught me how to have a successful interview: to smile, shake hands, what to wear, what types of questions the interviewer may ask me, and how to answer the questions. The day before the interview, I was so nervous, however my teachers and parents said, "Don't think too much about doing good just have fun" and Ms. Lum said, "It's the process and it's great that you just try". This advice made me feel comfortable and relaxed, it helped me to speak naturally and I felt prepared.

I passed the interview and I will never forget the day that I received a congratulatory email from Island Air inviting me to attend to the Explorers program. It was the happiest day of my life! I want to thank my parents, my teachers: Mrs. Wong, Ms. Nomura, and Ms. Lum for their help with the interview and application. I'm learning new things about the airline industry every week and I'm proud of myself for taking great steps towards my future.

On September 7, 2016, Hawaii's public schools will send home a U.S. Department of Education Federal Survey Form for parents to complete and return with your child to school.

Why is this important? The survey allows the State of Hawaii to qualify for a partial reimbursement for federally connected children. This funding supports all public schools, including your child's.

Here's how:

- Each year, Hawaii is unable to collect local taxes from tax-free federal properties, leading to less money for public education.
 - The federal government, partially reimburses Hawaii for the cost of educating federally connected students through Impact Aid funds. Last year, Hawaii's reimbursement was 15% of the total cost to educate a student. Although it is a small amount, every dollar we receive supports schools and students.
 - The amount of Impact Aid schools receive is based on how many parents complete and return the survey to their child's school. Every school strives for a 100% survey form return.
- ✓ Every survey form returned will increase funding for ALL public schools statewide.
 - ✓ This federal funding can mean an extra $35 million to $45 million annually for students.
 - ✓ Fill out and return your Federal Survey Form!

To the Army Families of Hawaii:

You have in your hand a very powerful tool to aid in the receipt of federal funding to support education in Hawaii's public schools. The Federal Survey Card that your child brings home enables the schools to accurately report federally connected student enrollments. This information is critical in order to receive federal funding and additional programs and services to offset the cost of educating your child.

You can help our schools by filling out the Federal Survey Card upon receipt and returning it to the school immediately the next day. A complete return rate ensures accurate collection of information and maximum federal funding. We are all aware of the fiscal difficulties that Hawaii schools are facing and every bit that we can do will help create a better learning environment for all students.

I am encouraging every parent to consider this their duty to ensure our schools receive critical impact aid by returning the completed card promptly. Non-response could result in the loss of millions of dollars in federal funds that benefit both our military and local communities.

If you are unsure of your Address of Federal Property, please refer to the backside of this memo for a listing of Brigade Headquarter addresses. If you have any questions, please contact the Army School Liaison Office at 655-8326.

Sincerely,

Stephen E. Dawson
