Professional Growth System

Coming to Pasco Schools in August

Announcing myPGS

Pasco County Schools is pleased to announce the newest component of the Local Instructional Improvement System (LIIS) digital tools, myPGS. Beginning in August, 2015 myPGS (my Professional Growth System) will become available to all staff, replacing Avatar and iObservation. All inservice data currently stored within Avatar, TERMS and iObservation will transfer into myPGS, including all inservice histories, course transcripts and past evaluations. myPGS will be used to access and manage all professional learning activities after August 1st and all 2015-2016 instructional evaluations will be facilitated in myPGS. All staff will be instructed on how to access myPGS and navigate the system over the next few weeks; primary support will be provided via brief training videos included in the system. Additional support will be provided by designated staff at each work site and from the online myPGS technical support team.

For information regarding the myPGS professional learning system (Avatar), please contact Scott Larson in the Office for Professional Development and School Supports.
