

AUGUST

This Week 08/17– 08/21

We are still working on parts of speech in language arts. We will also be reading and writing. In math we are working on Integers in word problems. We are learning about matter, mass, volume, and density in Science. We just finished with our map skills, landforms, and fields of Social Studies. We are about to begin government.

I am still missing some pictures and videos from the Digital Learning days last week. Please make sure that you have submitted and that you see a grade for the submission.

I have gotten a brief look at the reading and math inventories. I have to say that I am very impressed and have seen growth from everyone. Once I have had a chance to look at the data further, I will send home the results.
