Principal's Message:

344 students had perfect attendance for our first attendance challenge! For the second attendance contest, 401 students had perfect attendance! It was determined that all students that earned perfect attendance would be rewarded at lunch with a cake party. The next incentive party is scheduled for next week (December 13th). Students that earn perfect attendance for the third challenge will participate in an ice cream party. Studies and our school data has shown that student incentives work. Our motto is, "Working Together to Make Things Happen" and you responded by having your child present during the designated time while avoiding early checkouts and late arrivals. We ask for your continued support with this endeavor.

The ultimate goal in this process is student academic gains. Another promotion toward academic progress is assigned homework. Students should have two days of multiplication facts as homework and two days of prefix and suffix work as homework each week. Moreover, it is recommended that students read twenty minutes each night from their assigned AR book. Thank you for your continued support and have a wonderful holiday break!

From our NURSE:

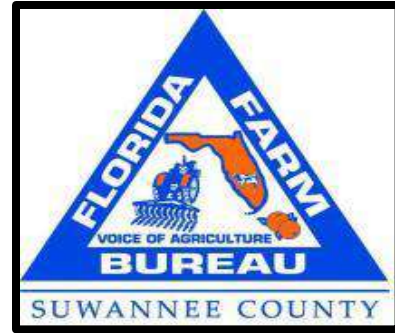

THINK PREVENTION during activities and travel over the holidays with family and friends:

Head Injuries-Most childhood head injuries are minor and hurt only the outside of the head. On rare occasions, a severe head injury can cause bruising or bleeding in the brain. This type of head injury requires immediate medical attention.

Prevention: Make sure kids wear protective gear for contact sports, biking, skating, and skateboarding.

Head Lice-A head louse is a tiny, wingless insect that can attach to a person's hair where it feeds on extremely small amounts of blood drawn from the scalp. Lice aren't dangerous and they don't spread disease. They are seen more commonly in children.

Prevention- Try to avoid head-to-head contact with other children. Do not share combs, brushes, hair ties, etc. or lie on bedding, pillows, and carpets that have recently been used by someone with lice.
