4. Establish a school-wide Parent Advisory Council to provide advice on all matters related to parental Engagement in Title I, Part A programs.
5. Adopt and implement model approaches to improving parental Engagement;
6. Involve parents in the development of training for teachers, principals, and other educators to improve the effectiveness of that training.
7. Provide necessary literacy training for parents from Title I, Part A funds if the school has exhausted all other reasonably available sources of funding for that training.
8. Pay reasonable and necessary expenses associated with parental Engagement activities, including transportation and child care costs, to enable parents to participate in school-related meetings and training sessions.

Parents did not have any other recommendations to include in the Parental Engagement Policy, at the current time.

1. No, not really. The recommendations are great so there's no need to say anything else.
2. Don't give up on Parent's Engagement, try and set up some different methods. In home help or conferences.
3. Get more parents involved! How can you effectively work with parents if they're not involved on decision making process?
