The summer reading texts assigned this summer are absolutely vital to your success in this course. This is not something we are going to throw away after the first day of school. These books will be a topic of discussion throughout the entire class and part of the end of year AICE exam. You are expected to complete all of this assignment and have it ready the first day of class. There will be a test on both within the first week of class. You are to read both of the following books and complete all three parts of the following assignment.

If you have any questions over the summer, please contact:

Read the following 2 books:

Howard's End by E M Forster

How to Read Literature Like a Professor by Thomas C. Foster

3 Part Assignment:

- I. Read How to Read Literature Like a Professor by Thomas C. Foster
- II. Read Howard's End and complete the data sheet. This is due on August 10, 2018.
- III. Read Howard's End and annotate the book as follows. You will be turning in your book on the first day of class for a grade on your annotations. If you are unable to purchase the book and cannot write in it as a result, you may use Post-It notes to fulfill this requirement. Your annotations will be graded based on completion and insightfulness.

What is an annotation?

As you read, you are to underline, circle, and draw arrows connecting words and phrases, or whatever it takes to remind you later of your impressions. These annotations should include notes to yourself in the margins—

- asking questions – anything you don't understand or wonder about the book
- making observations
- defining new vocabulary words
- Identifying literary elements and explaining the significance
- noting allusions
