Students will read, analyze, and write expository, narrative, argumentative, and persuasive essays, as well as learn to develop ideas fully, organize them effectively, and express them clearly. Students will use speaking strategies effectively and understand the nature and power of language. Critical thinking is integrated into all components of the course therefore, students will engage in the learning process as critical and creative thinkers.

COURSE MATERIALS

Composition (or Spiral) notebook (one per Segment/Semester), and pens or pencils (w/sharpener as needed)

Due to the increased need for computers on campus, it is encouraged for students to have a device (phone, tablet, laptop, ect.) with them in class. This is not required, however, it may be a preference for your student.

Students are expected to have their Language Arts notebook (or paper) and writing utensils with them in class every day. Student journals will NOT be kept in the classroom. Students are also encouraged to keep a copy of the quarterly novel study choice book on them as assignments and activities related to the books will be done on an ongoing basis (weekly assignments and check-ins).

GRADING POLICIES

Final grades are based on the following scale: A=100-90; B=89-80; C=79-70; D=69-60; F=59-0

Areas of Assessment

Students are formally assessed through tests, quizzes and projects and informally assessed within the classroom setting through participation in discussion and class work. Students will document their growth through the use of technology, portfolios, journals, and personal goal setting. Final course grades are based upon the following categories of assessments:

- Quizzes and Exams
- Essays and Collaboration Projects
- Classwork and Homework

Late Work

- Homework: Late homework will NOT be accepted after one week from due date, and any late assignment will receive a zero. Homework is intended to preview new material in preparation for the next lesson or review material that was covered during that day's session. As such, it is to the student's benefit that all homework assignments be completed on time. Homework will always be checked at the beginning of the class period on the day it is due. If an assignment is not in class at that time, it is considered late. Students who do not have their homework in class will be asked to notify their parents of their failure to complete the work.
- Projects: Major projects such as research papers or culminating unit products may be turned during the current quarter, but will not be accepted or graded after the quarter (grade) is closed.
- Emergencies: Exceptions to late work policies may be made on a case-by-case basis in the event of an emergency. Parent phone call or email note is required for consideration.

Monitoring Student Progress

In addition to report cards issued at the end of the quarter, students will receive mid-term progress reports. Parents are highly encouraged to obtain a MyStudent login for access to their student's gradebook (<http://www.pasco.k12.fl.us/>) to keep informed of student progress on a more regular basis, or monitor the Grades folder in each myLearning course.

Academic Integrity

In addition to good academic performance, students should exhibit honesty and integrity. If there is any question that academic honesty and integrity are not honored, students may be required to redo assignments. Proof of dishonesty, including plagiarism, will result in disciplinary action, and an intervention course on "Academic Integrity vs. Plagiarism" may be assigned in MyLearning and monitored for completion by school administration.

ADDITIONAL POLICIES

Student Conduct

The 8th Grade behavior interventions are as follows:

1. Verbal reminder (maximum 3)
2. Parent contact and Detention
3. Parent contact and Discipline Referral
4. Brick & Mortar students may be re-assigned to MySchool Online after repeated non-compliance

Dress Code

Dress Code Violations will result in student being sent to Office Staff to await appropriate clothes from home (or borrow donated clothes) and a note home to be signed by parents. Continued infractions will result in lunch detention and then discipline referral. Please refer to school website (<http://csrms.pasco.k12.fl.us/>) or the Student Planner on MyLearning via MyPascoConnect (<http://www.pasco.k12.fl.us/>) for details and pictures of appropriate vs. inappropriate school dress. Thank you for your cooperation.

Absences

It is to your child's benefit that he or she attends school daily! No amount of make-up work or note copying can compensate for the class discussion and peer activity that your child misses when absent. However, some absences are unavoidable. It is the student's responsibility to seek out missed work.

- Excused: If a child is absent from school the day a homework assignment or project is due and he or she was in class the day it was assigned, it is his or her responsibility to bring in the work the day he or she returns to school. Students will receive two day for every excused absence to make up class assignments and homework.
- Unexcused: Unexcused absences will not be allowed to make up class assignments or homework.

Planner

CSRMS student planners are available online via MyLearning on MyPascoConnect (<http://www.pasco.k12.fl.us/>). All class work and homework assignments are posted in each course's MyLearning Modules, and on the classroom board and discussed during the class period. Every student is responsible for taking notes on assignments in his or her notebook (or digital planner) and knowing the due date for each assignment. Parents can keep informed of daily and upcoming assignments by viewing their child's notebook or on-line planner (myLearning).
