

THE RAM REPORT

November 6th, 2022

Back in Action

REYNOLDS RAP

This past week in RamNation, we held our ACT School Day for all juniors, and a few weeks ago, we held our PSAT/SAT School Day for all students. Students who are on an IEP, a 504, or who are English Language Learners typically qualify for accommodations for College Board testing, but those accommodations are not automatic. Parents must sign a consent form, and then students submit the form to their school counselor in Student Services. If you believe your child should be receiving accommodations for College Board testing but that hasn't happened, please email your child's counselor to get the form. Counselor contact info can be found here.

At the end of this week, we will be administering the Florida Civics Literacy Exam to all seniors. This testing requirement is written into Florida State Statute. To read a Fact Sheet about this exam, click here. Students who pass this exam will have met the civics literacy requirement for all students who earn either an Associate's degree or Bachelor's degree in a Florida State College or University. When students get to college, they have to pay to take this exam, so a little preparation now could save seniors money later. Links to prep materials can be found on the right. Speaking of civics, Tuesday is Election Day, so please make sure you vote! Go Rams! -Dr. Reynolds

Attention Current or Prospective Dual Enrollment Students

For students interested in Dual Enrollment (DE) through Seminole State College (SSC) please visit SSC DE Webpage. Then follow "Steps to Apply" SSC Dual Enrollment and Early College or on the Seminole County Public Schools (SCPS) webpage by clicking on the link for Dual Enrollment and Early Admissions Procedures.

Please note: Counselors will only sign completed, Dual Enrollment applications then give the forms back to the student or parent to submit to the SSC DE office. Starting November 1, 2022, application and registration forms for individual students will no longer be accepted via email (dual enrollment or Tiffany Kilpatrick's personal email Inbox). Instead, students must submit forms in person to one of SSC's Success Specialists.

Applications are only required once per high school tenure unless you have not registered for classes for at least three consecutive semesters or are applying to Early College with SSC. If you do not enroll in DE courses for three consecutive semesters at SCC, you must submit another application. Once the application is completed, the student must follow the steps to complete the registration process on the SCPS Dual Enrollment and Early Admissions Webpage.

For the Spring Semester, DE students course registration approvals must be obtained by having the high school counselor sign the registration card. The DE APP located in Clever will not be used at this time. LMHS is requiring all DE students to submit their registration forms for counselor approval and signature by November 18. This way students can submit their registration forms by December 1 to SCC to complete the registration process.
