

Understanding My Statement of Status of Eligibility

What is a Statement of Status of Eligibility (SOE):

A SOE is a written evaluation of your eligibility for a teaching certificate.

Who receives one and how?

Individuals interested in teaching full-time must be certified to teach or eligible for teacher certification. To determine eligibility, a complete application package must be submitted to the Department of Education (DOE), Bureau of Educator Certification, for an evaluation of your credentials. Once your credentials have been evaluated, a Statement of Status of Eligibility (SOE) is mailed to the address listed on your application form.

What does a complete application package include?

- ✓ A completed application form. (Available online at <http://www.fldoe.org/edcert/apply.asp>).
- ✓ An online credit card payment of $75 for each subject area evaluation requested.
- ✓ Official transcripts showing conferral of a minimum of a bachelor's degree, major, grades, GPA, etc.
- ✓ Holders of a valid, standard (comparable to Florida's professional certificate) out-of-state certificate should submit a front and back copy of the out-of-state certificate for consideration for reciprocity with Florida.
- ✓ Individuals with foreign credentials must submit an equivalency evaluation report from an approved credential evaluation agency along with certified copies (DO NOT submit originals) of original documents for all coursework and diplomas involved in the evaluation report. For a partial list of approved agencies, go to web address www.naces.org.

You will not receive a SOE until your application package is complete. If your application package is considered incomplete, the Bureau of Educator Certification will notify you in writing what is needed to complete your application package. Please note that applications are valid for one year. If the application package is not complete within one year of applying, you will need to reapply with a new application and fee.

What is the purpose of a SOE?

A SOE states whether or not you are eligible for a teaching certificate in the subject area you requested. Your SOE also provides you with a customized list of requirements you will need to complete to become eligible for a temporary and/or professional certificate from the State of Florida.

A SOE is valid for three years from the date of issuance. The expiration date is firm and cannot be changed. Revisions to a SOE may occur as the Bureau of Educator Certification receives official documentation from teachers, state offices, or other official entities validating requirements have been met. Revisions to a SOE do not change the expiration date.

Once you receive your SOE, it is your responsibility to satisfy requirements for certification within prescribed timeframes. Below is a sample of a SOE to use as a guide. Following the sample you will find numbered explanations that provide detailed information.

So what does it all mean?

The dates highlighted in yellow indicate the time period the SOE is considered valid. If the SOE expires and you have not fulfilled the requirements to be eligible for an educator certificate, you will have to reapply for evaluation (application and fee) to receive a valid SOE based on current laws in effect at the time the application was received by the Bureau of Educator Certification.

- 1 Indicates whether or not you are eligible for certification.
- 2 Obtain full-time employment with a school district in Florida that is accredited and approved to verify your competency as a teacher.
- 3 Once employed, the school district will submit your fingerprint record and an issuance request verifying your employment.

Once issued, your temporary certificate is valid for a three-year period. Since the certificate is non-renewable, you will need to work towards DOE requirements to obtain your initial professional, renewable certificate.

- 4 To become eligible for a professional certificate, you must complete the requirements as outlined.
- 5 You must take and pass the General Knowledge Test (GK). The GK is a basic skills test covering four areas: Math, Reading, English Language and Essay. If this statement appears on your SOE, you must satisfy the GK requirement.

The PEd is available through a computer-based format. Please visit the Florida Teacher Certification Examination website at www.fl.nesinc.com for more information and to register.
- 7 You must take and pass the Subject Area Examination (SAE) for each subject area listed on your temporary certificate. SAEs measure content area knowledge specific to the subject area. SAEs are available via computer-based format. To obtain more information and register, please visit www.fl.nesinc.com.
- 8 Mastery of Professional Education Competence must be demonstrated either through written verification (via the appropriate form) from your principal that you have mastered the 16 state competencies (for non-education majors) or by graduation from a state- approved education program.
- 9 Non-education majors are required to establish professional preparation competence. The requirement includes a minimum of 15 hours of education coursework and earning one year of full-time teaching experience. The purpose is to prepare you for the classroom. The coursework credit is defined as follows:
 - classroom management with a focus on creating safe learning environments for students
 - child and adolescent development including theories and principles of learning
 - educational assessment practices that include analysis and application of data to improve instruction and learning
 - effective instructional techniques, strategies, and materials to meet the needs of diverse learners, including students with disabilities
 - applications of research-based instructional practices in reading
 - instructional strategies for teaching students of limited English proficiency including instruction in the English language (Teaching experience cannot be used to satisfy this requirement.)Three credit hours may be satisfied with one year of full-time teaching experience in the subject.
