

Valid Construction Moves

- If starting from a blank space, start by marking two points.
- You can create a line or line segment between two marked points.
- You can create a circle centered at a marked point going through another marked point.
- You can set your compass to the length between two marked points and create a circle with that radius centered at any marked point.
- You can mark intersection points.
- You can mark a point on a circle.
- You can mark a point on a line or line segment

